STATEMENT
OF THE
COURSE OF INSTRUCTION, EXPENSES, &c.
IN YALE COLLEGE.

Terms of Admission.

CANDIDATES for admission to the Freshman Class, are examined in Cicero's Select Orations, the whole of Virgil, Sallust, Jacobs', Colton's or Felton's Greek Reader, the first three books of Xenophon's Anabasis, Andrews and Stoddard's Latin Grammar, Goodrich's or Sophocles' Greek Grammar, Andrews' Latin Exercises, Latin Prosody, Arithmetic, English Grammar, and Geography: and hereafter, they will be examined also in the part of Day's Algebra preceding Quadratic Equations.*

A candidate for an advanced standing, whether from another College or not, in addition to the preparatory studies, is examined in the various branches to which the class he proposes to enter has attended. No one can be admitted into the Senior Class after the close of the January vacation.

The regular examination for admission into College, commences on the Monday preceding the public Commencement; but persons may be examined for an advanced standing in any other part of the collegiate terms. It is requested that they may not be offered in the vacations, except for very special reasons.

* The deficiency of most candidates for admission, in the Latin and Greek Grammars, Latin Prosody and Composition, Geography, and the theoretical part of Arithmetic, makes it necessary to remark, that the examination in these subjects will be strict and comprehensive.

No one can be admitted to the Freshman Class, till he has completed his fourteenth year, nor to an advanced standing without a proportional increase of age.

Testimonials of good moral character are in all cases required; and those who are admitted from other Colleges must produce certificates of dismission in good standing. The students are not considered as regular members of the College, till, after a residence of at least six months, they have been admitted to matriculation, on satisfactory evidence of an unblemished moral character. Before this they are only students on probation.

Course of Instruction.

THE Faculty, to whom are committed the government and instruction of the students, consists of a President; a Professor of Chemistry, Mineralogy, and Geology; a Professor of the Latin Language and Literature; a Professor of Divinity; a Professor of Natural Philosophy and Astronomy; a Professor of the Greek Language and Literature; a Professor of Rhetoric and English Literature; a Professor of Mathematics; an Assistant Professor of the Latin Language; and seven Tutors.

The whole course of instruction occupies four years. In each year, there are three terms or sessions.

The three younger classes are divided each into two or three parts. These are instructed by the Tutors of the class, in rotation, with the assistance of the Professors. The Senior Class is instructed by the President and Professors. Each of the four classes attends three recitations or lectures in a day; except on Wednesdays and Saturdays, when they have only two. The following scheme gives a general view of the studies pursued in each term:—

FRESHMAN CLASS.

- I. { Folsom's Livy, from one half to two thirds.
 Roman Antiquities.
 Day's Algebra.
 Homer's Odyssey, begun.
- II. { Folsom's Livy, finished.
 Homer's Odyssey, continued through six books.
 Algebra, reviewed; Playfair's Euclid, four books.
- III. { Horace, begun.
 Herodotus, begun.
 Euclid, finished.

SOPHOMORE CLASS.

- I. { Horace, continued; the Hercules Furens of Seneca.
 Herodotus, continued; Xenophon's Memorabilia, two books.
 Day's Mathematics; Nature and Use of Logarithms, Plane Trigonometry, and Mensuration of Superficies and Solids.
- II. { Horace, finished; Cicero de Amicitia and de Senectute.
 The Alcestis of Euripides.
 Day's Mathematics; Isoperimetry, Mensuration of Heights and Distances, and Navigation.
- III. { The Prometheus of Aeschylus.
 Cicero de Oratore, begun.
 Day's Mathematics; Surveying.
 Bridge's Conic Sections.
 Spherical Geometry and Trigonometry.
 Whately's Rhetoric, with the exception of Part IV, on Elocution.

JUNIOR CLASS.

- I. { Cicero de Oratore, continued; Tacitus, the History, begun; Cicero pro Cluentio.
 The Electra of Sophocles; Plato's Gorgias, begun.

 Oration of Demosthenes on the Crown.
- II. { Kent's Commentaries, Vol. I, continued.
 Paley's Natural Theology.
 Evidences of Christianity.
 Whately's Logic; Select Latin; Modern Languages; } At the option of Practical Astronomy; or Fluxions; } the student.
- III. Wayland's Political Economy.

Changes in the Greek and Latin authors recited are sometimes introduced in the latter part of the course ; but these changes do not affect the amount of Greek and Latin required of those who apply for admission to an advanced standing.

Besides the recitations in Kent's Commentaries, the Kent Professor of Law delivers lectures to the Senior Class during the first and second terms ; one in each week.

A short course of Anatomy and Physiology, consisting of about twenty lectures, illustrated by natural and artificial preparations, is given to the Senior Class in the second term.

In addition to the recitations in the books here specified, the classes receive lectures and occasional instruction from the Professors of the Greek and Latin languages ; the Junior Class attends a course of experimental lectures on Natural Philosophy ; and the Senior Class, courses of lectures on Chemistry, Mineralogy, Geology, and select subjects of Natural Philosophy and Astronomy.

In the department of Elocution, the Freshman Class, in several divisions, have through the year a weekly recitation and exercise upon the elementary principles of the science, conducted by the Teacher of Elocution ; the Sophomore and Junior Classes, frequent private exercises, preparatory to public declamation in the Chapel before the Professor of Rhetoric and the members of the class ; and the Sophomore Class, in several divisions, an exercise once a fortnight in reading poetry and prose. There is delivered in connection with this exercise a series of lectures on the principal English authors.

The members of the several classes attend also the private exercises and lectures of the Professor of Rhetoric. A course of lectures on the Oration of Demosthenes for the Crown, is delivered to members of the Senior Class. Specimens of English composition are exhibited once a fortnight by each member of the Sophomore and Senior Classes. Written translations from Latin authors are presented weekly by the Freshman Class. The lower classes are also instructed in Latin composition. The Senior and Junior Classes have forensic Disputations once or twice a week, before their instructors.

Gentlemen well qualified to teach the modern languages, are engaged by the Faculty to give instruction in these branches to those students who desire it, at their own expense.

Instruction is also given by the Professors to Resident Graduates, provided a sufficient number present themselves to form a class.

The object of the system of instruction to the undergraduates in the College, is not to give a partial education, consisting of a few branches only; nor on the other hand, to give a superficial education, containing a little of almost every thing; nor to finish the details of either a professional or a practical education; but to commence a thorough course, and to carry it as far as the time of the student's residence here will allow. It is intended to maintain such a proportion between the different branches of literature and science, as to form a proper symmetry and balance of character. In laying the foundation of a thorough education, it is necessary that all the important faculties be brought into exercise. When certain mental endowments receive a much higher culture than others, there is a distortion in the intellectual character. The powers of the mind are not developed in their fairest proportions by studying languages alone, or mathematics alone, or natural or political science alone. The object, in the proper collegiate department, is not to teach that which is peculiar to any one of the professions; but to lay the foundation which is common to them all. There are separate schools of Medicine, Law and Theology, connected with the College, as well as in various parts of the country, which are open to all who are prepared to enter on professional studies. With these the undergraduate course is not intended to interfere. It contains those subjects only which ought to be understood by every one who aims at a thorough education. The principles of science and literature are the common foundation of all high intellectual attainments. They give that furniture, and discipline, and elevation to the mind, which are the best preparation for the study of a profession, or of the operations which are peculiar to the higher mercantile, manufacturing, or agricultural establishments.

For a more particular view of the plan of education in the College, see Reports on the Course of Instruction, published in Vol. XV, of the American Journal of Science.

There are two public examinations of the classes in a year, in April and in August, which are continued from four to six days each. The candidates for degrees are also examined at the close of their course of study.

The public Commencement is held on the third Thursday in August of each year. The first term begins six weeks from the day before Commencement and continues fourteen weeks; the second begins on the third Wednesday in January and continues fourteen weeks; the third, of twelve weeks, begins on the fourth Wednesday in May and continues till Commencement. The intervening periods of six, two, and four, or as the case may be, five weeks, are assigned for vacations.

No student is allowed to be absent, without special leave, except in vacations. The absence of a student in term time, even for a few days, occasions a much greater injury than is commonly supposed by parents or guardians.

Parents are earnestly advised not to allow their sons to remain at the College in the vacations; except the short vacation in January.

Public Worship.

Prayers are attended in the College Chapel every morning and evening, with the reading of the Scriptures; when one of the Faculty officiates, and all the students are required to be present. They are also required to attend public worship in the Chapel on the Sabbath, except such as have permission to attend the Episcopal or other congregations in town.

Expenses.

The College bills are made out by the Treasurer three times a year, at the close of each term; and are delivered to the students, who are required to present them to their parents, guardians, or patrons. If any student fails to comply with this requisition, he is not permitted to recite till the bills are paid.

The annual charges in the Treasurer's bill are,

| | | |
|--|-----------|---------|
| For instruction, | - - - - - | $33 00 |
| For rent of chamber in College, 9 to 15 dol- | | |
| lars—average, | - - - - - | 12 00 |
| For ordinary repairs and contingencies, | - | 2 40 |
| For general damages, sweeping, &c. about | | 3 60 |
| For expenses of recitation rooms, | - - - | 3 00 |
| | | $54 00 |

Besides this, the student may be charged for damages done by himself, and a small sum for printing catalogues, and other occasional expenses.

Any person admitted to an advanced standing, unless coming from another College, pays a sum to the Treasurer, equal to half the tuition money, which has been paid by others of the class which he enters.

Notes of the several incorporated banks in this State, and such other notes as are taken by the banks in the city of New Haven, are received in payment of the bills. Drafts on New York, Philadelphia and Boston, are received without discount. Money or drafts to pay the Treasurer's bill, may be transmitted directly to the Treasurer.

Board is obtained at prices varying from $1 25 to $3 00. To a majority of the students the cost of board is less than $2 00 a week, each. Fuel is procured by the Corporation and distributed to those students who apply for it, at cost and charges.

The students provide for themselves bed and bedding, furniture for their rooms, candles, books, stationery and washing. There are also, in the several classes and literary societies, taxes of a small amount. If books and furniture are sold, when the student has no further necessity for them, the expenses incurred by their use will not be great.

The following may be considered as a near estimate of the necessary expenses, without including apparel, pocket money, traveling, and board in vacations :

| | | | | |
|---------------------------------------|---|---|------------|-----------------------|
| Treasurer's bill as above, | - | - | $54 | $54 |
| Board, 40 weeks, | - | - | from 60 to | 90 |
| Fuel and lights, | - | - | " | 6 " 15 |
| Use of books recited, and stationery, | | | " | 5 " 15 |
| Use of furniture, bed and bedding, | | | " | 5 " 15 |
| Washing, | - | - | " | 5 " 15 |
| Taxes in the classes, &c. | - | - | " | 5 " 6 |
| <hr/> | | | | Total, $140 to $210 |

No students are permitted to take lodgings in town, except when the rooms in College are not sufficient to accommodate all.

Students who occupy the recitation rooms, save their room rent and fuel in winter, and receive a small compensation in summer. A cheap board is obtained in clubs, by those students who wish board at a lower rate than is furnished in boarding houses.

Indigent students are supplied with text-books, without expense, from the Benevolent and Education Libraries.

A sum somewhat exceeding two thousand dollars, derived chiefly from permanent charitable funds, is annually applied by the Corporation for the relief of indigent students, who to the number of about one hundred have their tuition either wholly or in part remitted.

The Berkeleian Premium, of about forty six dollars a year, is given to the scholar in each class who passes the best examination in Latin and Greek; provided he resides as a graduate in New Haven, one, two, or three years. A Premium of sixty dollars a year has been instituted by Isaac H. Townsend, Esq. for the encouragement of English composition in the Senior Class. In the other classes Premiums are also given for Latin and English composition, for translations from the Classics, and for solutions of mathematical problems.

The avails of a bequest to the College by Sheldon Clark, Esq., according to the will of the donor, have been applied to the establishment of two Scholarships, to commence in the years 1848 and 1849 respectively, on a foundation of two thousand dollars each. The member of the Senior Class who at the beginning of the third term shall pass the best examination on the studies of the College course, will be admitted to a Clark Scholarship and entitled to receive the income of its fund for two years, provided he remains in New Haven as a graduate during that period, pursuing a course of study under the direction of the Faculty.

With regard to apparel, and what is called pocket money, no general estimate can be made. These are the articles in which the expenses of individuals differ most; and in which some are unwarrantably extravagant. There is nothing by which the character and scholarship of the students in this College are more endangered, than by a free indulgence in the use of money. Great caution with regard to this is requisite on the part of parents. What is more than sufficient to defray the ordinary expenses, will expose the student to numerous temptations; and will not contribute either to his respectability or happiness.

As a precaution against extravagance, parents at a distance frequently deposit funds with some one of the Faculty; who, in that case, pays a particular attention to the pecuniary concerns of the student, settles his bills, corresponds with the parent, transmits an account of the expenditures, &c., for which he charges a commission.

The Theological Department.

THE Instructors in the Theological Department, are a Professor of Didactic Theology, a Professor of Sacred Literature, the Professor of Divinity in the College, and a Professor of the Pastoral Charge.

The whole course of instruction occupies three years; and the students are divided into Junior, Middle, and Senior classes.

The time of admission is at the commencement of the first collegiate term. It is desirable that those who join the School, should commence at the beginning of the collegiate year; and those admitted to an advanced standing will be expected to have previously gone over the studies pursued by their respective classes. The terms and vacations are the same with those in the College. The conditions for entrance, are hopeful piety, and a liberal education at some College, unless the candidate has otherwise qualified himself for pursuing advantageously the prescribed course of studies.

No charges are made for tuition or lectures.

No funds have as yet been granted to this department for defraying the expenses of indigent students.

A building has been erected for the accommodation of students, in which the rooms are without charge.

Board may be obtained in private families at from $1 25 to $2 50 per week.

The Law Department.

THIS Department is under the direction of a Faculty, consisting of the President of the College, and three Law Professors; to wit, the Hon. DAVID DAGGETT, LL. D., late Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Connecticut, and Kent Professor; the Hon. WILLIAM L. STORRS, LL. D., Judge of the Supreme Court of Connecticut; and ISAAC H. TOWNSEND, Esq., Attorney and Counsellor at Law.

There are two courses of instruction and study in the School, one called the professional course, and the other called the general course. The object of the professional course is to give a thorough legal education to those gentlemen who propose to enter the Profession of Law. The design of the general course is, more particularly, to communicate appropriate information to those who wish to attend to Jurisprudence as a branch of liberal knowledge. A course with special reference to mercantile law is introduced as often as any class requests it.

I. THE PROFESSIONAL COURSE.

The students are required to peruse the most important elementary treatises, and are daily examined on the author they are reading, and receive at the same time explanations and illustrations of the subjects they are studying.

The School is divided into three reading classes. Each class is daily employed upon a lesson in the Class Book, and is separately examined, and every student can read in one or more of the three classes, as he finds himself able and inclined to perform the requisite labor.

Courses of Lectures are delivered by the Instructors, on all the titles and subjects of Common and Statute Law, and of Equity.

Three exercises, consisting of Lectures or Examinations of one hour each, are daily given by the Instructors, and at all of them each of the pupils is permitted to attend.

A moot court is held once a week or oftener, which employs the students in drawing pleadings, and investigating and arguing questions of law.

The students are called upon, from time to time, to draw declarations, pleadings, contracts, and other instruments connected with the practice of law, and to do the most important duties of an attorney's clerk.

They are occasionally required to write disquisitions on some topic of law, and collect the authorities to support their opinions.

The more advanced students are assisted in the study of the laws of the particular States in which they intend to establish themselves.

The following are some of the principal studies of the course : Blackstone's Commentaries ; Real Estate ; Personal Property ; Contracts ; Domestic Relations ; Parties to Actions ; Forms of Actions ; Pleading ; Evidence ; Nisi Prius ; Bills of Exchange and Promissory Notes ; Insurance ; Shipping ; Corporations : Criminal Law ; Equity ; Constitution of the United States ; Law of Nations ; Conflict of Laws.

The students are furnished with the use of the elementary books, and have access, at all times, to the College libraries, and to a law library, comprising every important work, both ancient and modern. The law library contains the Revised Statutes, the Reports and the Digests of all the States in the Union.

The course of study occupies two years, allowing eight weeks vacation each year. The months of May and September are allotted for vacations. There is also a recess of about two weeks near the first of January in each year.

The terms for tuition, with constant use of text-books, and ordinary use of the library, are as follows, payable in advance, unless for satisfactory reasons. For the whole course of two years, one hundred and fifty dollars. For one year, eighty dollars. For less than one year, ten dollars a month. For more than one year and less than two years, seven dollars a month after the first year.

The degree of Bachelor of Laws will be conferred by the President and Fellows, on liberally educated students who have been members of the Department eighteen months, and have complied with the regulations of the Institution, and passed a satisfactory examination. Those not liberally educated, will be graduated upon similar conditions, after two years' membership; and members of the Bar, after one year's membership subsequent to their admission to the Bar.

II. THE GENERAL COURSE.

This course consists of lectures and studies on the most important subjects of Jurisprudence. It commences on the third Monday of October in each year, and continues six months, with two exercises each week. An additional course will be commenced at any other season, if a class of not less than twenty members shall be formed for the purpose. The additional course will either embrace the same exercises with the general course, or will be principally directed to Mercantile Law, as the class formed for the course shall prefer.

The terms are twenty dollars for the whole course for those who attend the general course only, payable in advance; and five dollars a month for any less time. The professional students will have the privilege of attending the general course, and also any additional course, at pleasure, without extra charge.

The Medical Institution.

THE Instructors in the Medical Institution, are a Professor of Surgery, a Professor of Chemistry and Pharmacy, a Professor of the Theory and Practice of Physic, a Professor of Materia Medica and Therapeutics, a Professor of Anatomy and Physiology, and a Professor of Obstetrics.

The annual course of lectures commences at the expiration of six weeks from the third Thursday of August, and continues sixteen weeks. The lectures are so arranged, that at least five are given daily, and a part of the time six.

The fees, which are required in advance, are $12 50 for each course, except that on Obstetrics, which is $6. The Matriculation fee is $5, and there is a contingent bill for the course on Chemistry of $2 50. Those who have attended two courses of Lectures in this Institution, are entitled to admission to future courses on the payment of the Matriculation fee and the contingent bill. Board with room, &c., may be obtained at about $2 25 or 2 50 per week.

The students are entitled to gratuitous admission to the Medical and Academical Libraries, to the Cabinet of Minerals, and to the Lectures on Anatomy and Physiology, given to the Senior Class during the spring term in the Academical Institution ; and also to the Lectures on Natural Philosophy, on paying the fee of the course.

The Medical College building is spacious and commodious. The Anatomical Museum, already one of the most valuable in the country, is annually receiving important additions. The arrangements for Dissections are ample, and subjects are supplied on the most reasonable terms. The Anatomical rooms, the Cabinet of the Materia Medica, and the Museum of the Yale Natural History Society, are all freely open to students.

By the Statutes of the State, the requirements for graduation are three years' study for those who are not Bachelors of Arts, and two years' for those who are ; attendance upon two full courses of Lectures, either in this Institution or some other of a similar character; the attainment of twenty one years of age, and a good moral character; together with a satisfactory examination before the Board of Examiners for the State, at which the candidate must present a dissertation upon some subject connected with the Medical Sciences, written in a form prescribed by the Faculty. This Board consists of the Medical Professors of the College, ex officiis, and an equal number of persons chosen by the Fellows of the Medical Society of the State. Licenses to practice are granted by the President of the Society, upon the recommendation of the Board of Examiners, and candidates for a license must possess the same qualifications as those for a degree, except that attendance upon one course of Lectures only is required. The graduation fee is $15—fee for a license, including diploma, $4 50. The examination is held immediately after the close of the Lectures, when the licenses are granted and the degrees conferred.

STATEMENT

COURSE OF INSTRUCTION, EXPENSES, &c.

IN

YALE COLLEGE.

Terms of Admission.

CANDIDATES for admission to the Freshman Class, are examined in Cicero's Select Orations, the whole of Virgil, Sallust, Jacobs', Colton's or Felton's Greek Reader, the first three books of Xenophon's Anabasis, Andrews and Stoddard's Latin Grammar, Sophocles' Greek Grammar, Andrews' Latin Exercises, Latin Prosody, Arithmetic, English Grammar, Geography, and Day's Algebra to Quadratic Equations.*

A candidate for an advanced standing, whether from another College or not, in addition to the preparatory studies, is examined in the various branches to which the class he proposes to enter has attended. No one can be admitted into the Senior Class after the close of the January vacation.

The regular examination for admission into College, commences on the Monday preceding the public Commencement; but persons may be examined for an advanced standing in any other part of the collegiate terms. It is requested that they may not be offered in the vacations, except for very special reasons.

* The deficiency of most candidates for admission, in the Latin and Greek Grammars, Latin Prosody and Composition, Geography, and the theoretical part of Arithmetic, makes it necessary to remark, that the examination in these subjects will be strict and comprehensive.

No one can be admitted to the Freshman Class, till he has completed his fourteenth year, nor to an advanced standing without a proportional increase of age.

Testimonials of good moral character are in all cases required; and those who are admitted from other Colleges must produce certificates of dismission in good standing. The students are not considered as regular members of the College, till, after a residence of at least six months, they have been admitted to matriculation, on satisfactory evidence of an unblemished moral character. Before this they are only students on probation.

Course of Instruction.

THE Faculty, to whom are committed the government and instruction of the students, consists of a President; a Professor of Chemistry, Mineralogy, and Geology; a Professor of the Latin Language and Literature; a Professor of Divinity; a Professor of Natural Philosophy and Astronomy; a Professor of the Greek Language and Literature; a Professor of Rhetoric and English Literature; a Professor of Mathematics; a Professor of Moral Philosophy and Metaphysics; an Assistant Professor of the Latin Language; and seven Tutors.

The whole course of instruction occupies four years. In each year, there are three terms or sessions.

The three younger classes are divided each into three parts. These are instructed by the Tutors of the class, in rotation, with the assistance of the Professors. The Senior Class is instructed by the President and Professors. Each of the four classes attends three recitations or lectures in a day; except on Wednesdays and Saturdays, when they have only two. The following scheme gives a general view of the studies pursued in each term:—

FRESHMAN CLASS.

- I. { Folsom's or Lincoln's Livy, from one half to two thirds.
 Roman Antiquities.
 Day's Algebra.
 Homer's Odyssey, begun.

Changes in the Greek and Latin authors recited are sometimes introduced in the latter part of the course ; but these changes do not affect the amount of Greek and Latin required of those who apply for admission to an advanced standing.

The Kent Professor of Law delivers lectures to the Senior Class daily during the third term.

A short course of Anatomy and Physiology, consisting of about twenty lectures, illustrated by natural and artificial preparations, is given to the Senior Class in the second term.

In addition to the recitations in the books here specified, the classes receive lectures and occasional instruction from the Professors of the Greek and Latin languages ; the Junior Class attends a course of experimental lectures on Natural Philosophy ; and the Senior Class, courses of lectures on Chemistry, Mineralogy, Geology, Meteorology and Astronomy.

The lectures of Professor SILLIMAN on Chemistry, are given daily during the first term, except on Monday which is devoted to review ; his lectures on Mineralogy are given in the second term, and those on Geology during the third term. The lectures of Professor OLMSTED, on Experimental Philosophy, commence about the first of December, and are continued at the rate of nearly two a week, during the remainder of the College year. His lectures on Meteorology and Astronomy are given during the second term, concluding about the middle of March, when those of Dr. KNIGHT on Anatomy addressed to the Senior Class, commence, and occupy the remainder of the term.

In the department of Elocution, the Freshman Class, in several divisions, have during the year recitations and exercises upon the elementary principles of the science, conducted by the Teacher of Elocution ; and the Sophomore and Junior Classes, frequent private exercises, preparatory to public declamation in the Chapel before the Professor of Rhetoric and the members of the class.

The members of the several classes attend also the private exercises and lectures of the Professor of Rhetoric. A course of lectures on the Oration of Demosthenes for the Crown, is delivered to members of the Senior Class. Specimens of English composition are exhibited once a fortnight by each member of the Sophomore and Senior Classes. Written translations from Latin authors are presented weekly by the Freshman Class. The lower classes are also instructed in Latin composition. The Senior and Junior Classes have forensic Disputations once or twice a week, before their instructors.

Gentlemen well qualified to teach the modern languages, are engaged by the Faculty to give instruction in these branches to those students who desire it, at their own expense.

The object of the system of instruction to the undergraduates in the College, is not to give a partial education, consisting of a few branches only; nor on the other hand, to give a superficial education, containing a little of almost every thing; nor to finish the details of either a professional or a practical education; but to commence a thorough course, and to carry it as far as the time of the student's residence here will allow. It is intended to maintain such a proportion between the different branches of literature and science, as to form a proper symmetry and balance of character. In laying the foundation of a thorough education, it is necessary that all the important faculties be brought into exercise. When certain mental endowments receive a much higher culture than others, there is a distortion in the intellectual character. The powers of the mind are not developed in their fairest proportions by studying languages alone, or mathematics alone, or natural or political science alone. The object, in the proper collegiate department, is not to teach that which is peculiar to any one of the professions; but to lay the foundation which is common to them all. There are separate schools of Medicine, Law and Theology, connected with the College, as well as in various parts of the country, which are open to all who are prepared to enter on professional studies. With these the undergraduate course is not intended to interfere. It contains those subjects only which ought to be understood by every one who aims at a thorough education. The principles of science and literature are the common foundation of all high intellectual attainments. They give that furniture, and discipline, and elevation to the mind, which are the best preparation for the study of a profession, or of the operations which are peculiar to the higher mercantile, manufacturing, or agricultural establishments.

For a more particular view of the plan of education in the College, see Reports on the Course of Instruction, published in Vol. XV, of the American Journal of Science.

There are two public examinations of the classes in a year, in April and in August, which are continued from four to six days each. The candidates for degrees are also examined at the close of their course of study.

The public Commencement is held on the third Thursday in August of each year. The first term begins six weeks from the day before Commencement and continues fourteen weeks; the second begins on the third Wednesday in January and continues fourteen weeks; the third, of twelve weeks, begins on the fourth Wednesday in May and continues till Commencement. The intervening periods of six, two, and four, or as the case may be, five weeks, are assigned for vacations.

No student is allowed to be absent, without special leave, except in vacations. The absence of a student in term time, even for a few days, occasions a much greater injury than is commonly supposed by parents or guardians.

Parents are earnestly advised not to allow their sons to remain at the College in the vacations; except the short vacation in January.

Public Worship.

Prayers are attended in the College Chapel every morning and evening, with the reading of the Scriptures; when one of the Faculty officiates, and all the students are required to be present. They are also required to attend public worship in the Chapel on the Sabbath, except such as have permission to attend the Episcopal or other congregations in town.

Expenses.

The College bills are made out by the Treasurer three times a year, at the close of each term; and are delivered to the students, who are required to present them to their parents, guardians, or patrons. If any student fails to comply with this requisition, he is not permitted to recite till the bills are paid.

The annual charges in the Treasurer's bill are,

| | | |
|--|-----------|---------|
| For instruction, | - - - - - | $33 00 |
| For rent of chamber in College, 9 to 15 dol- | | |
| lars—average, | - - - - - | 12 00 |
| For ordinary repairs and contingencies, | - | 2 40 |
| For general damages, sweeping, &c. about | | 3 60 |
| For expenses of recitation rooms, | - - - | 3 00 |
| | | $54 00 |

Besides this, the student may be charged for damages done by himself, and a small sum for printing catalogues, and other occasional expenses.

Any person admitted to an advanced standing, unless coming from another College, pays a sum to the Treasurer, equal to half the tuition money, which has been paid by others of the class which he enters.

Notes of the several incorporated banks in this State, and such other notes as are taken by the banks in the city of New Haven, are received in payment of the bills. Drafts on New York, Philadelphia and Boston, are received without discount. Money or drafts to pay the Treasurer's bill, may be transmitted directly to the Treasurer.

Board is obtained at prices varying from $1 25 to $3 00. To a majority of the students the cost of board is less than $2 00 a week, each. Fuel is procured by the Corporation and distributed to those students who apply for it, at cost and charges.

The students provide for themselves bed and bedding, furniture for their rooms, candles, books, stationery and washing. There are also, in the several classes and literary societies, taxes of a small amount. If books and furniture are sold, when the student has no further necessity for them, the expenses incurred by their use will not be great.

The following may be considered as a near estimate of the necessary expenses, without including apparel, pocket money, traveling, and board in vacations :

| | | | | |
|---------------------------------------|---|---|---------|----------|
| Treasurer's bill as above, | - | - | $54 | $54 |
| Board, 40 weeks, | - | - | from 60 | to 90 |

| Taxes in the classes, &c. | - | - | " 5 | " 6 |
| Total, | | | $140 | to $210 |

No students are permitted to take lodgings in town, except when the rooms in College are not sufficient to accommodate all.

Students who occupy the recitation rooms, save their room rent and fuel in winter, and receive a small compensation in summer. Cheap board may be obtained in clubs, by those students who wish board at a lower rate than is common in boarding houses.

Indigent students are supplied with text-books, without expense, from the Benevolent and Education Libraries.

A sum somewhat exceeding two thousand dollars, derived chiefly from permanent charitable funds, is annually applied by the Corporation for the relief of indigent students, who to the number of about one hundred have their tuition either wholly or in part remitted.

The Berkeleian Premium, of about forty six dollars a year, is given to the scholar in each Senior Class who passes the best examination in the Greek Testament, Xenophon's Cyropædia, and Homer's Iliad, Cicero's Tusculan Questions, Tacitus' History and Horace; provided he resides as a graduate in New Haven, one, two, or three years. A Premium of sixty dollars a year has been instituted by Isaac H. Townsend, Esq. for the encouragement of English composition in the Senior Class. In the other classes Premiums are also given for Latin and English composition, for translations from the Classics, and for solutions of mathematical problems.

The avails of a bequest to the College by Sheldon Clark, Esq., according to the will of the donor, have been applied to the establishment of two Scholarships, to commence in the years 1848 and 1849 respectively, on a foundation of two thousand dollars each. The member of the Senior Class who at the beginning of the third term shall pass the best examination on the studies of the College course, will be admitted to a Clark Scholarship and entitled to receive the income of its fund for two years, provided he remains in New Haven as a graduate during that period, pursuing a course of study under the direction of the Faculty.

With regard to apparel, and what is called pocket money, no general estimate can be made. These are the articles in which the expenses of individuals differ most; and in which some are unwarrantably extravagant. There is nothing by which the character and scholarship of the students in this College are more endangered, than by a free indulgence in the use of money. Great caution with regard to this is requisite on the part of parents. What is more than sufficient to defray the ordinary expenses, will expose the student to numerous temptations; and will not contribute either to his respectability or happiness.

As a precaution against extravagance, parents at a distance frequently deposit funds with some one of the Faculty; who, in that case, pays a particular attention to the pecuniary concerns of the student, settles his bills, corresponds with the parent, transmits an account of the expenditures, &c., for which he charges a commission.

The Theological Department.

THE Instructors in the Theological Department, are a Professor of Didactic Theology, a Professor of Sacred Literature, the Professor of Divinity in the College, and a Professor of the Pastoral Charge.

The whole course of instruction occupies three years; and the students are divided into Junior, Middle, and Senior classes.

The time of admission is at the commencement of the first collegiate term. It is desirable that those who join the School, should commence at the beginning of the collegiate year; and those admitted to an advanced standing will be expected to have previously gone over the studies pursued by their respective classes. The terms and vacations are the same with those in the College. The conditions for entrance, are hopeful piety, and a liberal education at some College, unless the candidate has otherwise qualified himself for pursuing advantageously the prescribed course of studies.

No charges are made for tuition or lectures.

No funds have as yet been granted to this department for defraying the expenses of indigent students.

A building has been erected for the accommodation of students, in which the rooms are without charge.

Board may be obtained in private families at from $1 25 to $2 50 per week.

The Law Department.

THIS Department is under the direction of a Faculty, consisting of the President of the College, and two Law Professors, to wit, His Exc. CLARK BISSELL, LL. D., Governor of the State of Connecticut, and late Judge of the Supreme Court of the State; and HENRY DUTTON, Esq., Attorney and Counselor at Law.

COURSE OF INSTRUCTION.

The students are required to peruse the most important elementary treatises, and are daily examined on the author they are reading, and receive at the same time explanations and illustrations of the subjects they are studying.

The School is divided into three reading classes. Each class is daily employed upon a lesson in the Class Book, and is separately examined, and every student can read in one or more of the three classes, as he finds himself able and inclined to perform the requisite labor.

Courses of Lectures are delivered by the Instructors, on all the titles and subjects of Common and Statute Law, and of Equity.

Three exercises, consisting of Lectures or Examinations of one hour each, are daily given by the Instructors, and at all of them each of the pupils is permitted to attend.

A moot court is held once a week or oftener, which employs the students in drawing pleadings, and investigating and arguing questions of law.

The students are called upon, from time to time, to draw declarations, pleadings, contracts, and other instruments connected with the practice of law, and to do the most important duties of an attorney's clerk.

They are occasionally required to write disquisitions on some topic of law, and collect the authorities to support their opinions.

The more advanced students are assisted in the study of the laws of the particular States in which they intend to establish themselves.

The following are some of the principal studies of the course : Blackstone's Commentaries ; Real Estate ; Personal Property ; Contracts ; Domestic Relations ; Parties to Actions ; Forms of Actions ; Pleading ; Evidence ; Nisi Prius ; Bills of Exchange and Promissory Notes ; Insurance ; Shipping ; Corporations ; Criminal Law ; Equity ; Constitution of the United States ; Law of Nations ; Conflict of Laws.

The students are furnished with the use of the elementary books, and have access, at all times, to the College libraries, and to a law library, comprising every important work, both ancient and modern. The law library contains the Revised Statutes, the Reports and the Digests of all the States in the Union.

The course of study occupies two years, allowing eight weeks vacation each year. The months of May and September are allotted for vacations. There is also a recess of about two weeks near the first of January in each year.

The terms for tuition, with constant use of text-books, and ordinary use of the library, are as follows, payable in advance, unless for satisfactory reasons. For the whole course of two years, one hundred and fifty dollars. For one year, eighty dollars. For less than one year, ten dollars a month. For more than one year and less than two years, seven dollars a month after the first year.

The degree of Bachelor of Laws will be conferred by the President and Fellows, on liberally educated students who have been members of the Department eighteen months, and have complied with the regulations of the Institution, and passed a satisfactory examination. Those not liberally educated, will be graduated upon similar conditions, after two years' membership; and members of the Bar, after one year's membership subsequent to their admission to the Bar.

The Medical Department.

THE Instructors in the Medical Institution, are a Professor of Chemistry and Pharmacy, a Professor of the Theory and Practice of Physic, a Professor of Surgery, a Professor of Obstetrics, a Professor of Anatomy and Physiology, and a Professor of Materia Medica and Therapeutics.

The annual course of lectures commences on the last Thursday of September, and continues sixteen weeks. The lectures are so arranged, that at least five are given daily, and a part of the time six.

A Medical and Surgical Clinique is held every week, during the lecture term, at which a variety of cases is presented, for consultation and operations, in presence of the class.

The fees, which are required in advance, are $12,50 for each course, except that on Obstetrics, which is $6, with a Matriculation fee of $5—the whole amounting to $73,50. The tickets of all the Professors, or a part, may be taken any one season. Those who have attended two full courses of Lectures in this Institution, are entitled to admission to future courses gratis. Those who have attended one full course in this Institution, and also one full course in another incorporated Medical Institution, will be admitted to a full course on paying the Matriculation fee. Board, with room, &c., may be obtained at from $2,25 to $3 per week.

The students are entitled to gratuitous admission to the course of Lectures on Anatomy and Physiology, given to the Senior Class, by Professor KNIGHT, during the spring term in the Academical Institution, and to the courses by Professor SILLIMAN, on Mineralogy, during the spring, and on Geology, during the summer. They also have admission to the various other Lectures in the Academical Institution, on paying the fees of the several courses.

The Medical College building is spacious and commodious. The Anatomical Museum, already one of the most valuable in the country, is annually receiving important additions. The arrangements for Dissections are ample, and subjects are supplied on the most reasonable terms. The Anatomical rooms, the Cabinet of the Materia Medica, the Museum of the Yale Natural History Society, the Cabinet of Minerals, and the Libraries of the Medical and Academical Institutions, are all freely open to students.

By the Statutes of the State, the requirements for the Degree of Doctor in Medicine are three years' study for those who are not Bachelors of Arts, and two years' for those who are; attendance upon two full courses of Lectures, either in this Institution, or some other of a similar character; the attainment of twenty one years of age, and a good moral character; together with a satisfactory examination before the Board of Examiners for the State, at which the candidate must present a dissertation upon some subject connected with the Medical Sciences, written in a form prescribed by the Faculty. This Board consists of the Medical Professors of the College, ex officiis, and an equal number of persons chosen by the Fellows of the Medical Society of the State. Licenses to practice are granted by the President of the Society, upon the recommendation of the Board of Examiners, and candidates for a license must possess the same qualifications as those for a degree, except that attendance upon one course of Lectures only is required. The graduation fee is $15 —fee for a license, including diploma, $4 50. The examination is held immediately after the close of the Lectures, when the licenses are granted and the degrees conferred.

Department of Philosophy and the Arts.

It has long been felt at Yale College to be important to furnish resident graduates and others, with the opportunity of devoting themselves to special branches of study either not provided for at present, or not pursued as far as individual students may desire. With the hope of accomplishing this object more fully and systematically, the Corporation at their meeting in August, 1846, appointed a Committee to take this subject into consideration, and in accordance with the report of the Committee, at their next meeting in August, 1847, established a new department, called the Department of Philosophy and the Arts. The branches intended to be embraced in this department are such in general as are not included under Theology, Law and Medicine; or more particularly Mathematical Science, Physical Science and its application to the Arts, Metaphysics, Philology, Literature and History. Instruction in this department may be given by professors not belonging to the other departments, by the Academical professors, and by such others as the President and Fellows may approve. The Instructors for the year, with the President, compose the Faculty of the department. The instructions in the department are intended for graduates of this and other Colleges, and for such other young men as are desirous of pursuing special branches of study; but it is necessary for all students in philology and mathematical science, that they be thoroughly grounded in those studies.

A School of applied Chemistry is embraced within this department, of which a more particular notice may be found below. For the terms of entrance upon the several courses in the department, application may be made to the several instructors.

President WOOLSEY will instruct twice a week in Thucydides or Pindar.

Professor SILLIMAN's lectures on Chemistry, Mineralogy and Geology, will be open to the students of this department.

Professor KINGSLEY will instruct twice a week in such Latin author as may be agreed upon with the student.

Professor GIBBS proposes to give lectures on some points of general Philology.

Professor OLMSTED's lectures on Natural Philosophy and Astronomy will be open to the students of this department. He will also, if desired, give private instruction in Experimental Philosophy, and Astronomical Calculations.

Professor STANLEY proposes to instruct in the Calculus or Analytical Mechanics.

Professor PORTER will instruct in Psychology, Logic and the History of Philosophy.

Professor SALISBURY proposes to instruct in Arabic Grammar, and to point out some of the relations of the Arabic to other of the Shemitish dialects.

Professor SILLIMAN, Jr., will instruct in Elementary and Analytical Chemistry, Mineralogy and Metallurgy.

Professor NORTON will instruct in the applications of science to Agriculture and in Analytical Chemistry.

SCHOOL OF APPLIED CHEMISTRY.

Professors SILLIMAN and NORTON, have opened a Laboratory on the College grounds, in connection with their departments, for the purpose of practical instruction in the applications of science to the arts and agriculture. Every facility will be afforded to those who desire to obtain special instruction in general and in analytical Chemistry and Mineralogy. A course of lectures on the connections of science with Agriculture, by Professor NORTON, will commence in January and continue about two months, at the rate of four lectures in each week. Professor SILLIMAN, Jr., will deliver during the summer a course of lectures upon some other department of applied chemistry.

Students in this department will have access to mineralogical and geological cabinets, and scientific libraries. The text-books used in this department will be Dana's Mineralogy, Silliman's Chemistry, Will's Outlines of Analysis, Fresenius's Analysis, and Johnston's Lectures on Agricultural Chemistry and Geology.

The lectures on Chemistry by Professor SILLIMAN, Senior, commence the first week of the first term, and continue through the term. His lectures on Mineralogy are delivered during the second term, and those on Geology commence the first week of the third term and continue six weeks. The lectures of Professor OLMS TED, on Natural Philosophy, commence about the middle of the first term, and continue at the rate of two a week nearly through the year. His lectures on Astronomy and Meteorology, commence at the beginning of the second term, and continue, daily, for about seven weeks.

Georgian Poetry - The Eighteenth Century

the most popular and successful author of the century, and his influence on English literature has been immense. He was born in 1707 at Chipping Norton, Oxfordshire, and died in 1755. His father was a Dissenting minister, and he himself became a Nonconformist. He studied at Oxford, and then at the University of Leiden, where he received a Master's degree. After returning to England, he became a teacher, and later a schoolmaster. He wrote several plays, including "Love for Love" (1732), "The School for Scandal" (1777), and "The Rivals" (1775). He also wrote novels, such as "The History of Tom Jones" (1749) and "The Old Bachelor" (1751). He was a member of the Royal Society, and a fellow of the Royal Society of Literature. He was a friend of Samuel Johnson, and a member of the Club. He was a member of the Royal Society of Literature, and a fellow of the Royal Society. STATEMENT

COURSE OF INSTRUCTION, EXPENSES, &c.

IN

Terms of Admission.

CANDIDATES for admission to the Freshman Class, are examined in Cicero's Select Orations, the whole of Virgil, Sallust, Jacobs', Colton's or Felton's Greek Reader, the first three books of Xenophon's Anabasis, Andrews and Stoddard's or Zumpt's Latin Grammar, Sophocles's, Crosby's or Kühner's Greek Grammar, Andrews' Latin Exercises, Latin Prosody, Arithmetic, English Grammar, Geography, and Day's Algebra to Quadratic Equations.*

A candidate for an advanced standing, whether from another College or not, in addition to the preparatory studies, is examined in the various branches to which the class he proposes to enter has attended. No one can be admitted into the Senior Class after the close of the January vacation.

The regular examination for admission into College, commences on the Monday preceding the public Commencement; but persons may be examined for an advanced standing in any other part of the collegiate terms. It is requested that they may not be offered in the vacations, except for very special reasons.

* The deficiency of most candidates for admission, in the Latin and Greek Grammars, Latin Prosody and Composition, Geography, and the theoretical part of Arithmetic, makes it necessary to remark, that the examination in these subjects will be strict and comprehensive.

No one can be admitted to the Freshman Class, till he has completed his fourteenth year, nor to an advanced standing without a proportional increase of age.

Testimonials of good moral character are in all cases required ; and those who are admitted from other Colleges must produce certificates of dismissal in good standing. The students are not considered as regular members of the College, till, after a residence of at least six months, they have been admitted to matriculation, on satisfactory evidence of an unblemished moral character. Before this they are only students on probation.

The laws of the College provide for the final separation from the institution of those, who, within a specified time, do not so far approve themselves to the Faculty as to be admitted to matriculation.

Course of Instruction.

THE Faculty, to whom are committed the government and instruction of the students, consists of a President ; a Professor of Chemistry, Mineralogy, and Geology ; a Professor of the Latin Language and Literature ; a Professor of Divinity ; a Professor of Natural Philosophy and Astronomy ; a Professor of the Greek Language and Literature ; a Professor of Rhetoric and English Literature ; a Professor of Mathematics ; a Professor of Moral Philosophy and Metaphysics ; an Assistant Professor of the Latin Language ; an Assistant Professor of the Greek Language ; and six Tutors.

The whole course of instruction occupies four years. In each year, there are three terms or sessions.

The three younger classes are divided each into three parts ; the Senior Class into two parts. Each of the four classes attends three recitations or lectures in a day ; except on Wednesdays and Saturdays, when they have only two. The following scheme gives a general view of the studies pursued in each term :—

Changes in the Greek and Latin authors recited are sometimes introduced in the latter part of the course ; but these changes do not affect the amount of Greek and Latin required of those who apply for admission to an advanced standing.

The Kent Professor of Law gives instruction to the Senior Class during the third term.

A short course of Anatomy and Physiology, consisting of about twenty lectures, illustrated by natural and artificial preparations, is given to the Senior Class in the second term.

In addition to the recitations in the books here specified, the classes receive lectures and occasional instruction from the Professors of the Greek and Latin languages ; the Junior Class attends a course of experimental lectures on Natural Philosophy ; and the Senior Class, courses of lectures on Chemistry, Mineralogy, Geology, Meteorology and Astronomy.

The lectures of Professor SILLIMAN on Chemistry, are given daily during the first term, except on Monday which is devoted to review ; his lectures on Mineralogy are given in the second term, and those on Geology during the third term. The lectures of Professor OLMSTED, on Experimental Philosophy, commence about the first of December, and are continued at the rate of nearly two a week, during the remainder of the College year. His lectures on Meteorology and Astronomy are given during the second term, concluding about the middle of March, when those of Professor KNIGHT on Anatomy addressed to the Senior Class, commence, and occupy the remainder of the term.

In the department of Elocution, the Freshman Class, in several divisions, have during the year recitations and exercises upon the elementary principles of the science, conducted by the Teacher of Elocution ; and the Sophomore and Junior Classes, frequent private exercises, preparatory to public declamation in the Chapel before the Professor of Rhetoric and the members of the class.

The members of the several classes attend also the private exercises and lectures of the Professor of Rhetoric. A course of lectures on the Oration of Demosthenes for the Crown, is delivered to members of the Senior Class. Specimens of English composition are exhibited once a fortnight by members of the Sophomore and Senior Classes. Written translations from Latin authors are presented weekly by the Freshman Class. The lower classes are also instructed in Latin composition. Forensic Disputations are held twice a week, by members of the Senior and Junior Classes, before their instructors.

Gentlemen well qualified to teach the modern languages, are engaged by the Faculty to give instruction in these branches to those students who desire it, at their own expense.

The object of the system of instruction to the undergraduates in the College, is not to give a partial education, consisting of a few branches only; nor on the other hand, to give a superficial education, containing a little of almost every thing; nor to finish the details of either a professional or a practical education; but to commence a thorough course, and to carry it as far as the time of the student's residence here will allow. It is intended to maintain such a proportion between the different branches of literature and science, as to form a proper symmetry and balance of character. In laying the foundation of a thorough education, it is necessary that all the important faculties be brought into exercise. When certain mental endowments receive a much higher culture than others, there is a distortion in the intellectual character. The powers of the mind are not developed in their fairest proportions by studying languages alone, or mathematics alone, or natural or political science alone. The object, in the proper collegiate department, is not to teach that which is peculiar to any one of the professions; but to lay the foundation which is common to them all. There are separate schools of Medicine, Law and Theology, connected with the College, as well as in various parts of the country, which are open to all who are prepared to enter on professional studies. With these the undergraduate course is not intended to interfere. It contains those subjects only which ought to be understood by every one who aims at a thorough education. The principles of science and literature are the common foundation of all high intellectual attainments. They give that furniture, and discipline, and elevation to the mind, which are the best preparation for the study of a profession, or of the operations which are peculiar to the higher mercantile, manufacturing, or agricultural establishments.

For a more particular view of the plan of education in the College, see Reports on the Course of Instruction, published in Vol. XV, of the American Journal of Science.

There are two public examinations of the classes in a year, in April and in August, which are continued from four to six days each. The candidates for degrees are also examined at the close of their course of study.

The public Commencement is held on the third Thursday in August of each year. The first term begins six weeks from the day before Commencement and continues fourteen weeks; the second begins on the third Wednesday in January and continues fourteen weeks; the third, of twelve weeks, begins on the fourth Wednesday in May and continues till Commencement. The intervening periods of six, two, and four, or as the case may be, five weeks, are assigned for vacations.

No student is allowed to be absent, without special leave, except in vacations. The absence of a student in term time, even for a few days, occasions a much greater injury than is commonly supposed by parents or guardians.

Parents are earnestly advised not to allow their sons to remain at the College in the vacations; except the short vacation in January.

Public Worship.

Prayers are attended in the College Chapel every morning and evening, with the reading of the Scriptures; when one of the Faculty officiates, and all the students are required to be present. They are also required to attend public worship in the Chapel on the Sabbath, except such as have permission to attend the Episcopal or other congregations in town.

Expenses.

The College bills are made out by the Treasurer three times a year, at the close of each term; and are delivered to the students, who are required to present them to their parents, guardians, or patrons. If any student fails to comply with this requisition, he is not permitted to recite till the bills are paid.

The annual charges in the Treasurer's bill are,

| | | |
|--|-----------|---------|
| For instruction, | - - - - - | $33 00 |
| For rent of chamber in College, 9 to 15 dollars—average, | - - - - - | 12 00 |
| For ordinary repairs and contingencies, | - | 2 40 |
| For general damages, sweeping, &c. about | | 3 60 |
| For expenses of recitation rooms, | - - - | 3 00 |
| | | $54 00 |

Besides this, the student may be charged for damages done by himself, and a small sum for printing catalogues, and other occasional expenses.

Any person admitted to an advanced standing, unless coming from another College, pays a sum to the Treasurer, equal to half the tuition money, which has been paid by others of the class which he enters.

Notes of the several incorporated banks in this State, and such other notes as are taken by the banks in the city of New Haven, are received in payment of the bills. Drafts on New York, Philadelphia and Boston, are received without discount. Money or drafts to pay the Treasurer's bill, may be transmitted directly to the Treasurer.

Board is obtained at prices varying from $1 25 to $3 00. To a majority of the students the cost of board is not above $2 00 a week. Fuel is procured by the Corporation and distributed to those students who apply for it, at cost and charges.

The students provide for themselves bed and bedding, furniture for their rooms, candles, books, stationery and washing. There are also, in the several classes and literary societies, taxes of a small amount. If books and furniture are sold, when the student has no further necessity for them, the expenses incurred by their use will not be great.

The following may be considered as a near estimate of the necessary expenses, without including apparel, pocket money, traveling, and board in vacations :

| | | | | |
|---------------------------------------|---|---|----------------|-------|
| Treasurer's bill as above, | - | - | $54 | $54 |
| Board, 40 weeks, | - | - | from 60 | to 90 |
| Fuel and lights, | - | - | " 6 | " 15 |
| Use of books recited, and stationery, | | | " 5 | " 15 |
| Use of furniture, bed and bedding, | | | " 5 | " 15 |
| Washing, | - | - | " 5 | " 15 |
| Taxes in the classes, &c. | - | - | " 5 | " 6 |
| Total, | | | $140 to $210 | |

No students are permitted to take lodgings in town, except when the rooms in College are not sufficient to accommodate all.

Students who occupy the recitation rooms, save their room rent and fuel in winter, and receive a small compensation in summer. Cheap board may be obtained in clubs, by those students who wish board at a lower rate than is common in boarding houses.

Indigent students are supplied with text-books, without expense, from the Benevolent and Education Libraries.

A sum somewhat exceeding two thousand dollars, derived chiefly from permanent charitable funds, is annually applied by the Corporation for the relief of indigent students, who to the number of about one hundred have their tuition either wholly or in part remitted.

The Berkeley Premium, of about forty six dollars a year, is given to the scholar in each Senior Class who passes the best examination in the Greek Testament, Xenophon's Cyropaëdia, and Homer's Iliad, Cicero's Tusculan Questions, Tacitus' History and Horace; provided he resides as a graduate in New Haven, one, two, or three years.

A Premium of sixty dollars a year has been instituted by Isaac H. Townsend, Esq. for the encouragement of English composition in the Senior Class.

In the other classes Premiums are also given for Latin and English composition, for translations from the Classics, and for solutions of mathematical problems.

The avails of a bequest to the College by Sheldon Clark, Esq., according to the will of the donor, have been applied to the establishment of two Scholarships, to commence in the years 1848 and 1849 respectively, on a foundation of two thousand dollars each. The member of the Senior Class who shall pass the best examination on the studies of the College course, will be admitted to a Clark Scholarship and entitled to receive the income of its fund for two years, provided he remains in New Haven as a graduate during that period, pursuing a course of study under the direction of the Faculty.

A Scholarship founded by C. A. Bristed, Esq., and yielding an annuity of about eighty dollars, will be open for competition the present year, and hereafter whenever there may be a vacancy. The successful competitor may enjoy this annuity until he would regularly receive his second degree. Candidates must be members of the Junior or Sophomore Class.

Four Scholarships have been established for successive Freshman Classes on a foundation of one thousand dollars each. The examination, which is held about the first of July, entitles the successful candidate to the income of the foundation during the four years of his College course.

The examination for the Berkeley Scholarship, takes place at 10 o'clock, A. M., on the last Monday of the second term; for the Clark Scholarship, about the first of August; for the Bristed Scholarship, early in June.

With regard to apparel, and what is called pocket money, no general estimate can be made. These are the articles in which the expenses of individuals differ most; and in which some are unwarrantably extravagant. There is nothing by which the character and scholarship of the students in this College are more endangered, than by a free indulgence in the use of money. Great caution with regard to this is requisite on the part of parents. What is more than sufficient to defray the ordinary expenses, will expose the student to numerous temptations; and will not contribute either to his respectability or happiness.

As a precaution against extravagance, parents at a distance frequently deposit funds with some one of the Faculty; who, in that case, pays a particular attention to the pecuniary concerns of the student, settles his bills, corresponds with the parent, transmits an account of the expenditures, &c., for which he charges a commission.

The Theological Department.

THE Instructors in the Theological Department, are a Professor of Didactic Theology, a Professor of Sacred Literature, the Professor of Divinity in the College, and a Professor of the Pastoral Charge.

The whole course of instruction occupies three years; and the students are divided into Junior, Middle, and Senior classes.

The time of admission is at the commencement of the first collegiate term. It is desirable that those who join the School, should commence at the beginning of the collegiate year; and those admitted to an advanced standing will be expected to have previously gone over the studies pursued by their respective classes. The terms and vacations are the same with those in the College. The conditions for entrance, are hopeful piety, and a liberal education at some College, unless the candidate has otherwise qualified himself for pursuing advantageously the prescribed course of studies.

No charges are made for tuition or lectures.

No funds have as yet been granted to this department for defraying the expenses of indigent students.

A building has been erected for the accommodation of students, in which the rooms are without charge.

Board may be obtained in private families at from $1 25 to $2 50 per week.

The Law Department.

THIS Department is under the direction of a Faculty, consisting of the President of the College, and two Law Professors, to wit, His Exc. CLARK BISSELL, LL. D., Governor of the State of Connecticut, and late Judge of the Supreme Court of the State; and HENRY DUTTON, Esq., Attorney and Counselor at Law.

COURSE OF INSTRUCTION.

The students are required to peruse the most important elementary treatises, and are daily examined on the author they are reading, and receive at the same time explanations and illustrations of the subjects they are studying.

The School is divided into three reading classes. Each class is daily employed upon a lesson in the Class Book, and is separately examined, and every student can read in one or more of the three classes, as he finds himself able and inclined to perform the requisite labor.

Courses of Lectures are delivered by the Instructors, on all the titles and subjects of Common and Statute Law, and of Equity.

Three exercises, consisting of Lectures or Examinations of one hour each, are daily given by the Instructors, and at all of them each of the pupils is permitted to attend.

A moot court is held once a week or oftener, which employs the students in drawing pleadings, and investigating and arguing questions of law.

The students are called upon, from time to time, to draw declarations, pleadings, contracts, and other instruments connected with the practice of law, and to do the most important duties of an attorney's clerk.

They are occasionally required to write disquisitions on some topic of law, and collect the authorities to support their opinions.

The more advanced students are assisted in the study of the laws of the particular States in which they intend to establish themselves.

The following are some of the principal studies of the course : Blackstone's Commentaries ; Real Estate ; Personal Property ; Contracts ; Domestic Relations ; Parties to Actions ; Forms of Actions ; Pleading ; Evidence ; Nisi Prius ; Bills of Exchange and Promissory Notes ; Insurance ; Shipping ; Corporations ; Criminal Law ; Equity ; Constitution of the United States ; Law of Nations ; Conflict of Laws.

The students are furnished with the use of the elementary books, and have access, at all times, to the College libraries, and to a law library, comprising every important work, both ancient and modern. The law library contains the Revised Statutes, the Reports and the Digests of all the States in the Union.

The course of study occupies two years, allowing eight weeks vacation each year. The months of May and September are allotted for vacations. There is also a recess of about two weeks near the first of January in each year.

The terms for tuition, with constant use of text-books, and ordinary use of the library, are as follows, payable in advance, unless for satisfactory reasons. For the whole course of two years, one hundred and fifty dollars. For one year, eighty dollars. For less than one year, ten dollars a month. For more than one year and less than two years, seven dollars a month after the first year.

The degree of Bachelor of Laws will be conferred by the President and Fellows, on liberally educated students who have been members of the Department eighteen months, and have complied with the regulations of the Institution, and passed a satisfactory examination. Those not liberally educated, will be graduated upon similar conditions, after two years' membership; and members of the Bar, after one year's membership subsequent to their admission to the Bar.

The Medical Department.

THE Instructors in the Medical Institution, are a Professor of Chemistry and Pharmacy, a Professor of the Theory and Practice of Physic, a Professor of Surgery, a Professor of Obstetrics, a Professor of Anatomy and Physiology, and a Professor of Materia Medica and Therapeutics.

The annual course of lectures commences on the last Thursday of September, and continues sixteen weeks. The lectures are so arranged, that at least five are given daily, and a part of the time six.

A Medical and Surgical Clinique is held every week, during the lecture term, at which a variety of cases is presented, for consultation and operations, in presence of the class.

The fees, which are required in advance, are $12,50 for each course, except that on Obstetrics, which is $6, with a Matriculation fee of $5—the whole amounting to $73,50. The tickets of all the Professors, or a part, may be taken any one season. Those who have attended two full courses of Lectures in this Institution, are entitled to admission to future courses gratis. Those who have attended one full course in this Institution, and also one full course in another incorporated Medical Institution, will be admitted to a full course on paying the Matriculation fee. Board, with room, &c., may be obtained at from $2,25 to $3 per week.

The students are entitled to gratuitous admission to the course of Lectures on Anatomy and Physiology, given to the Senior Class, by Professor KNIGHT, during the spring term in the Academical Institution, and to the courses by Professor SILLIMAN, on Mineralogy, during the spring, and on Geology, during the summer. They also have admission to the various other Lectures in the Academical Institution, on paying the fees of the several courses.

The Medical College building is spacious and commodious. The Anatomical Museum, already one of the most valuable in the country, is annually receiving important additions. The arrangements for Dissections are ample, and subjects are supplied on the most reasonable terms. The Anatomical rooms, the Cabinet of the Materia Medica, the Museum of the Yale Natural History Society, the Cabinet of Minerals, and the Libraries of the Medical and Academical Institutions, are all freely open to students.

By the Statutes of the State, the requirements for the Degree of Doctor in Medicine are three years' study for those who are not Bachelors of Arts, and two years' for those who are; attendance upon two full courses of Lectures, either in this Institution, or some other of a similar character; the attainment of twenty one years of age, and a good moral character; together with a satisfactory examination before the Board of Examiners for the State, at which the candidate must present a dissertation upon some subject connected with the Medical Sciences, written in a form prescribed by the Faculty. This Board consists of the Medical Professors of the College, ex officiis, and an equal number of persons chosen by the Fellows of the Medical Society of the State. Licenses to practice are granted by the President of the Society, upon the recommendation of the Board of Examiners, and candidates for a license must possess the same qualifications as those for a degree, except that attendance upon one course of Lectures only is required. The graduation fee is $15 —fee for a license, including diploma, $4,50. The examination is held immediately after the close of the Lectures, when the licenses are granted and the degrees conferred.

Department of Philosophy and the Arts.

It has long been felt at Yale College to be important to furnish resident graduates and others, with the opportunity of devoting themselves to special branches of study either not provided for at present, or not pursued as far as individual students may desire. With the hope of accomplishing this object more fully and systematically, the Corporation at their meeting in August, 1846, appointed a Committee to take this subject into consideration, and in accordance with the report of the Committee, at their next meeting in August, 1847, established a new department, called the Department of Philosophy and the Arts. The branches intended to be embraced in this department are such in general as are not included under Theology, Law and Medicine; or more particularly, Mathematical Science, Physical Science and its application to the Arts, Metaphysics, Philology, Literature and History. Instruction in this department may be given by professors not belonging to the other departments, by the Academical professors, and by such others as the President and Fellows may approve. The Instructors for the year, with the President, compose the Faculty of the department. The instructions in the department are intended for graduates of this and other Colleges, and for such other young men as are desirous of pursuing special branches of study; but it is necessary for all students in philology and mathematical science, that they be thoroughly grounded in those studies.

A School of applied Chemistry is embraced within this department, of which a more particular notice may be found below. For the terms of entrance upon the several courses in the department, application may be made to the several instructors.

President WOOLSEY will instruct twice a week in Thucydides or Pindar.

Professor SILLIMAN's lectures on Chemistry, Mineralogy and Geology, will be open to the students of this department.

Professor KINGSLEY will instruct twice a week in such Latin author as may be agreed upon with the student.

Professor GIBBS proposes to give lectures on some points of general Philology.

Professor OLMSTED's lectures on Natural Philosophy and Astronomy will be open to the students of this department. He will also, if desired, give private instruction in Experimental Philosophy, and Astronomical Calculations.

Professor STANLEY proposes to instruct in the Calculus or Analytical Mechanics.

Professor PORTER will instruct in Psychology, Logic and the History of Philosophy.

Professor SILLIMAN, Jr., will instruct in Elementary and Analytical Chemistry, Mineralogy and Metallurgy.

Professor NORTON will instruct in the applications of science to Agriculture and in Analytical Chemistry.

SCHOOL OF APPLIED CHEMISTRY.

Professors SILLIMAN and NORTON, have opened a Laboratory on the College grounds, in connection with their departments, for the purpose of practical instruction in the applications of science to the arts and agriculture. Every facility will be afforded to those who desire to obtain special instruction in general and in analytical Chemistry and Mineralogy. A course of lectures on the connections of science with Agriculture, by Professor NORTON, will commence in January and continue about two months, at the rate of four lectures in each week. Professor SILLIMAN, Jr., will deliver during the summer a course of lectures upon some other department of applied chemistry.

Students in this department will have access to mineralogical and geological cabinets, and scientific libraries. The text-books used in this department will be Dana's Mineralogy, Silliman's Chemistry, Fresenius's Analysis, and Johnston's Lectures on Agricultural Chemistry and Geology.

The lectures on Chemistry by Professor SILLIMAN, Senior, commence the first week of the first term, and continue through the term. His lectures on Mineralogy are delivered during the second term, and those on Geology commence the first week of the third term and continue six weeks. The lectures of Professor OLMSTED, on Natural Philosophy, commence about the middle of the first term, and continue at the rate of two a week nearly through the year. His lectures on Astronomy and Meteorology, commence at the beginning of the second term, and continue, daily, for about seven weeks.

COURSE OF INSTRUCTION, EXPENSES, &c.

Terms of Admission.

CANDIDATES for admission to the Freshman Class, are examined in Cicero's Select Orations, the whole of Virgil, Sallust, Jacobs', Colton's or Felton's Greek Reader, the first three books of Xenophon's Anabasis, Andrews and Stoddard's or Zumpt's Latin Grammar, Sophocles's, Crosby's or Kühner's Greek Grammar, Andrews' Latin Exercises, Latin Prosody, Thomson's Higher Arithmetic, English Grammar, Geography, and Day's Algebra to Quadratic Equations.*

A candidate for an advanced standing, whether from another College or not, in addition to the preparatory studies, is examined in the various branches to which the class he proposes to enter has attended. No one can be admitted into the Senior Class after the close of the January vacation.

The regular examination for admission into College, commences on the Monday preceding the public Commencement; but persons may be examined for an advanced standing in any other part of the collegiate terms. It is requested that they may not be offered in the vacations, except for very special reasons.

* The deficiency of most candidates for admission, in the Latin and Greek Grammars, Latin Prosody and Composition, Geography, and the theoretical part of Arithmetic, makes it necessary to remark, that the examination in these subjects will be strict and comprehensive.

No one can be admitted to the Freshman Class, till he has completed his fourteenth year, nor to an advanced standing without a proportional increase of age.

Testimonials of good moral character are in all cases required; and those who are admitted from other Colleges must produce certificates of dismission in good standing. The students are not considered as regular members of the College, till, after a residence of at least six months, they have been admitted to matriculation, on satisfactory evidence of an unblemished moral character. Before this they are only students on probation.

The laws of the College provide for the final separation from the institution of those, who, within a specified time, do not so far approve themselves to the Faculty as to be admitted to matriculation.

Course of Instruction.

THE Faculty, to whom are committed the government and instruction of the students, consists of a President; a Professor of Chemistry, Mineralogy, and Geology; a Professor of the Latin Language and Literature; a Professor of Divinity; a Professor of Natural Philosophy and Astronomy; a Professor of the Greek Language and Literature; a Professor of Rhetoric and English Literature; a Professor of Mathematics; a Professor of Moral Philosophy and Metaphysics; an Assistant Professor of the Latin Language; an Assistant Professor of the Greek Language; and seven Tutors.

The whole course of instruction occupies four years. In each year, there are three terms or sessions.

The three younger classes are divided each into three parts; the Senior Class into two parts. Each of the four classes attends three recitations or lectures in a day; except on Wednesdays and Saturdays, when they have only two. The following scheme gives a general view of the studies pursued in each term:—

Astronomy; or Fluxions; } the student.
III. { Political Economy, Wayland's.
Evidences of Christianity.

Changes in the Greek and Latin authors recited are sometimes introduced in the latter part of the course ; but these changes do not affect the amount of Greek and Latin required of those who apply for admission to an advanced standing.

The Kent Professor of Law gives instruction to the Senior Class during the third term.

A short course of Anatomy and Physiology, consisting of about twenty lectures, illustrated by natural and artificial preparations, is given to the Senior Class in the second term.

In addition to the recitations in the books here specified, the classes receive lectures and occasional instruction from the Professors of the Greek and Latin languages ; the Junior Class attends a course of experimental lectures on Natural Philosophy ; and the Senior Class, courses of lectures on Chemistry, Mineralogy, Geology, Meteorology, Astronomy and History.

The lectures of Professor SILLIMAN on Chemistry, are given daily during the first term, except on Monday which is devoted to review ; his lectures on Mineralogy are given in the second term, and those on Geology during the third term. The lectures of Professor OLMSTED, on Experimental Philosophy, commence about the first of December, and are continued at the rate of nearly two a week, during the remainder of the College year. His lectures on Meteorology and Astronomy are given during the second term, concluding about the middle of March, when those of Professor KNIGHT on Anatomy addressed to the Senior Class, commence, and occupy the remainder of the term.

In the department of Elocution, the Freshman Class, in several divisions, have during the year recitations and exercises upon the elementary principles of the science, conducted by the Teacher of Elocution ; and the Sophomore and Junior Classes, frequent private exercises, preparatory to public declamation in the Chapel before the Professor of Rhetoric and the members of the class.

The members of the several classes attend also the private exercises and lectures of the Professor of Rhetoric. A course of lectures on the Oration of Demosthenes on the Crown, is delivered to members of the Senior Class. Specimens of English composition are exhibited once a fortnight by members of the Sophomore and Senior Classes. Written translations from Latin authors are presented weekly by the Freshman Class. The lower classes are also instructed in Latin composition. Forensic Disputations are held twice a week, by members of the Senior and Junior Classes, before their instructors.

Gentlemen well qualified to teach the modern languages, are engaged by the Faculty to give instruction in these branches to those students who desire it, at their own expense.

The object of the system of instruction to the undergraduates in the College, is not to give a partial education, consisting of a few branches only; nor on the other hand, to give a superficial education, containing a little of almost every thing; nor to finish the details of either a professional or a practical education; but to commence a thorough course, and to carry it as far as the time of the student's residence here will allow. It is intended to maintain such a proportion between the different branches of literature and science, as to form a proper symmetry and balance of character. In laying the foundation of a thorough education, it is necessary that all the important faculties be brought into exercise. When certain mental endowments receive a much higher culture than others, there is a distortion in the intellectual character. The powers of the mind are not developed in their fairest proportions by studying languages alone, or mathematics alone, or natural or political science alone. The object, in the proper collegiate department, is not to teach that which is peculiar to any one of the professions; but to lay the foundation which is common to them all. There are separate schools of Medicine, Law and Theology, connected with the College, as well as in various parts of the country, which are open to all who are prepared to enter on professional studies. With these the undergraduate course is not intended to interfere. It contains those subjects only which ought to be understood by every one who aims at a thorough education. The principles of science and literature are the common foundation of all high intellectual attainments. They give that furniture, and discipline, and elevation to the mind, which are the best preparation for the study of a profession, or of the operations which are peculiar to the higher mercantile, manufacturing, or agricultural establishments.

For a more particular view of the plan of education in the College, see Reports on the Course of Instruction, published in Vol. XV, of the American Journal of Science.

There are two public examinations of the classes in a year, in April and in August, which are continued from four to six days each. The candidates for degrees are also examined at the close of their course of study.

The public Commencement is held on the third Thursday in August of each year. The first term begins six weeks from the day before Commencement and continues fourteen weeks; the second begins on the third Wednesday in January and continues fourteen weeks; the third, of twelve weeks, begins on the fourth Wednesday in May and continues till Commencement. The intervening periods of six, two, and four, or as the case may be, five weeks, are assigned for vacations.

No student is allowed to be absent, without special leave, except in vacations. The absence of a student in term time, even for a few days, occasions a much greater injury than is commonly supposed by parents or guardians.

Parents are earnestly advised not to allow their sons to remain at the College in the vacations; except the short vacation in January.

Public Worship.

Prayers are attended in the College Chapel every morning and evening, with the reading of the Scriptures; when one of the Faculty officiates, and all the students are required to be present. They are also required to attend public worship in the Chapel on the Sabbath, except such as have permission to attend the Episcopal or other congregations in town.

Expenses.

The College bills are made out by the Treasurer three times a year, at the close of each term; and are delivered to the students, who are required to present them to their parents, guardians, or patrons. If any student fails to comply with this requisition, he is not permitted to recite till the bills are paid.

The annual charges in the Treasurer's bill are,

| | | |
|--|-----------|---------|
| For instruction, | - - - - - | $33 00 |
| For rent of chamber in College, $7\frac{1}{2}$ to $16\frac{1}{2}$ dollars—average, | - - - - - | 12 00 |
| For ordinary repairs and contingencies, | - | 2 40 |
| For general damages, sweeping, &c. about | | 3 60 |
| For expenses of recitation rooms, | - - - - | 3 00 |
| | | $54 00 |

Besides this, the student may be charged for damages done by himself, and a small sum for printing catalogues, and other occasional expenses.

Any person admitted to an advanced standing, unless coming from another College, pays a sum to the Treasurer, equal to half the tuition money, which has been paid by others of the class which he enters.

Notes of the several incorporated banks in this State, and such other notes as are taken by the banks in the city of New Haven, are received in payment of the bills. Drafts on New York, Philadelphia and Boston, are received without discount. Money or drafts to pay the Treasurer's bill, may be transmitted directly to the Treasurer.

Board is obtained at prices varying from $1 25 to $3 00. To a majority of the students the cost of board is not above $2 00 a week. Fuel is procured by the Corporation and distributed to those students who apply for it, at cost and charges.

The students provide for themselves bed and bedding, furniture for their rooms, candles, books, stationery and washing. There are also, in the several classes and literary societies, taxes of a small amount. If books and furniture are sold, when the student has no further necessity for them, the expenses incurred by their use will not be great.

The following may be considered as a near estimate of the necessary expenses, without including apparel, pocket money, traveling, and board in vacations :

| | | | | |
|---------------------------------------|---|---|---------|-------|
| Treasurer's bill as above, | - | - | $54 | $54 |
| Board, 40 weeks, | - | - | from 60 | to 90 |

| Taxes in the classes, &c. | - | - | " 5 | " 6 |
| Total, $140 to $210 | | | | |

No students are permitted to take lodgings in town, except when the rooms in College are not sufficient to accommodate all.

Students who occupy the recitation rooms, save their room rent and fuel in winter, and receive a small compensation in summer. Cheap board may be obtained in clubs, by those students who wish board at a lower rate than is common in boarding houses.

Indigent students are supplied with text-books, without expense, from the Benevolent and Education Libraries.

A sum somewhat exceeding two thousand dollars, derived chiefly from permanent charitable funds, is annually applied by the Corporation for the relief of indigent students, who to the number of about one hundred have their tuition either wholly or in part remitted.

The Berkeley Premium, of about forty six dollars a year, is given to the scholar in each Senior Class who passes the best examination in the Greek Testament, Xenophon's Cyropaedia, and Homer's Iliad, Cicero's Tusculan Questions, Tacitus' History and Horace; provided he resides as a graduate in New Haven, one, two, or three years.

The sum of sixty dollars a year arising from a donation by Isaac H. Townsend, Esq., is distributed in premiums for the encouragement of English composition in the Senior Class.

In the other classes Premiums are also given for Latin and English composition, for translations from the Classics, and for solutions of mathematical problems.

The avails of a bequest to the College by Sheldon Clark, Esq., according to the will of the donor, have been applied to the establishment of two Scholarships, on a foundation of two thousand dollars each. The member of the Senior Class, who passes the best examination on the studies of the College course, is admitted to a Clark Scholarship, and entitled to receive the income of its fund for two years; provided he remains in New Haven as a graduate during that period, pursuing a course of study under the direction of the Faculty.

A Scholarship founded by C. A. Bristed, Esq., and yielding an annuity of about eighty dollars, will be open for competition whenever there may be a vacancy. The successful competitor may enjoy this annuity until he would regularly receive his second degree. Candidates must be members of the Junior or Sophomore Class.

Four Scholarships have been established for successive Freshman Classes on a foundation of one thousand dollars each. The examination, which is held about the first of July, entitles the successful candidate to the income of the foundation during the four years of his College course.

The examination for the Berkeley Scholarship, takes place at 10 o'clock, A. M., on the last Monday of the second term; for the Clark Scholarship, about the first of August; for the Bristed Scholarship, early in June.

With regard to apparel, and what is called pocket money, no general estimate can be made. These are the articles in which the expenses of individuals differ most; and in which some are unwarrantably extravagant. There is nothing by which the character and scholarship of the students in this College are more endangered, than by a free indulgence in the use of money. Great caution with regard to this is requisite on the part of parents. What is more than sufficient to defray the ordinary expenses, will expose the student to numerous temptations; and will not contribute either to his respectability or happiness.

As a precaution against extravagance, parents at a distance frequently deposit funds with some one of the Faculty; who, in that case, pays a particular attention to the pecuniary concerns of the student, settles his bills, corresponds with the parent, transmits an account of the expenditures, &c., for which he charges a commission.

The Theological Department.

THE Instructors in the Theological Department, are a Professor of Didactic Theology, a Professor of Sacred Literature, the Professor of Divinity in the College, and a Professor of the Pastoral Charge.

The whole course of instruction occupies three years; and the students are divided into Junior, Middle, and Senior classes.

The time of admission is at the commencement of the first collegiate term. It is desirable that those who join the School, should commence at the beginning of the collegiate year; and those admitted to an advanced standing will be expected to have previously gone over the studies pursued by their respective classes. The terms and vacations are the same with those in the College. The conditions for entrance, are hopeful piety, and a liberal education at some College, unless the candidate has otherwise qualified himself for pursuing advantageously the prescribed course of studies.

No charges are made for tuition or lectures.

No funds have as yet been granted to this department for defraying the expenses of indigent students.

A building has been erected for the accommodation of students, in which the rooms are free of rent, but subject to a charge of three dollars a year to each occupant for incidental expenses.

Board may be obtained in private families at from $1 25 to $2 50 per week.

The Law Department.

THIS Department is under the direction of a Faculty, consisting of the President of the College, and two Law Professors, to wit, Hon. CLARK BISSELL, LL. D., late Judge of the Supreme Court of the State; and Hon. HENRY DUTTON, Judge of the New Haven County Court.

COURSE OF INSTRUCTION.

The students are required to peruse the most important elementary treatises, and are daily examined on the author they are reading, and receive at the same time explanations and illustrations of the subjects they are studying.

The School is divided into three reading classes. Each class is daily employed upon a lesson in the Class Book, and is separately examined, and every student can read in one or more of the three classes, as he finds himself able and inclined to perform the requisite labor.

Courses of Lectures are delivered by the Instructors, on all the titles and subjects of Common and Statute Law, and of Equity.

Three exercises, consisting of Lectures or Examinations of one hour each, are daily given by the Instructors, and at all of them each of the pupils is permitted to attend.

A moot court is held once a week or oftener, which employs the students in drawing pleadings, and investigating and arguing questions of law.

The students are called upon, from time to time, to draw declarations, pleadings, contracts, and other instruments connected with the practice of law, and to do the most important duties of an attorney's clerk.

They are occasionally required to write disquisitions on some topic of law, and collect the authorities to support their opinions.

The more advanced students are assisted in the study of the laws of the particular States in which they intend to establish themselves.

The following are some of the principal studies of the course : Blackstone's Commentaries ; Real Estate ; Personal Property ; Contracts ; Domestic Relations ; Parties to Actions ; Forms of Actions ; Pleading ; Evidence ; Nisi Prius ; Bills of Exchange and Promissory Notes ; Insurance ; Shipping ; Corporations ; Criminal Law ; Equity ; Constitution of the United States ; Law of Nations ; Conflict of Laws.

The students are furnished with the use of the elementary books, and have access, at all times, to the College libraries, and to a law library, comprising every important work, both ancient and modern. The law library contains the Revised Statutes, the Reports and the Digests of all the States in the Union.

The course of study occupies two years, allowing eight weeks vacation each year. The months of May and September are allotted for vacations. There is also a recess of about two weeks near the first of January in each year.

The terms for tuition, with constant use of text-books, and ordinary use of the library, are as follows, payable in advance, unless for satisfactory reasons. For the whole course of two years, one hundred and fifty dollars. For one year, eighty dollars. For less than one year, ten dollars a month. For more than one year and less than two years, seven dollars a month after the first year.

The degree of Bachelor of Laws will be conferred by the President and Fellows, on liberally educated students who have been members of the Department eighteen months, and have complied with the regulations of the Institution, and passed a satisfactory examination. Those not liberally educated, will be graduated upon similar conditions, after two years' membership; and members of the Bar, after one year's membership subsequent to their admission to the Bar.

The Medical Department.

THE Instructors in the Medical Institution, are a Professor of Chemistry and Pharmacy, a Professor of the Theory and Practice of Physic, a Professor of Surgery, a Professor of Obstetrics, a Professor of Anatomy and Physiology, and a Professor of Materia Medica and Therapeutics.

The annual course of lectures commences on the last Thursday of September, and continues sixteen weeks. The lectures are so arranged, that at least five are given daily, and a part of the time six.

A Medical and Surgical Clinique is held every week, during the lecture term, at which a variety of cases is presented, for consultation and operations, in presence of the class.

The fees, which are required in advance, are $12,50 for each course, except that on Obstetrics, which is $6, with a Matriculation fee of $5—the whole amounting to $73,50. The tickets of all the Professors, or a part, may be taken any one season. Those who have attended two full courses of Lectures in this Institution, are entitled to admission to future courses gratis. Those who have attended one full course in this Institution, and also one full course in another incorporated Medical Institution, will be admitted to a full course on paying the Matriculation fee. Board, with room, &c., may be obtained at from $2,25 to $3 per week.

The students are entitled to gratuitous admission to the course of Lectures on Anatomy and Physiology, given to the Senior Class, by Professor KNIGHT, during the spring term in the Academical Institution, and to the courses by Professor SILLIMAN, on Mineralogy, during the spring, and on Geology, during the summer. They also have admission to the various other Lectures in the Academical Institution, on paying the fees of the several courses.

The Medical College building is spacious and commodious. The Anatomical Museum, already one of the most valuable in the country, is annually receiving important additions. The arrangements for Dissections are ample, and subjects are supplied on the most reasonable terms. The Anatomical rooms, the Cabinet of the Materia Medica, the Museum of the Yale Natural History Society, the Cabinet of Minerals, and the Libraries of the Medical and Academical Institutions, are all freely open to students.

By the Statutes of the State, the requirements for the Degree of Doctor in Medicine are three years' study for those who are not Bachelors of Arts, and two years' for those who are; attendance upon two full courses of Lectures, either in this Institution, or some other of a similar character; the attainment of twenty one years of age, and a good moral character; together with a satisfactory examination before the Board of Examiners for the State, at which the candidate must present a dissertation upon some subject connected with the Medical Sciences, written in a form prescribed by the Faculty. This Board consists of the Medical Professors of the College, ex officiis, and an equal number of persons chosen by the Fellows of the Medical Society of the State. Licenses to practice are granted by the President of the Society, upon the recommendation of the Board of Examiners, and candidates for a license must possess the same qualifications as those for a degree, except that attendance upon one course of Lectures only is required. The graduation fee is $15 —fee for a license, including diploma, $4,50. The examination is held immediately after the close of the Lectures, when the licenses are granted and the degrees conferred.

Department of Philosophy and the Arts.

It has long been felt at Yale College to be important to furnish resident graduates and others, with the opportunity of devoting themselves to special branches of study either not provided for at present, or not pursued as far as individual students may desire. With the hope of accomplishing this object more fully and systematically, the Corporation at their meeting in August, 1846, appointed a Committee to take this subject into consideration, and in accordance with the report of the Committee, at their next meeting in August, 1847, established a new department, called the Department of Philosophy and the Arts. The branches intended to be embraced in this department are such in general as are not included under Theology, Law and Medicine; or more particularly, Mathematical Science, Physical Science and its application to the Arts, Metaphysics, Philology, Literature and History. Instruction in this department may be given by professors not belonging to the other departments, by the Academical professors, and by such others as the President and Fellows may approve. The Instructors for the year, with the President, compose the Faculty of the department. The instructions in the department are intended for graduates of this and other Colleges, and for such other young men as are desirous of pursuing special branches of study; but it is necessary for all students in philology and mathematical science, that they be thoroughly grounded in those studies.

A School of applied Chemistry is embraced within this department, of which a more particular notice may be found below. For the terms of entrance upon the several courses in the department, application may be made to the several instructors.

President WOOLSEY will instruct twice a week in Thucydides or Pindar.

Professor SILLIMAN's lectures on Chemistry, Mineralogy and Geology, will be open to the students of this department.

Professor KINGSLEY will instruct twice a week in such Latin author as may be agreed upon with the student.

Professor GIBBS proposes to give lectures on some points of general Philology.

Professor OLNSTED's lectures on Natural Philosophy and Astronomy will be open to the students of this department. He will also, if desired, give private instruction in Experimental Philosophy, and Astronomical Calculations.

Professor STANLEY proposes to instruct in the Calculus or Analytical Mechanics.

Professor PORTER will instruct in Psychology, Logic and the History of Philosophy.

Professor SILLIMAN, Jr., will instruct in Elementary and Analytical Chemistry, Mineralogy and Metallurgy.

Professor NORTON will instruct in the applications of science to Agriculture and in Analytical Chemistry.

SCHOOL OF APPLIED CHEMISTRY.

Professors SILLIMAN and NORTON, have opened a Laboratory on the College grounds, in connection with their departments, for the purpose of practical instruction in the applications of science to the arts and agriculture. Every facility will be afforded to those who desire to obtain special instruction in general and in analytical Chemistry and Mineralogy.

A course of lectures on the connections of science with Agriculture, by Professor NORTON, will commence in January and continue about two months and a half, at the rate of four lectures in each week.

The services of Dr. Henry Erni have been secured as first assistant. He proposes forming a class in Botany during the summer term, and will instruct in practical Chemistry, especially as to its applications in dying and printing.

Professor SILLIMAN, Jr., proposes to instruct in Mineralogy and applied Chemistry during the summer term.

Students in this department will have access to mineralogical and geological cabinets, and scientific libraries.

The text-books used will be Dana's Mineralogy, Silliman's Chemistry, Fresenius's Analysis, Will's Outlines, Rose's Chemical Analysis.

The lectures on Chemistry by Professor SILLIMAN, Senior, commence the first week of the first term, and continue through the term. His lectures on Mineralogy are delivered during the second term, and those on Geology commence the first week of the third term and continue six weeks. The lectures of Professor OLMSTED, on Natural Philosophy, commence about the middle of the first term, and continue at the rate of two a week nearly through the year. His lectures on Astronomy and Meteorology, commence at the beginning of the second term, and continue, daily, for about seven weeks.

STATEMENT

OF THE

COURSE OF INSTRUCTION, EXPENSES, &c.

IN

Terms of Admission.

CANDIDATES for admission to the Freshman Class, are examined in Cicero's Select Orations, the whole of Virgil, Sallust, Jacobs's, Colton's or Felton's Greek Reader, the first three books of Xenophon's Anabasis, Andrews and Stoddard's or Zumpt's Latin Grammar, Sophocles's, Crosby's or Kühner's Greek Grammar, Andrews's Latin Exercises, Latin Prosody, Thomson's Higher Arithmetic, English Grammar, Geography, and Day's Algebra to Quadratic Equations.*

Candidates for advanced standing, whether from other Colleges or not, in addition to the preparatory studies, are examined in those previously pursued by the classes which they propose to enter. No one can be admitted into the Senior Class after the close of the January vacation.

The regular examination for admission into College, commences on the Monday preceding the public Commencement; but persons may be examined for an advanced standing in any other part of the collegiate terms. It is requested that they may not be offered in the vacations, except for very special reasons.

* The deficiency of most candidates for admission, in the Latin and Greek Grammars, Latin Prosody and Composition, Geography, and the theoretical part of Arithmetic, makes it necessary to remark, that the examination in these subjects will be strict and comprehensive.

No one can be admitted to the Freshman Class, till he has completed his fourteenth year, nor to an advanced standing without a proportional increase of age.

Testimonials of good moral character are in all cases required ; and those who are admitted from other Colleges must produce certificates of dismission in good standing. The students are not considered as regular members of the College, till, after a residence of at least six months, they have been admitted to matriculation, on satisfactory evidence of an unblemished moral character. Before this they are only students on probation. The laws of the College provide for the final separation from the institution of those, who, within a specified time, do not so far approve themselves to the Faculty as to be admitted to matriculation.

Course of Instruction.

THE Faculty, to whom are committed the government and instruction of the undergraduate students, consists of a President ; a Professor of Chemistry, Mineralogy, and Geology ; a Professor of the Latin Language and Literature ; a Professor of Divinity ; a Professor of Natural Philosophy and Astronomy ; a Professor of the Greek Language and Literature ; a Professor of Rhetoric and English Literature ; a Professor of Mathematics ; a Professor of Moral Philosophy and Metaphysics ; an Assistant Professor of the Latin Language ; an Assistant Professor of the Greek Language ; and seven Tutors.

The whole course of instruction occupies four years. In each year there are three terms or sessions.

The three younger classes are divided each into three parts ; the Senior Class into two parts. Each of the four classes attends three recitations or lectures in a day ; except on Wednesdays and Saturdays, when they have only two. The following scheme gives a general view of the studies pursued in each term :—

Changes in the Greek and Latin authors recited are sometimes introduced in the latter part of the course ; but these changes do not affect the amount of Greek and Latin required of those who apply for admission to an advanced standing.

The Kent Professor of Law gives instruction to the Senior Class during the third term.

A short course of Anatomy and Physiology, consisting of about twenty lectures, illustrated by natural and artificial preparations, is given to the Senior Class in the second term.

In addition to the recitations in the books here specified, the classes receive lectures and occasional instruction from the Professors of the Greek and Latin languages ; the Junior Class attends a course of experimental lectures on Natural Philosophy ; and the Senior Class, courses of lectures on Chemistry, Mineralogy, Geology, Meteorology, Astronomy and History.

The lectures of Professor SILLIMAN on Chemistry, are given daily during the first term, except on Monday which is devoted to review ; his lectures on Mineralogy are given in the second term, and those on Geology during the third term. The lectures of Professor OLMSTED, on Experimental Philosophy, commence about the first of December, and are continued at the rate of nearly two a week, during the remainder of the College year. His lectures on Meteorology and Astronomy are given during the second term, concluding about the first of March, when those of Professor KNIGHT on Anatomy addressed to the Senior Class, commence, and occupy the remainder of the term.

In the department of Elocution, the Freshman Class, in several divisions, have during the year recitations and exercises upon the elementary principles of the science, conducted by the Teacher of Elocution ; and the Sophomore and Junior Classes, frequent private exercises, preparatory to public declamation in the Chapel before the Professor of Rhetoric and the members of the class.

The members of the several classes attend also the private exercises and lectures of the Professor of Rhetoric. A course of lectures is delivered to the Senior Class, on the Oration of Demosthenes on the Crown. The Senior Class have exercises twice a week in English composition ; the Senior and Junior classes twice a week in forensic disputation ; the Sophomore Class once a week in English composition ; the Freshman Class once a week in written translation from the Latin. The Junior, Sophomore and Freshman Classes are also instructed in Latin composition.

Students, who desire instruction in the modern languages, may receive it, at their own expense, from competent teachers, engaged for the purpose by the Faculty.

The object of the system of instruction to the undergraduates in the College, is not to give a partial education, consisting of a few branches only ; nor on the other hand, to give a superficial education, containing a little of almost every thing ; nor to finish the details of either a professional or a practical education ; but to commence a thorough course, and to carry it as far as the time of the student's residence here will allow. It is intended to maintain such a proportion between the different branches of literature and science, as to form a proper symmetry and balance of character. In laying the foundation of a thorough education, it is necessary that all the important faculties be brought into exercise. When certain mental endowments receive a much higher culture than others, there is a distortion in the intellectual character. The powers of the mind are not developed in their fairest proportions by studying languages alone, or mathematics alone, or natural or political science alone. The object, in the proper collegiate department, is not to teach that which is peculiar to any one of the professions ; but to lay the foundation which is common to them all. There are separate schools of Theology, Law and Medicine, connected with the College, as well as in various parts of the country, which are open to all who are prepared to enter on professional studies. With these the undergraduate course is not intended to interfere. It contains those subjects only which ought to be understood by every one who aims at a thorough education. The principles of science and literature are the common foundation of all high intellectual attainments. They give that furniture, and discipline, and elevation to the mind, which are the best preparation for the study of a profession, or of the operations which are peculiar to the higher mercantile, manufacturing, or agricultural establishments.

For a more particular view of the plan of education in the College, see Reports on the Course of Instruction, published in Vol. XV, of the American Journal of Science.

Public examinations of the classes are held at the close of each term on the studies of the term; and twice in the College course, at the close of the Sophomore and Senior years, on the studies of the two preceding years.

The public Commencement is held on the last Thursday in July of each year. The first term begins seven weeks from the day before Commencement and continues fourteen weeks; the second begins on the first Wednesday in January and continues fourteen weeks; the third, of twelve weeks, begins on the first Wednesday in May and continues till Commencement. The intervening periods of seven, two, and three, or as the case may be, four weeks, are assigned for vacations. The first term of the current year closes Tuesday, Dec. 24th, 1850; the second term opens Wednesday, Jan. 8th, 1851, and closes Tuesday, April 15th; the third term opens Wednesday, May 7th, and closes at Commencement, Thursday, July 31st. The first term of the ensuing year will open Wednesday, Sept. 17th, 1851.

No student is allowed to be absent, without special leave, except in vacations. The absence of a student in term time, even for a few days, occasions a much greater injury than is commonly supposed by parents or guardians. During the vacations, on the contrary, parents are earnestly advised not to allow their sons to remain at the College.

Public Worship.

Prayers are attended in the College Chapel every morning and evening, with the reading of the Scriptures; when one of the Faculty officiates, and all the students are required to be present. They are also required to attend public worship in the Chapel on the Sabbath, except such as have permission to attend the worship of other denominations in town, to which their parents belong.

Expenses.

The College bills are made out by the Treasurer three times a year, at the close of each term; and are delivered to the students, who are required to present them to their parents, guardians, or patrons. The bills are payable at the close of the term, and if not paid by the expiration of one week after the commencement of the succeeding term, the student is liable to be prohibited from reciting.

The annual charges in the Treasurer's bill are,

| | | |
|---|-----------|---------|
| For tuition, | - - - - - | $33 00 |
| For rent of half chamber in College, 7½ to 16½ dollars—average, | - - - - - | 12 00 |
| For ordinary repairs and contingencies, | - | 2 40 |
| For general damages, sweeping, &c. about | | 3 60 |
| For expenses of recitation rooms, | - - - | 3 00 |
| | | $54 00 |

Besides this, the student pays for damages done by himself, for tuition in optional studies during part of Junior and Senior years, and a few additional charges on graduating.

Any person admitted to an advanced standing, unless coming from another College, pays a sum to the Treasurer, equal to half the tuition money, which has been paid by others of the class which he enters.

Notes of the several incorporated banks in this State, and such other notes as are taken by the banks in the city of New Haven, are received in payment of the bills. Drafts on Boston, New York or Philadelphia, may be transmitted direct to the Treasurer.

Board is obtained at prices varying from $1 60 to $3 00. To a majority of the students the cost of board is not above $2 00 a week. Fuel is procured by the Corporation and distributed to those students who apply for it, at cost and charges, and must be paid for at the time of ordering.

No students are permitted to take lodgings in town, except when the rooms in College are not sufficient to accommodate all.

The students provide for themselves bed and bedding, furniture for their rooms, lights, books, stationery and washing. There are also, in the several classes and literary societies, taxes of a small amount. If books and furniture are sold, when the student has no further necessity for them, the expenses incurred by their use will not be great.

The following may be considered as a near estimate of the necessary expenses, without including apparel, pocket money, traveling, and board in vacations :

| | | | | |
|---------------------------------------|---|---|------------|----------------|
| Treasurer's bill as above, | - | - | $54 | $54 |
| Board, 40 weeks, | - | - | from 64 to | 90 |
| Fuel and lights, | - | - | " 6 " | 15 |
| Use of books recited, and stationery, | | | " 5 " | 15 |
| Use of furniture, bed and bedding, | | | " 5 " | 15 |
| Washing, | - | - | " 10 " | 18 |
| Taxes in the Societies, &c. | - | - | " 6 " | 8 |
| Total, | | | | $150 to $215 |

Students who occupy the recitation rooms, save their room rent and fuel in winter, and receive a small compensation in summer. Cheap board may be obtained in clubs, by those students who wish board at a lower rate than is common in boarding houses.

Indigent students are supplied with most of the text-books, without expense, from the Benevolent and Education Libraries.

A sum somewhat exceeding two thousand dollars, derived chiefly from permanent charitable funds, is annually applied by the Corporation for the relief of indigent students, who to the number of about one hundred have their tuition either wholly or in part remitted.

With regard to apparel, and what is called pocket money, no general estimate can be made. These are the articles in which the expenses of individuals differ most ; and in which some are unwarrantably extravagant. There is nothing by which the character and scholarship of the students in this College are more endangered, than by a free indulgence in the use of money. Great caution with regard to this is requisite on the part of parents. What is more than sufficient to defray the ordinary expenses, will expose the student to numerous temptations; and will not contribute either to his respectability or happiness.

As a precaution against extravagance, parents at a distance frequently deposit funds with some one of the Faculty; who, in that case, pays a particular attention to the pecuniary concerns of the student, settles his bills, corresponds with the parent, transmits an account of the expenditures, &c., for which he charges a commission.

Scholarships and Premiums.

THE Berkeley Scholarship, yielding about forty-six dollars a year, is awarded to the student in each Senior Class, who passes the best examination in the Greek Testament, Xenophon's Cyropaedia, and Homer's Iliad, Cicero's Tusculan Questions, Tacitus (except the Annals,) and Horace; provided he remains in New Haven as a graduate one, two or three years.

The Clark Scholarship, yielding a hundred and twenty dollars a year, is awarded to the student in each Senior Class, who passes the best examination on the studies of the College course; provided he remains in New Haven as a graduate one or two years, pursuing a course of study (not professional) under the direction of the Faculty.

The Bristed Scholarship, yielding about eighty dollars a year, is awarded to the student in the Sophomore or Junior Class, whenever there may be a vacancy, who passes the best examination in the Greek and Latin classics and the mathematics. The successful candidate receives the annuity, (forfeiting one-third in case of non-residence in New Haven,) until he would regularly take his second degree.

A Scholarship, yielding sixty dollars a year, is awarded to the student in each Freshman Class, who passes the best examination in Latin composition (excellence in which is essential to success), in the Greek of the year, and in the solution of algebraic problems. The successful candidate enjoys the annuity under certain conditions during the four years of his College course.

The examination for the Berkeley Scholarship is held at 10 o'clock A. M. on the last Monday of the second term; for the Clark Scholarship, about the first of July; for the Bristed Scholarship and the Scholarship for the Freshman Class, early in the third term.

The Townsend Premiums, five in number, each of twelve dollars, are awarded in the Senior Class for the best specimens of English composition.

In the other classes premiums are also given for Latin and English composition, for translations from the Classics, and for solutions of mathematical problems.

The Theological Department.

THE Instructors in this Department are a Professor of Didactic Theology, a Professor of Sacred Literature, the Professor of Divinity in the College, and a Professor of the Pastoral Charge.

The time of admission is at the beginning of the collegiate year. It is desirable that those who join this Department should be present at the commencement of the first term. Those admitted to an advanced standing will be expected to have previously gone over the studies pursued by their respective classes.

The conditions for entrance are hopeful piety, and a liberal education at some College, or such other literary acquisition as may be considered an equivalent preparation for theological studies.

The terms and vacations are the same with those in the College.

The regular course of instruction occupies three years, and comprises the following subjects:

JUNIOR CLASS.—Hebrew Grammar, (Roediger's Gesenius, translated by Conant,) Conant's Hebrew Exercises and Chrestomathy, Principles of Sacred Criticism and Hermeneutics, Critical and Exegetical study of the Hebrew and Greek Scriptures, Critical and Exegetical Dissertations, Lectures by the Professor of Sacred Literature on some topics in Introduction to Theology, and in Exegetical Theology, Lectures by the Professor of Didactic Theology on Mental Philosophy including the Will.

MIDDLE CLASS.—Lectures by the Professor of Didactic Theology, on Moral Philosophy, Moral Government, Natural Theology, Necessity and Evidences of Revelation, and Systematic Theology. Exegetical study of the Scriptures and Dissertations continued.

SENIOR CLASS.—Lectures on the Structure and Composition of Sermons, and on Public Prayer. Criticism of Skeletons and of Sermons, Exercises in Extemporaneous Speaking and Preaching before the Class, Lectures on the Pastoral Charge, on Revivals of Religion, on the History of Modern Missions, and on Expository Preaching, Lectures on Elocution attended by Practice in the Delivery of Sermons.

There are weekly Debates in the Rhetorical Society, at which the Professor of Didactic Theology presides and in which the members of all the Classes participate.

The students have access to the College Library, and to the libraries of the several literary Societies in the College.

A building has been erected for the accommodation of students in which the rooms are free of rent; but each occupant is subject to a charge of $3,50 a year for incidental expenses. No other charges are made to the students.

No funds have as yet been granted to this department for defraying the expenses of indigent students. In addition to the usual aid which may be derived from the American Education Society, there is an Association in this city whose object it is to assist those who are here preparing for the Ministry.

The Law Department.

THIS Department is under the direction of a Faculty, consisting of the President of the College, and two Law Professors, to wit, Hon. CLARK BISSELL, LL. D., late Judge of the Supreme Court of the State; and Hon. HENRY DUTTON, late Judge of the New Haven County Court.

COURSE OF INSTRUCTION.

The students are required to peruse the most important elementary treatises, and are daily examined on the author they are reading, and receive at the same time explanations and illustrations of the subjects they are studying.

The School is divided into three reading classes. Each class is daily employed upon a lesson in the Class Book, and is separately examined, and every student can read in one or more of the three classes, as he finds himself able and inclined to perform the requisite labor.

Courses of Lectures are delivered by the Instructors, on all the titles and subjects of Common and Statute Law, and of Equity.

Three exercises, consisting of Lectures or Examinations of one hour each, are daily given by the Instructors, and at all of them each of the pupils is permitted to attend.

A moot court is held once a week or oftener, which employs the students in drawing pleadings, and investigating and arguing questions of law.

The students are called upon, from time to time, to draw declarations, pleadings, contracts, and other instruments connected with the practice of law, and to do the most important duties of an attorney's clerk.

They are occasionally required to write disquisitions on some topic of law, and collect the authorities to support their opinions.

The more advanced students are assisted in the study of the laws of the particular States in which they intend to establish themselves.

The following are some of the principal studies of the course : Blackstone's Commentaries ; Real Estate ; Personal Property ; Contracts ; Domestic Relations ; Parties to Actions ; Forms of Actions ; Pleading ; Evidence ; Nisi Prius ; Bills of Exchange and Promissory Notes ; Insurance ; Shipping ; Corporations ; Criminal Law ; Equity ; Constitution of the United States ; Law of Nations ; Conflict of Laws.

The students are furnished with the use of the elementary books, and have access, at all times, to the College libraries, and to a law library, comprising every important work, both ancient and modern. The law library contains the Revised Statutes, the Reports and the Digests of all the States in the Union.

The course of study occupies two years, allowing eight weeks vacation each year. The months of May and September are allotted for vacations. There is also a recess of about two weeks near the first of January in each year.

The terms for tuition, with constant use of text-books, and ordinary use of the library, are as follows, payable in advance, unless for satisfactory reasons. For the whole course of two years, one hundred and fifty dollars. For one year, eighty dollars. For less than one year, ten dollars a month. For more than one year and less than two years, seven dollars a month after the first year.

The degree of Bachelor of Laws will be conferred by the President and Fellows, on liberally educated students who have been members of the Department eighteen months, and have complied with the regulations of the Institution, and passed a satisfactory examination. Those not liberally educated, will be graduated upon similar conditions, after two years' membership; and members of the Bar, after one year's membership subsequent to their admission to the Bar.

The Medical Department.

THE Instructors in the Medical Institution, are a Professor of Chemistry and Pharmacy, a Professor of the Theory and Practice of Physic, a Professor of Surgery, a Professor of Obstetrics, a Professor of Anatomy and Physiology, and a Professor of Materia Medica and Therapeutics.

The annual course of lectures commences on the last Thursday of September, and continues sixteen weeks. The lectures are so arranged, that at least five are given daily, and a part of the time six.

A Medical and Surgical Clinique is held every week, during the lecture term, at which a variety of cases is presented, for consultation and operations, in presence of the class.

The fees, which are required in advance, are $12,50 for each course, except that on Obstetrics, which is $6, with a Matriculation fee of $5—the whole amounting to $73,50. The tickets of all the Professors, or a part, may be taken any one season. Those who have attended two full courses of Lectures in this Institution, are entitled to admission to future courses gratis. Those who have attended one full course in this Institution, and also one full course in another incorporated Medical Institution, will be admitted to a full course on paying the Matriculation fee. Board, with room, &c., may be obtained at from $2,25 to $3 per week.

The students are entitled to gratuitous admission to the course of Lectures on Anatomy and Physiology, given to the Senior Class, by Professor KNIGHT, during the spring term in the Academical Institution, and to the courses by Professor SILLIMAN, on Mineralogy, during the spring, and on Geology, during the summer. They also have admission to the various other Lectures in the Academical Institution, on paying the fees of the several courses.

The Medical College building is spacious and commodious. The Anatomical Museum, already one of the most valuable in the country, is annually receiving important additions. The arrangements for Dissections are ample, and subjects are supplied on the most reasonable terms. The Anatomical rooms, the Cabinet of the Materia Medica, the Museum of the Yale Natural History Society, the Cabinet of Minerals, and the Libraries of the Medical and Academical Institutions, are all open to students.

By the Statutes of the State, the requirements for the Degree of Doctor in Medicine are three years' study for those who are not Bachelors of Arts, and two years' for those who are; attendance upon two full courses of Lectures, either in this Institution, or some other of a similar character; the attainment of twenty one years of age, and a good moral character; together with a satisfactory examination before the Board of Examiners for the State, at which the candidate must present a dissertation upon some subject connected with the Medical Sciences, written in a form prescribed by the Faculty. This Board consists of the Medical Professors of the College, ex officiis, and an equal number of persons chosen by the Fellows of the Medical Society of the State. Licenses to practice are granted by the President of the Society, upon the recommendation of the Board of Examiners, and candidates for a license must possess the same qualifications as those for a degree, except that attendance upon one course of Lectures only is required. The graduation fee is $15 —fee for a license, including diploma, $4,50. The examination is held immediately after the close of the Lectures, when the licenses are granted and the degrees conferred.

Department of Philosophy and the Arts.

It has long been felt at Yale College to be important to furnish resident graduates and others, with the opportunity of devoting themselves to special branches of study either not provided for at present, or not pursued as far as individual students may desire. With the hope of accomplishing this object more fully and systematically, the Corporation at their meeting in August, 1846, appointed a Committee to take this subject into consideration, and in accordance with the report of the Committee, at their next meeting in August, 1847, established a new department, called the Department of Philosophy and the Arts. The branches intended to be embraced in this department are such in general as are not included under Theology, Law and Medicine; or more particularly, Mathematical Science, Physical Science and its application to the Arts, Metaphysics, Philology, Literature and History. Instruction in this department may be given by professors not belonging to the other departments, by the Academical professors, and by such others as the President and Fellows may approve. The Instructors for the year, with the President, compose the Faculty of the department. The instructions in the department are intended for graduates of this and other Colleges, and for such other young men as are desirous of pursuing special branches of study; but it is necessary for all students in philology and mathematical science, that they be thoroughly grounded in those studies.

A School of applied Chemistry is embraced within this department, of which a more particular notice may be found below. For the terms of entrance upon the several courses in the department, application may be made to the several instructors.

President WOOLSEY will instruct twice a week in Thucydides or Pindar.

Professor SILLIMAN's lectures on Chemistry, Mineralogy and Geology, will be open to the students of this department.

Professor KINGSLEY will instruct twice a week in such Latin author as may be agreed upon with the student.

Professor GIBBS proposes to give lectures on some points of general Philology.

Professor OLMS TED's lectures on Natural Philosophy and Astronomy will be open to the students of this department. He will also, if desired, give private instruction in Experimental Philosophy, and Astronomical Calculations.

Professor STANLEY proposes to instruct in the Calculus or Analytical Mechanics.

Professor PORTER will instruct in Psychology, Logic and the History of Philosophy.

Professor SILLIMAN, Jr., will instruct in Elementary and Analytical Chemistry, Mineralogy and Metallurgy.

Professor NORTON will instruct in the applications of science to Agriculture and in Analytical Chemistry.

SCHOOL OF APPLIED CHEMISTRY.

Professors SILLIMAN and NORTON, have opened a Laboratory on the College grounds, in connection with their departments, for the purpose of practical instruction in the applications of science to the arts and agriculture. Every facility will be afforded to those who desire to obtain special instruction in general and in analytical Chemistry and Mineralogy.

A course of lectures on the connections of science with Agriculture, by Professor NORTON, will commence in January and continue about two months and a half, at the rate of four lectures in each week.

Mr. Henry Wurtz, the first assistant, proposes to deliver lectures on certain points of Chemistry applied to the arts, during the summer term.

Professor SILLIMAN, Jr., proposes to instruct in Mineralogy and applied Chemistry during the summer term.

A mineralogical cabinet is deposited in the Laboratory for the use of students in this department; they will also have access to the College mineralogical and geological cabinets and to the libraries.

The text-books used will be Dana's Mineralogy, Silliman's Chemistry, Fresenius's Analysis, Will's Outlines, Rose's Chemical Analysis.

The lectures on Chemistry by Professor SILLIMAN, Senior, commence the first week of the first term, and continue through the term. His lectures on Mineralogy are delivered during the second term, and those on Geology commence the first week of the third term and continue six weeks. The lectures of Professor OLMSTED, on Natural Philosophy, commence about the middle of the first term, and continue at the rate of two a week nearly through the year. His lectures on Astronomy and Meteorology, commence at the beginning of the second term, and continue, daily, for about seven weeks.

Academical Department.

T E R M S O F A D M I S S I O N .

CANDIDATES for admission to the Freshman Class, are examined in Cicero's Select Orations, the whole of Virgil, Sallust, Jacobs's, Colton's or Felton's Greek Reader, the first three books of Xenophon's Anabasis, Andrews and Stoddard's or Zumpt's Latin Grammar, Sophocles's, Crosby's or Kühner's Greek Grammar, Arnold's Latin Prose Composition, first XII Chapters, to the Passive voice, Latin Prosody, Thomson's Higher Arithmetic, English Grammar, Geography, and Day's Algebra to Quadratic Equations.*

Candidates for advanced standing, whether from other Colleges or not, in addition to the preparatory studies, are examined in those previously pursued by the classes which they propose to enter. No one can be admitted into the Senior Class, after the close of the January vacation.

The regular examination for admission into College, commences on the Monday preceding the public Commencement; but persons may be examined for an advanced standing in any other part of the collegiate terms. It is requested that they may not be offered in the vacations, except for very special reasons.

* The deficiency of most candidates for admission, in the Latin and Greek Grammars, Latin Prosody and Composition, Geography, and the theoretical part of Arithmetic, makes it necessary to remark, that the examination in these subjects will be strict and comprehensive.

No one can be admitted to the Freshman Class, till he has completed his fourteenth year, nor to an advanced standing without a proportional increase of age.

Testimonials of good moral character are in all cases required ; and those who are admitted from other Colleges must produce certificates of dismission in good standing. The students are not considered as regular members of the College, till, after a residence of at least six months, they have been admitted to matriculation, on satisfactory evidence of an unblemished moral character. Before this they are only students on probation. The laws of the College provide for the final separation from the institution of those, who, within a specified time, do not so far approve themselves to the Faculty as to be admitted to matriculation.

COURSE OF INSTRUCTION.

THE Faculty, to whom are committed the government and instruction of the undergraduate students, consists of a President ; a Professor of Chemistry, Mineralogy, and Geology ; a Professor of Divinity ; a Professor of Natural Philosophy and Astronomy ; a Professor of Rhetoric and English Literature ; a Professor of Mathematics ; a Professor of Moral Philosophy and Metaphysics ; a Professor of the Latin Language and Literature ; a Professor of the Greek Language and Literature ; and eight Tutors.

The whole course of instruction occupies four years. In each year there are three terms or sessions.

The three younger classes are divided each into three parts ; the Senior Class into two parts. Each of the four classes attends three recitations or lectures in a day ; except on Wednesdays and Saturdays, when they have only two. The following scheme gives a general view of the studies pursued in each term :—

FRESHMAN CLASS.

- I. { Lincoln's Livy, begun.
Roman Antiquities.
Day's Algebra.
Homer's Iliad, begun.
Livy, continued.
II. { Homer's Iliad, continued through six books.
Playfair's Euclid, four books.
Horace, begun.
III. { Herodotus, begun.
Euclid, finished.

SOPHOMORE CLASS.

- I. { Horace, continued.
Herodotus, continued; Xenophon's Memorabilia, two books.
Day's Mathematics; Nature and Use of Logarithms, Plane Trigonometry, and Mensuration of Superficies and Solids.
Loomis's Analytical Geometry.
Horace, finished; Cicero de Amicitia and de Senectute.
The Alcestis of Euripides.
II. { Day's Mathematics; Isoperimetry, Mensuration of Heights and Distances, and Navigation.
Loomis's Differential and Integral Calculus.
The Prometheus of Aeschylus.
Cicero de Oratore, begun.
III. { Day's Mathematics; Surveying.
Differential and Integral Calculus.
Stanley's Spherical Geometry and Trigonometry.
Whately's Rhetoric, with the exception of Part IV, on Elocution.

JUNIOR CLASS.

- I. { Cicero de Oratore, continued; Tacitus, Manners of the Germans, and Agricola; the Hercules Furens of Seneca.
The Antigone of Sophocles; Plato's Gorgias, begun.
Olmsted's Natural Philosophy; Mechanics, Hydrostatics, Hydraulics.
Tacitus, continued; the History.
II. { Plato's Gorgias, finished.
Natural Philosophy; Pneumatics, Acoustics, Electricity, Magnetism.
Natural Philosophy; Optics.
Olmsted's Astronomy, to the Planets.
III. { Whately's Logic.
Ancient History.
Practical Surveying;
Select Greek; Hebrew; or Modern Languages; } At the option of the student.

SENIOR CLASS.

- I. { Astronomy, finished.
Modern History.
Reid's Essays, (Walker's edition.)
Cousin's Psychology.
Oration of Demosthenes on the Crown.
Blair's Rhetoric.
Moral Philosophy.
Political Philosophy and Law of Nations.
II. { Paley's Natural Theology.
Select Latin or Greek; Modern Languages; Practical } At the option of the student.
Astronomy;
Political Economy, Wayland's.
III. { Evidences of Christianity.

Changes in the Greek and Latin authors recited are sometimes introduced in the latter part of the course ; but these changes do not affect the amount of Greek and Latin required of those who apply for admission to an advanced standing.

The Kent Professor of Law gives instruction to the Senior Class during the third term.

A short course of Anatomy and Physiology, consisting of about twenty lectures, illustrated by natural and artificial preparations, is given to the Senior Class in the second term.

In addition to the recitations in the books here specified, the classes receive lectures and instruction from the Professors of the Greek and Latin languages ; the Junior Class attends a course of experimental lectures on Natural Philosophy ; and the Senior Class, courses of lectures on Chemistry, Mineralogy, Geology, Meteorology, Astronomy and History.

The lectures of Professor SILLIMAN on Chemistry, are given during the first term ; those on Mineralogy during the first or second term, and those on Geology during the third term. The lectures of Professor OLMSTED, on Experimental Philosophy, addressed to the Junior Class, commence the third Tuesday of November, and are continued nearly at the rate of two a week, during the remainder of the College year. His lectures on Meteorology and Astronomy to the Senior Class, commence with the second term, and are continued daily to near the middle of the term, when those of Professor KNIGHT on Anatomy begin, and occupy the remainder of the term.

In the department of Elocution, the Freshman Class, in several divisions, have during the year recitations and exercises upon the elementary principles of the science, conducted by the Teacher of Elocution ; and the Sophomore and Junior Classes, frequent private exercises, preparatory to public declamation in the Chapel before the Professor of Rhetoric and the members of the class.

The members of the several classes attend also the private exercises and lectures of the Professor of Rhetoric. A course of lectures is delivered to the Senior Class, on the Oration of Demosthenes on the Crown. The Senior Class have exercises twice a week in English composition; the Senior and Junior classes twice a week in forensic disputation; the Sophomore Class once a week in English composition; the Freshman Class once a week in written translation from the Latin. The Junior, Sophomore and Freshman Classes are also instructed in Latin composition.

Students, who desire instruction in the modern languages, may receive it, at their own expense, from competent teachers, engaged for the purpose by the Faculty.

The object of the system of instruction to the undergraduates in the College, is not to give a partial education, consisting of a few branches only; nor on the other hand, to give a superficial education, containing a little of almost every thing; nor to finish the details of either a professional or a practical education; but to commence a thorough course, and to carry it as far as the time of the student's residence here will allow. It is intended to maintain such a proportion between the different branches of literature and science, as to form a proper symmetry and balance of character. In laying the foundation of a thorough education, it is necessary that all the important faculties be brought into exercise. When certain mental endowments receive a much higher culture than others, there is a distortion in the intellectual character. The powers of the mind are not developed in their fairest proportions by studying languages alone, or mathematics alone, or natural or political science alone. The object, in the proper collegiate department, is not to teach that which is peculiar to any one of the professions; but to lay the foundation which is common to them all. There are separate schools of Theology, Law and Medicine, connected with the College, as well as in various parts of the country, which are open to all who are prepared to enter on professional studies. With these the undergraduate course is not intended to interfere. It contains those subjects only which ought to be understood by every one who aims at a thorough education. The principles of science and literature are the common foundation of all high intellectual attainments. They give that furniture, and discipline, and elevation to the mind, which are the best preparation for the study of a profession, or of the operations which are peculiar to the higher mercantile, manufacturing, or agricultural establishments.

For a more particular view of the plan of education in the College, see Reports on the Course of Instruction, published in Vol. XV, of the American Journal of Science.

Public examinations of the classes are held at the close of each term on the studies of the term; and twice in the College course, at the close of the Sophomore and Senior years, on the studies of the two preceding years.

The public Commencement is held on the last Thursday in July of each year. The first term begins seven weeks from the day before Commencement and continues fourteen weeks; the second begins on the first Wednesday in January and continues fourteen weeks; the third, of twelve weeks, begins on the first Wednesday in May and continues till Commencement. The intervening periods of seven, two, and three, or as the case may be, four weeks, are assigned for vacations.

No student is allowed to be absent, without special leave, except in vacations. The absence of a student in term time, even for a few days, occasions a much greater injury than is commonly supposed by parents or guardians. During the vacations, on the contrary, parents are earnestly advised not to allow their sons to remain at the College.

P U B L I C W O R S H I P .

Prayers are attended in the College Chapel every morning and evening, with the reading of the Scriptures; when one of the Faculty officiates, and all the students are required to be present. They are also required to attend public worship in the Chapel on the Sabbath, except such as have permission to attend the worship of other denominations in town, to which their parents belong.

EXPENSES.

The College bills are made out by the Treasurer three times a year, at the close of each term; and are delivered to the students, who are required to present them to their parents, guardians, or patrons. The bills are payable at the close of the term, and if not paid by the expiration of one week after the commencement of the succeeding term, the student is liable to be prohibited from reciting.

The annual charges in the Treasurer's bill are,

| | | |
|--|-----------|---------|
| For tuition, | - - - - - | $33 00 |
| For rent of half chamber in College, 7½ to 16½ | | |
| dollars—average, | - - - - - | 12 00 |
| For ordinary repairs and contingencies, | - | 2 40 |
| For general damages, sweeping, &c. about | | 3 60 |
| For expenses of recitation rooms, | - - - | 3 00 |
| | | $54 00 |

Besides this, the student pays for damages done by himself, for tuition in optional studies during part of Junior and Senior years, and a few additional charges on graduating.

Any person admitted to an advanced standing, unless coming from another College, pays a sum to the Treasurer, equal to half the tuition money, which has been paid by others of the class which he enters.

Notes of the several incorporated banks in this State, and such other notes as are taken by the banks in the city of New Haven, are received in payment of the bills. Drafts on Boston, New York or Philadelphia, may be transmitted direct to the Treasurer.

Board is obtained at prices varying from $1 60 to $3 00. To a majority of the students the cost of board is not above $2 00 a week. Fuel is procured by the Corporation and distributed to those students who apply for it, at cost and charges, and must be paid for at the time of ordering.

No students are permitted to take lodgings in town, except when the rooms in College are not sufficient to accommodate all.

The students provide for themselves bed and bedding, furniture for their rooms, lights, books, stationery and washing. There are also, in the several classes and literary societies, taxes of a small amount. If books and furniture are sold, when the student has no further necessity for them, the expenses incurred by their use will not be great.

The following may be considered as a near estimate of the necessary expenses, without including apparel, pocket money, traveling, and board in vacations :

| | | | | |
|---------------------------------------|---|-------|------------|----------------|
| Treasurer's bill as above, | - | - | $54 | $54 |
| Board, 40 weeks, | - | - | from 64 to | 100 |
| Fuel and lights, | - | - | " 6 " | 15 |
| Use of books recited, and stationery, | | " 5 " | 15 | |
| Use of furniture, bed and bedding, | | " 5 " | 15 | |
| Washing, | - | - | " 10 " | 18 |
| Taxes in the Societies, &c. | - | - | " 6 " | 8 |
| | | | Total, | $150 to $225 |

Students who occupy the recitation rooms, save their room rent and fuel in winter, and receive a small compensation in summer. Cheap board may be obtained in clubs, by those students who wish board at a lower rate than is common in boarding houses.

Indigent students are supplied with most of the text-books, without expense, from the Benevolent and Education Libraries.

A sum somewhat exceeding two thousand dollars, derived chiefly from permanent charitable funds, is annually applied by the Corporation for the relief of indigent students, who to the number of about one hundred have their tuition either wholly or in part remitted.

With regard to apparel, and what is called pocket money, no general estimate can be made. These are the articles in which the expenses of individuals differ most ; and in which some are unwarrantably extravagant. There is nothing by which the character and scholarship of the students in this College are more endangered, than by a free indulgence in the use of money. Great caution with regard to this is requisite on the part of parents. What is more than sufficient to defray the ordinary expenses, will expose the student to numerous temptations; and will not contribute either to his respectability or happiness.

As a precaution against extravagance, parents at a distance frequently deposit funds with some one of the Faculty; who, in that case, pays a particular attention to the pecuniary concerns of the student, settles his bills, corresponds with the parent, transmits an account of the expenditures, &c., for which he charges a commission.

SCHOLARSHIPS AND PREMIUMS.

THE Berkeley Scholarship, yielding about forty-six dollars a year, is awarded to the student in each Senior Class, who passes the best examination in the Greek Testament, Xenophon's Cyropaedia, and Homer's Iliad, Cicero's Tusculan Questions, Tacitus (except the Annals,) and Horace; provided he remains in New Haven as a graduate one, two or three years.

The Clark Scholarship, yielding a hundred and twenty dollars a year, is awarded to the student in each Senior Class, who passes the best examination on the studies of the College course; provided he remains in New Haven as a graduate one or two years, pursuing a course of study (not professional) under the direction of the Faculty.

The Bristed Scholarship, yielding about eighty dollars a year, is awarded to the student in the Sophomore or Junior Class, whenever there may be a vacancy, who passes the best examination in the Greek and Latin classics and the mathematics. The successful candidate receives the annuity, (forfeiting one-third in case of non-residence in New Haven,) until he would regularly take his second degree.

A Scholarship, yielding sixty dollars a year, is awarded to the student in each Freshman Class, who passes the best examination in Latin composition (excellence in which is essential to success), in the Greek of the year, and in the solution of algebraic problems. The successful candidate enjoys the annuity under certain conditions during the four years of his College course.

The Townsend Premiums, five in number, each of twelve dollars, are awarded in the Senior Class for the best specimens of English composition.

In the other classes premiums are also given for Latin and English composition, for translations from the Classics, and for solutions of mathematical problems.

Theological Department.

THE Instructors in this Department are a Professor of Didactic Theology, a Professor of Sacred Literature, the Professor of Divinity in the College, and a Professor of the Pastoral Charge.

The time of admission is at the beginning of the collegiate year. It is desirable that those who join this Department should be present at the commencement of the first term. Those admitted to an advanced standing will be expected to have previously gone over the studies pursued by their respective classes.

The conditions for entrance are hopeful piety, and a liberal education at some College, or such other literary acquisition as may be considered an equivalent preparation for theological studies.

The terms and vacations are the same with those in the College.

The regular course of instruction occupies three years, and comprises the following subjects:

JUNIOR CLASS.—Hebrew Grammar, (Roediger's Gesenius, translated by Conant,) Conant's Hebrew Exercises and Chrestomathy, Principles of Sacred Criticism and Hermeneutics, Critical and Exegetical study of the Hebrew and Greek Scriptures, Critical and Exegetical Dissertations, Lectures by the Professor of Sacred Literature on some topics in Introduction to Theology, and in Exegetical Theology, Lectures by the Professor of Didactic Theology on Mental Philosophy including the Will.

MIDDLE CLASS.—Lectures by the Professor of Didactic Theology, on Moral Philosophy, Moral Government, Natural Theology, Necessity and Evidences of Revelation, and Systematic Theology. Exegetical study of the Scriptures and Dissertations continued.

SENIOR CLASS.—Lectures on the Structure and Composition of Sermons, and on Public Prayer. Criticism of Skeletons and of Sermons, Exercises in Extemporaneous Speaking and Preaching before the Class, Lectures on the Pastoral Charge, on Revivals of Religion, on the History of Modern Missions, and on Expository Preaching, Lectures on Elocution attended by Practice in the Delivery of Sermons.

There are weekly Debates in the Rhetorical Society, at which the Professor of Didactic Theology presides and in which the members of all the Classes participate.

The students have access to the College Library, and to the libraries of the several literary Societies in the College.

A building has been erected for the accommodation of students in which the rooms are free of rent; but each occupant is subject to a charge of $3,50 a year for incidental expenses. No other charges are made to the students.

No funds have as yet been granted to this department for defraying the expenses of indigent students. In addition to the usual aid which may be derived from the American Education Society, there is an Association in this city whose object it is to assist those who are here preparing for the Ministry.

Law Department.

THIS Department is under the direction of a Faculty, consisting of the President of the College, and two Law Professors, to wit, Hon. CLARK BISSELL, LL. D., late Judge of the Supreme Court of the State; and Hon. HENRY DUTTON, late Judge of the New Haven County Court.

COURSE OF INSTRUCTION.

The students are required to peruse the most important elementary treatises, and are daily examined on the author they are reading, and receive at the same time explanations and illustrations of the subjects they are studying.

The School is divided into three reading classes. Each class is daily employed upon a lesson in the Class Book, and is separately examined, and every student can read in one or more of the three classes, as he finds himself able and inclined to perform the requisite labor.

Courses of Lectures are delivered by the Instructors, on all the titles and subjects of Common and Statute Law, and of Equity.

Three exercises, consisting of Lectures or Examinations of one hour each, are daily given by the Instructors, and at all of them each of the pupils is permitted to attend.

A moot court is held once a week or oftener, which employs the students in drawing pleadings, and investigating and arguing questions of law.

The students are called upon, from time to time, to draw declarations, pleadings, contracts, and other instruments connected with the practice of law, and to do the most important duties of an attorney's clerk.

They are occasionally required to write disquisitions on some topic of law, and collect the authorities to support their opinions.

The more advanced students are assisted in the study of the laws of the particular States in which they intend to establish themselves.

The following are some of the principal studies of the course : Blackstone's Commentaries ; Real Estate ; Personal Property ; Contracts ; Domestic Relations ; Parties to Actions ; Forms of Actions ; Pleading ; Evidence ; Nisi Prius ; Bills of Exchange and Promissory Notes ; Insurance ; Shipping ; Corporations ; Criminal Law ; Equity ; Constitution of the United States ; Law of Nations Conflict of Laws.

The students are furnished with the use of the elementary books, and have access, at all times, to the College libraries, and to a law library, comprising every important work, both ancient and modern. The law library contains the Revised Statutes, the Reports and the Digests of all the States in the Union.

The course of study occupies two years, allowing eight weeks vacation each year. The months of May and September are now allotted for vacations; but by an arrangement made the present year, the vacations in this Department will hereafter coincide with the Spring and Summer vacations in the Academical Department. There is also a recess of about two weeks near the first of January in each year.

The terms for tuition, with constant use of text-books, and ordinary use of the library, are as follows, payable in advance, unless for satisfactory reasons. For the whole course of two years, one hundred and fifty dollars. For one year, eighty dollars. For less than one year, ten dollars a month. For more than one year and less than two years, seven dollars a month after the first year.

The degree of Bachelor of Laws will be conferred by the President and Fellows, on liberally educated students who have been members of the Department eighteen months, and have complied with the regulations of the Institution, and passed a satisfactory examination. Those not liberally educated, will be graduated upon similar conditions, after two years' membership; and members of the Bar, after one year's membership subsequent to their admission to the Bar.

Medical Department.

THE Instructors in the Medical Institution, are a Professor of Chemistry and Pharmacy, a Professor of the Theory and Practice of Physic, a Professor of Surgery, a Professor of Obstetrics, a Professor of Anatomy and Physiology, and a Professor of Materia Medica and Therapeutics.

The annual course of lectures commences on the last Thursday of September, and continues sixteen weeks. The lectures are so arranged, that at least five are given daily, and a part of the time six.

A Medical and Surgical Clinique is held every week, during the lecture term, at which a variety of cases is presented, for consultation and operations, in presence of the class.

The fees, which are required in advance, are $12,50 for each course, except that on Obstetrics, which is $6, with a Matriculation fee of $5—the whole amounting to $73,50. The tickets of all the Professors, or a part, may be taken any one season. Those who have attended two full courses of Lectures in this Institution, are entitled to admission to future courses gratis. Those who have attended one full course in this Institution, and also one full course in another incorporated Medical Institution, will be admitted to a full course on paying the Matriculation fee. Board, with room, &c., may be obtained at from $2,25 to $3 per week.

The students are entitled to gratuitous admission to the course of Lectures on Anatomy and Physiology, given to the Senior Class, by Professor KNIGHT, during the spring term in the Academical Institution, and to the courses by Professor SILLIMAN, on Mineralogy, during the spring, and on Geology, during the summer. They also have admission to the various other Lectures in the Academical Institution, on paying the fees of the several courses.

The Medical College building is spacious and commodious. The Anatomical Museum, already one of the most valuable in the country, is annually receiving important additions. The arrangements for Dissections are ample, and subjects are supplied on the most reasonable terms. The Anatomical rooms, the Cabinet of the Materia Medica, the Museum of the Yale Natural History Society, the Cabinet of Minerals, and the Libraries of the Medical and Academical Institutions, are all open to students.

By the Statutes of the State, the requirements for the Degree of Doctor in Medicine are three years' study for those who are not Bachelors of Arts, and two years' for those who are; attendance upon two full courses of Lectures, either in this Institution, or some other of a similar character; the attainment of twenty one years of age, and a good moral character; together with a satisfactory examination before the Board of Examiners for the State, at which the candidate must present a dissertation upon some subject connected with the Medical Sciences, written in a form prescribed by the Faculty. This Board consists of the Medical Professors of the College, ex officiis, and an equal number of persons chosen by the Fellows of the Medical Society of the State. Licenses to practice are granted by the President of the Society, upon the recommendation of the Board of Examiners, and candidates for a license must possess the same qualifications as those for a degree, except that attendance upon one course of Lectures only is required. The graduation fee is $15 —fee for a license, including diploma, $4.50. The examination is held immediately after the close of the Lectures, when the licenses are granted and the degrees conferred.

Department of Philosophy and the Arts.

It has long been felt at Yale College to be important to furnish resident graduates and others, with the opportunity of devoting themselves to special branches of study either not provided for at present, or not pursued as far as individual students may desire. With the hope of accomplishing this object more fully and systematically, the Corporation at their meeting in August, 1846, appointed a Committee to take this subject into consideration, and in accordance with the report of the Committee, at their next meeting in August, 1847, established a new department, called the Department of Philosophy and the Arts. The branches intended to be embraced in this department are such in general as are not included under Theology, Law and Medicine; or more particularly, Mathematical Science, Physical Science and its application to the Arts, Metaphysics, Philology, Literature and History. Instruction in this department may be given by professors not belonging to the other departments, by the Academical professors, and by such others as the President and Fellows may approve. The Instructors for the year, with the President, compose the Faculty of the department. The instructions in the department are intended for graduates of this and other Colleges, and for such other young men as are desirous of pursuing special branches of study; but it is necessary for all students in philology and mathematical science, that they be thoroughly grounded in those studies.

A School of applied Chemistry is embraced within this department, of which a more particular notice may be found below. For the terms of entrance upon the several courses in the department, application may be made to the several instructors.

Professor SILLIMAN's lectures on Chemistry, Mineralogy and Geology, will be open to the students of this department.

Professor GIBBS proposes to give lectures on some points of general Philology.

Professor OLMSTED's lectures on Natural Philosophy and Astronomy will be open to the students of this department. He will also, if desired, give private instruction in Experimental Philosophy, and Astronomical Calculations.

Professor STANLEY proposes to instruct in the Calculus or Analytical Mechanics.

Professor PORTER will instruct in Psychology, Logic and the History of Philosophy.

Professor THACHER will instruct twice a week in the Georgics of Virgil, should a class be formed.

Professor SILLIMAN, Jr., will instruct in Elementary and Analytical Chemistry, Mineralogy and Metallurgy.

Professor HADLEY will instruct twice a week in Thucydides or Pindar.

SCHOOL OF APPLIED CHEMISTRY.

Professors SILLIMAN and NORTON, have opened a Laboratory on the College grounds, in connection with their departments, for the purpose of practical instruction in the applications of science to the arts and agriculture. Every facility will be afforded to those who desire to obtain special instruction in general and in analytical Chemistry and Mineralogy.

A course of lectures on the connections of science with Agriculture, by Professor NORTON, will commence in January and continue about two months and a half, at the rate of three lectures in each week.

Mr. WILLIAM J. CRAW is the first assistant, and is aided by a sufficient number of others to attend to all the wants of the students.

Professor SILLIMAN, Jr., proposes to instruct in Mineralogy and applied Chemistry during the summer term.

A mineralogical cabinet is deposited in the Laboratory for the use of students in this department; they will also have access to the College mineralogical and geological cabinets and to the libraries.

The text-books used will be Dana's Mineralogy, Silliman's Chemistry, Fresenius's Analysis, Will's Outlines, Rose's Chemical Analysis.

The lectures on Chemistry by Professor SILLIMAN, Senior, commence the first week of the first term, and continue through the term. His lectures on Mineralogy are delivered during the first or second term, and those on Geology commence the first week of the third term and continue six weeks. The lectures of Professor OLMSTED, on Natural Philosophy, commence the third Tuesday of November, and continue at the rate of two a week nearly through the year. His lectures on Astronomy and Meteorology, commence at the beginning of the second term, and continue, daily, for about seven weeks.

Students who enter this Department may hereafter have in view a degree to be given when they have completed a certain course of study.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION.

CANDIDATES for the Classical Course, must be well acquainted with the rudiments of English Grammar, Geography, Arithmetic, Davies' First Lessons in Algebra, McClintock's First Book in Latin, or Andrews and Stoddard's Latin Grammar, Eight Books of Virgil's Aeneid, Anthon's Cicero, Cæsar's Commentaries, or Sallust; Kuhner's Elementary Greek Grammar, and the Greek Reader, or McClintock's First and Second Books in Greek.

Those who wish to take only the Literary and Scientific Course, must be acquainted with the preceding branches, except the Latin and Greek.

Candidates for admission must be at least fourteen years of age.

Candidates for advanced standing, will be required to pass an examination in the studies which have been pursued by the class they desire to enter—or in others equivalent to them.—They will also be charged an initiation fee, from four to twelve dollars, according to their different degrees of advancement, unless such standing shall have been obtained at another College. No Candidate can be admitted later than at the beginning of the Senior year.

In all cases, satisfactory testimonials of a good moral character must be presented; and where a candidate has been a member of another College, a Certificate of regular dismissal will also be required.

N. B.—It is specially important, that the Candidates be well versed in Arithmetic on the inductive system; as also in the Algebra required.

CLASSIFICATION.

THE Studies pursued at the University, are divided into Departments, with a Professor at the head of each.

- I. MATHEMATICS AND ASTRONOMY.
- II. MORAL SCIENCE AND BELLES-LETTRES.
- III. NATURAL SCIENCE.
- IV. GREEK LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE.
- V. LATIN AND HEBREW LANGUAGES.
- VI. LAW.

Provision has been made by the Joint Board for instruction in the Modern Languages, for which, however, a separate charge will be made. Students are allowed to substitute French or German during the third term of the Sophomore and Junior, and Hebrew the first and second terms of the Senior year, for studies in the regular course. But no Student will be allowed to put himself under the tuition of one who is not a member of the Board of Instruction, without special permission.

Any Student may take a partial, or an entire course, as may suit his circumstances; and when any one shall have accomplished the entire English and Scientific Course, he shall receive a degree of Bachelor of Science and English Literature. But no one will be admitted to the Collegiate Degree of Bachelor of Arts, unless he pass a thorough and satisfactory examination in the entire classical course. Whenever he does this, he will be entitled to his degree, without regard to the time he may have been in the University.

The occupants of each room are made strictly accountable for any damage done to their room.

Pocket money, society fees, &c., will vary according to the habits and circumstances of the student. Parents and guardians are earnestly advised, that young men at college have very little need of pocket money ; and, in general, it would be much the safest for the student, cheapest for the parent or guardian, and altogether best for the University, to commit the funds of the student to the President, or one of the Professors, who will attend to their wants, and discharge their bills, for which a small commission will be charged.

P A Y M E N T S .

The College bills are payable at the close of the term, and must be regularly paid, or satisfactorily secured for each preceding term, before the student can be admitted to the instruction of the following term.

No student can be received for less than one term, and all will be held responsible for their tuition fees, whether present or absent, until regularly discharged from the University.

No student can have an honorable dismission, or a certificate of his progress in his collegiate studies, until his bills are paid or secured.

The safest way of making remittances, from a distance, will be in drafts, payable to order in New York or Boston.

For the information of those who have subscribed Scholarships, it should be stated, that no Clergyman's Scholarship is available until paid.

G E N E R A L I N F O R M A T I O N .

Parents and Guardians are informed, that daily bills are kept of the merit and demerit, of each student—the former denoting the excellencies of each, in his recitation, and other College exercises—the latter, the deficiencies and delinquencies of each in his respective duties. The President will furnish an exhibition of these records in any particular case, when requested by the Student or his friends; and in all cases where private and public admonition have been given without effect, a statement of the bill of demerit will be forwarded to the friends of such delinquent scholar. This will be the last step of discipline, preceding the final one of suspension or dismission. The discipline of the Institution is eminently moral and paternal; but no student guilty of gaming, drinking intoxicating liquors, or other vices, or who is habitually absent from his room, or disorderly, can be allowed to remain.

The time appropriated to vacations, is believed to be ample for the purpose of relaxation from study, and in view of the unfavorable effect of all absences, either at the commencement, or any other period of the term, upon the standing and proficiency of the student, the Faculty earnestly request that parents and guardians will, in no way, encourage or even sanction such absences, without very urgent reasons.

The Philosophical and Astronomical Apparatus was procured at an expense of about $7,000. Among the instruments are a fine Telescope, with a six inch object glass—a plate Electrical Machine, with two plates of thirty-six inches in diameter—a splendid Altitude and Azimuth Instrument, so constructed as to be used also for meridian transits—an Astronomical Clock—Russell's Magnificent Planetarium—and various others of the latest and most approved construction. The entire apparatus is believed to be as complete and useful, for the purpose of instruction, as any in the country.

The Chemical Department is accommodated with a very convenient Laboratory and Lecture Room, and is well supplied with the necessary Apparatus and Chemical tests for experiments.

The College and Society Libraries amount, in the aggregate, to about 12,000 volumes.

ADMISSION, INSTRUCTION, ETC.

STUDIES PREPARATORY TO THE FRESHMAN CLASS.

English Grammar, Geography and Arithmetic, Algebra, through Simple Equations.

Latin Grammar and Prosody, Virgil, Sallust or Cæsar entire, Cicero's Select Orations.

Greek Grammar and Prosody. Jacob's, Colton's or Felton's Greek Reader entire. The Gospels of St. Luke and St. John, and Acts of the Apostles.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class, must sustain a thorough examination in the above studies.

They must be able to translate with facility, any part of the required authors, or others which shall be deemed equivalent, and an intimate knowledge of the principles of Grammar and prosody, will be strictly required.*

Candidates for an advanced standing, must sustain a further examination on those studies which have been read by the class they propose to enter.

No student can be admitted to the Freshman Class before he has completed his fifteenth year.

All candidates for admission must present satisfactory testimonials of good moral character; and those who are from other Colleges must produce certificates of dismission, in good standing.

* The Grammars used in College are Adams' Latin Grammar, and Sophocles' Greek Grammar.

| THIRD TERM. | Kames' Elements of Criticism. Lectures on Chemistry and Meteorology. Greek, together with Hebrew or Latin. |

During the Senior year, Lectures are delivered on the application of Science to the Arts; on Anatomy, Physiology, Natural History and the general principles of Law. Much attention is also given to English Literature, with frequent exercises in Composition and Declamation.

Instruction in Modern Languages will be at the expense of the student.

The instruction given in the preceding course of studies, is designed to be such as will promote habits of patient and accurate investigation. For this purpose, in the study of the ancient languages, particular attention is paid to their grammatical construction, to the composition and derivation of words; and the translations, especially towards the beginning of the course, are required to be as literal as the idiom of our language will permit. As the student advances, more freedom of translation is permitted, though in no case is he allowed to deviate from the exact meaning of his author, which he is required to express with clearness, precision and elegance.

In Mathematics, and the English studies generally, the most approved text books are used, and the student required to give an accurate analysis of the reasoning of his author. After the recitation is completed, remarks are made by the instructor on the principles recited, and their practical application shown by familiar illustrations. Lectures are also read on subjects connected with the main branches of study.

For the accommodation of those students who wish to attend to a portion only of the studies laid down in the regular course, the following provision has been made in the College Statutes.

Students who do not propose to attend the whole course, may be permitted to recite with the regular classes, in such studies as, upon examination, they shall be found qualified to pursue. They shall enjoy all the privileges of the regular students, and shall be entitled to a certificate from the President, stating the time they were members of the College, and the studies pursued during the time.*

GOVERNMENT AND DISCIPLINE.

The Government is administered by the President and Professors. It is designed to be mild and paternal—appealing to the better feelings of the heart, and aiming to prevent, rather than punish misconduct. Punishments involving public disgrace, are resorted to with reluctance. If a student does not conduct himself to the satisfaction of the Faculty, his parent or guardian will be promptly informed of it, and if it is judged necessary, requested to remove him from the Institution. In cases where despatch is important, the delinquent will be privately dismissed.

An accurate daily account of the delinquencies of every student, and also of his proficiency in his studies, is kept; an abstract of which is transmitted to his parent or guardian at the close of each term.

PUBLIC WORSHIP.

Prayers are attended every morning and evening in the College Chapel, with reading of the Scriptures, when all the students are required to be present. They are also required to attend public worship on the Lord's day, either in the Chapel, or at such places as their parents or guardians may desire.

* The partial course is intended for students who are designed for pursuits in which a knowledge of the classics is less important than in the learned professions. Care has been taken so to arrange the studies, that a student who enters this course with a knowledge of Plane Geometry and Algebra, equal to that acquired by the students of the regular course during the Freshman year, may complete, in two years, the whole Mathematical and English course : comprising Geometry, Algebra, Trigonometry and its applications to mensuration, navigation and surveying ; Analytic Geometry, Natural Philosophy, Optics, Astronomy, Rhetoric, Elements of Criticism, Chemistry, Political Economy, Moral and Intellectual Philosophy, Logic, Butler's Analogy of Natural and Revealed Religion, and Kent's Commentaries on the Law of Nations, and the Constitution and Judiciary of the United States.

Should the student be unable to devote more than one year to study, he could, in that time, make himself acquainted with the following studies: Rhetoric, Chemistry, Elements of Criticism, Political Economy, Logic, Moral and Intellectual Philosophy, Kent's Commentaries, or Butler's Analogy ; and also attend the Lectures delivered to the Senior class.

EX P E N S E S .

For tuition, $11 per term; for room rent, $3,50 per term; for the use of the Library, $1 per term; for sweeping rooms, ringing the bell, fuel for recitation rooms, and printing, $2 per term; all payable in advance. Besides the above, there will be occasional assessments for damages, extra printing, or other common expenses.

Students admitted to an advanced standing, unless from other Colleges, are required to pay $10 for each year of such advancement; and for a shorter time than one year, in proportion.

The students reside in the College, and provide for themselves bed and bedding, furniture for their rooms, fire-wood, candles, stationery and washing. Books and furniture may be sold, when the student has no further use for them, at a moderate reduction from the original cost.

No Commons are established, as it is preferred that the students should board in private families, in the neighborhood of the College. The price of board must necessarily depend upon the price of provisions. Good board can now be procured for from $1,50 to $2 per week.

By a regulation of the Trustees, the tuition is remitted to Beneficiaries of the Church Scholarship Society, and to such other necessitous students as design to enter the ministry. The necessary College expenses of such, exclusive of personal expenses, for clothing, fuel, furniture, &c., are as follows:

|---|---------------------------|
| Board from | $60,00 to $80 per year. |
| Room rent, | 10,50 " |
| Use of Library, | 3,00 " |
| Attendance, Printing, &c., | 6,00 " |
| Assessment for public damage, &c., 4,50 | " |
| <hr/> Total, | $84,00 |

To prevent extravagant or improper expenditures, all funds designed for the use of students are placed in the hands of the College Bursar, who superintends their expenses with a parental discretion. The present Bursar is DUNCAN L. STEWART, A. M., Professor of Ancient Languages.

E X A M I N A T I O N S .

At the close of each term, all the classes are examined on the studies pursued during the term, in the presence of the Board of Fellows, and such other literary gentlemen as may choose to attend.

D E G R E E S .

All Academical degrees are conferred by the President upon the recommendation of the Faculty and Board of Fellows, with the consent of the Board of Trustees.

Such members of the Senior class as shall have sustained all their examinations, may be recommended by the Faculty and Board of Fellows to the Trustees, as candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

Every Bachelor of Arts, in or after the third year from the date of his first degree, if he shall have sustained a fair character, and shall perform such exercises as shall be assigned to him for commencement, may be a candidate for the degree of Master of Arts.*

Every candidate for a degree, must pay to the President a fee of five dollars, and every candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Arts must also present to him certificates of the payment of all his College dues. Persons who have received a degree in any other College or University, may, on application to the Convocation, be admitted ad eundem, upon paying the customary fee. Honorary degrees shall be free from all charge.

* Application for the degree of Master of Arts in course, should be made to the President the week before commencement.

C O M M E N C E M E N T .

The annual Commencement is on the first Thursday in August.

V A C A T I O N S .

1. Seven weeks from Commencement.
2. Two weeks from the Thursday before the 25th of December.
3. Four weeks from the Thursday before the 12th of April.

STATUTES

ADOPTED BY THE TRUSTEES OF

TRINITY COLLEGE,

HARTFORD,

AT THEIR ANNUAL MEETING AUGUST 6, 1845.

I.

OF THE FELLOWS.

Whereas by the charter of Trinity College, Hartford, the Trustees are empowered "to elect from their own number or otherwise, a Board or Committee, to be called the Fellows of the College, to whom they may commit the superintendence of the course of study and discipline"; and whereas it is the opinion of the Trustees that the establishment of such a Board at this time may materially promote the literary interests of the College; it is therefore hereby declared and enacted, on this 6th day of August, 1845, that "the superintendence of the course of study and discipline" shall hereafter be committed to a Board of Fellows, to be elected by the Board of Trustees, under the following regulations:

1. The Board shall consist of twelve members, besides the President; six of whom shall be designated simply as Fellows, and six as Junior Fellows.
2. The Fellows shall be elected by ballot at a meeting of the Trustees at which a majority shall be present; and a majority of the votes of the Trustees present shall be requisite to an election. The Junior Fellows shall be nominated by the Convocation at a meeting at which not less than forty members shall be present, the choice being by ballot, and the person nominated receiving a majority of the votes. On the nomination of a Junior Fellow to the Trustees, they shall proceed to elect or reject the person nominated, by a viva voce vote. No person shall be nominated who is not a member of the Convocation and a Master of Arts; except that if hereafter any Fellowship should be endowed, a Bachelor of Arts may be eligible to such Fellowship.

3. The Fellows, of both classes, shall continue in office for the period of three years, two of each class retiring at the close of each year, unless re-elected; and of those who shall first be appointed, the two first in order in each class shall remain in office for three years; the two next for two years; and the last two in order for one year; all being capable of re-election.

4. Not more than two of the Trustees shall at any time be members, by election, of the Board of Fellows.

5. The President of the College shall be ex officio President of the Board of Fellows; and in his absence, or when the office of President shall be vacant, the senior Fellow present, according to the order of election, shall preside. When any subjects relating to the revision of the statutes or of the course of study shall be considered, the other members of the Faculty shall be invited to be present at the meetings of the Board of Fellows, to participate in their deliberations, and, if any changes be proposed, to express to the Trustees their approbation or dissent.

6. The Board of Fellows shall be official examiners of the College, and shall so arrange the duties allotted them that two of them, at least, may be present, if possible, at each examination; but they may also appoint, from year to year, an examining committee for their assistance. They shall concur with the Faculty in the recommendation of all candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Arts; and all applications in course for other degrees shall be submitted to them before being laid before the Board of Trustees. They shall revise, from time to time, the statutes of the College, and propose such changes as they may deem expedient. They shall offer to the Faculty or to the Trustees, respectively, any suggestions which may seem to them of importance, with respect to the studies or discipline ; and shall make, in connexion with the results of their examinations, an annual Report to the Trustees, and an annual address to the undergraduates.

7. The Board of Fellows shall have supervision of the Library, Cabinet and Chapel, and shall direct the disposal of all money appropriated for the increase of the Library or Cabinet ; nor shall any prize be instituted, any public literary exercises permanently established, any inscription be placed within or upon the College buildings, any collegiate dress be adopted, or any periodical other than the annual catalogues or calendars, be issued from the College, without their approbation.

8. Three members of the Board of fellows shall constitute a quorum ; except where the Board itself shall otherwise determine ; provided that when there shall be but three present, the President shall be one of the number.

II.

OF THE CONVOCATION.

WHEREAS there has heretofore existed no legal provision by which a portion of the Senatus Academicus of Trinity College, Hartford, may assemble as members thereof, to consult and take measures for the benefit of the same ; therefore the Trustees of Trinity College, on this 6th day of August, in the year of our Lord, 1845, do enact as follows :

1. The Senatus Academicus of this College is hereby declared to consist of the President, Trustees, Fellows, Professors, and all graduated members of this College, of whatever degree. And all graduates of this College, are perpetually members of said Senate, unless lawfully deprived of all degrees and office in said College.

2. All members of the Senatus Academicus of Trinity College, Hartford, not members of this Corporation, shall constitute a House of Convocation, with power to make laws and choose officers for their own government; and according to said laws to assemble from time to consult and advise for the interests and benefit of the College, and to exercise such other powers and privileges as may be conceded to them by this Corporation. And the Presiding Officer of said House shall be styled the Dean of Convocation. No business shall at any time be transacted in Convocation, unless at least twenty members be present; and no law or act of said Convocation shall be contrary to the Statutes enacted by this Corporation, or to the Charter of the College.

3. And said Convocation shall always have power to propose to this Corporation any measure or plan for the benefit of the College, or which they may regard as of importance to the same; always saving the rights of any officer, Professor, Fellow, or other incumbent holding his office, or appointment from this Corporation alone.

4. And said Convocation shall have power, with concurrence of this Corporation, to institute, name and endow professorships, fellowships, prizes, medals, and the like, and with like concurrence to present to the same. They shall also have power to nominate one half the Fellows of Trinity College, according to the provisions of the statute concerning Fellows; and they shall possess the sole right of nominating to this Corporation any Candidate for admission ad eundem gradum in this College. But in all elections or nominations thus made, no member of Convocation shall be a qualified elector, who is under the degree of Master of Arts in this College.

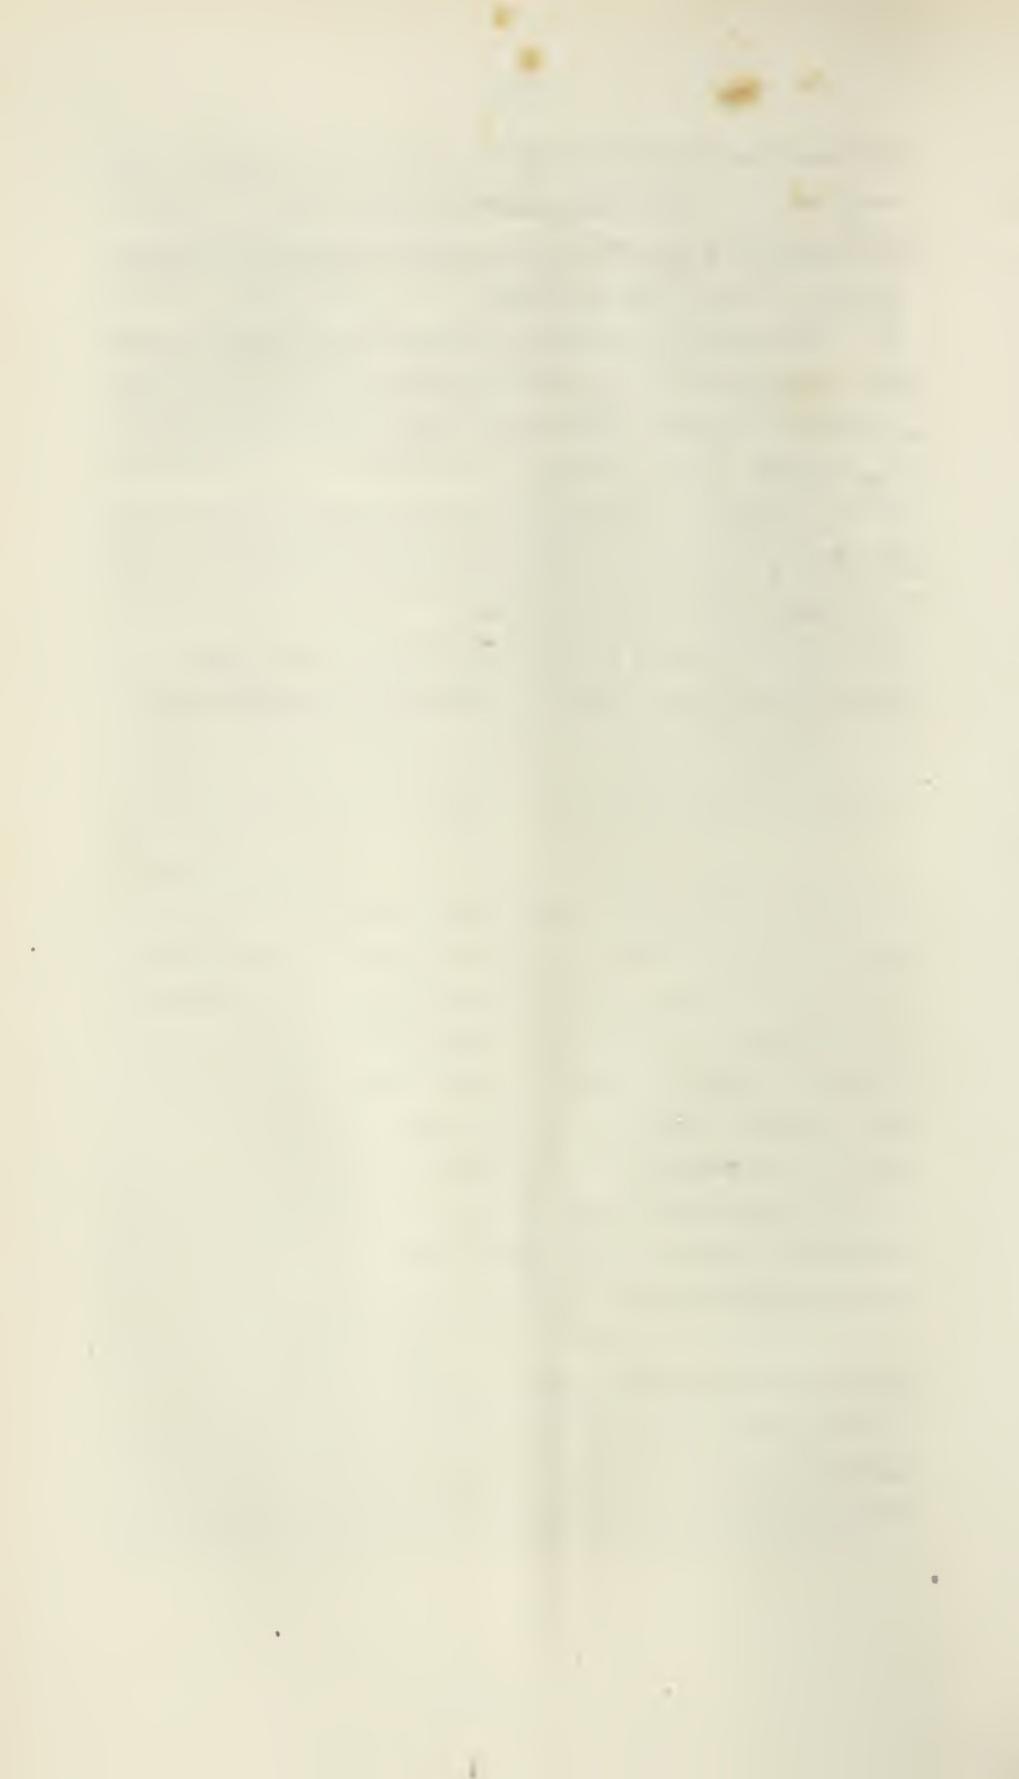

5. And for the exercises of these, and such other powers as may hereafter be conceded, this Statute shall be to the members of the Senatus Academicus herein specified, their sufficient Constitution as the House of Convocation of Trinity College, Hartford.

III.

OF THE CHANCELLOR.

The Trustees of Trinity College do also, on this 6th day of August, A. D. 1845, enact as follows :

1. A General Supervision of the whole Academic Body, with special reference to the moral and religious interests thereof, shall be entrusted to an officer who shall be designated as the Chancellor and Visitor of Trinity College.
2. He shall hold visitations of the College from time to time, and may be present at all meetings of the Board of Fellows, and when present shall preside at the same.
3. But this visitorial jurisdiction shall in no case conflict with powers and privileges vested in the Faculty, or Board of Fellows.

TRINITY COLLEGE, HARTFORD.

TRINITY COLLEGE, HARTFORD, is an academic Society, of which the control is vested in a CORPORATION, known in law by the style or title of The Trustees of Trinity College.

The design of a College in New England, connected with the church of the mother country, and so far as possible modelled after its celebrated Universities, originated with the excellent BERKELEY, Bishop of Cloyne, who with this view purchased an estate, and resided for some time in Rhode Island. Though he was compelled reluctantly to relinquish his project, it was nevertheless not entirely without fruits. To his example and benefactions may be traced much of that interest in sound learning and Christian education, which led to the first efforts for the establishment of a similar institution in Connecticut.

A Convocation of the Clergy of the Diocese, held in 1792, under SEABURY, first Bishop of Connecticut, took the primary steps towards establishing the Episcopal Academy at Cheshire; and this, though incorporated with limited privileges, was intended as the foundation for a higher institution, so soon as a charter conferring full collegiate powers could be obtained from the State. It was often styled familiarly The Seabury College.

Bishop BROWNELL, who succeeded to the Episcopate in 1819, was enabled very shortly to perfect these designs. The charter of Washington College was granted in 1823 ; and in the following year the institution was opened at Hartford, under the presidency of the Bishop.

In 1845, by permission of the Legislature, the name of the College was changed to its present style, to attest forever the faith of its founders, and their zeal for the perpetual glory and honor of the ONE HOLY AND UNDIVIDED TRINITY.

To this brief History must be added some account of the internal organization and condition of the College.

The SENATUS ACADEMICUS consists of two houses, known as the CORPORATION and the HOUSE OF CONVOCATION.

The CORPORATION, on which the other house is wholly dependent, and to which, by law, belongs the supreme control of the College, consists of not more than twenty-four Trustees, resident within the State of Connecticut. The Chancellor and President of the College, being ex officio members; and the Chancellor being ex officio President of the same. They have authority to fill their own vacancies; to appoint to offices and professorships; to direct and manage the funds for the good of the College; and, in general, to exercise the powers of a Collegiate Society, according to the provisions of the charter.

THE HOUSE OF CONVOCATION consists of the Fellows and Professors of Trinity College, with all persons who have received any academic degree whatever in the same, except such as may be lawfully deprived of their privileges.

Its business is such as may from time to time be delegated by the Corporation, from which it derives its existence; and is, at present, limited to consulting and advising for the good of the College; nominating the Junior Fellows, and all candidates for admissions ad eundem; making laws for its own regulation; proposing plans, measures or counsel to the Corporation; and to instituting, endowing and naming, with concurrence of the same, professorships, scholarships, prizes, medals, and the like.

The CHANCELLOR is the Bishop of the Diocese of Connecticut, and is also the Visitor of the College.

The PRESIDENT. This officer, as his title imports, is the resident head and Rector of the College, and with the PROCTORS, who are the two Senior Professors, the Executive of all laws for the discipline of under-graduates.

The FELLOWS. There are six Fellows appointed by the Corporation alone; and six Junior Fellows, who must be Masters of Arts, appointed by the Corporation on nomination of Convocation; and these together make the Board of Fellows. To this Board the Corporation commits the superintendence of the strictly academical business of the College; of the course of study and examinations; of the College laws; of collegiate dress, and the like; and also certain powers and privileges in recommending for degrees. Each Fellow and Junior Fellow is elected for three years; but there is no emolument connected with the office, besides a provision for necessary expenses incurred in its discharge. The Fellows therefore, under existing laws, are not ordinarily resident.

The DEAN OF CONVOCATION presides in that House, and is elected by the same, biennially.

The PROFESSORS hold their appointments from the Corporation, and by lectures and otherwise, instruct in their several departments. With the President and Tutors, they also form a board of government and control over the under-graduates.

TUTORS and LECTURERS are appointed from time to time by the Corporation to assist the professors in the several departments of instruction. Private Tutors have no recognized character as officers of the College.

SCHOLARSHIPS. These are permanent endowments, held by certain under-graduates according to the terms of their foundation, and paying stipends of different amounts to their incumbents.

HALLS. There are three buildings belonging to the College, which in 1845, received the names of the first three Bishops of the Diocese. SEABURY HALL, erected in 1825, contains the Chapel, and the Library, Cabinet, and other public chambers. JARVIS HALL, erected in the same year, and BROWNELL HALL, erected in 1845, contain rooms for the officers and students; and a wing of each is the residence of a Professor and his family.

The GROUNDS, on which the halls are erected, are an area of fourteen acres, laid out with walks, and ornamented with shade trees and shrubbery. The site is elevated, overlooking on one side the city of Hartford, within the limits of which the grounds are partly situated; and on the other the Little River (a branch of the Connecticut,) which forms their western boundary. This river is suitable for boating and for exercise in swimming.

The LIBRARY AND CABINET. There are about twelve thousand volumes in the Library in Seabury Hall, (in which are also the portraits of several officers and benefactors of the College,) including the valuable libraries of the Professor of Ecclesiastical History, and a member of the Corporation. There are also two libraries belonging to societies of under-graduates, containing an aggregate of six thousand volumes. The cabinet is an extensive collection of minerals and geological specimens. A valuable philosophical apparatus is distributed through the lecture-rooms of the several professors requiring its aid in their instructions.

TERMS. There are three terms in the year, of from twelve to fourteen weeks each; during which every under-graduate is required to be resident, unless under special dispensation from the President.

EXAMINATIONS. These are held at the end of each Term, in presence of examiners appointed by the Fellows, from their own number, or otherwise; and every under-graduate is required to be present and sustain his prescribed examinations at such times, unless a special examination is allowed for sufficient causes.

VACATIONS. The Christmas vacation is two weeks from the Thursday preceding Christmas day. The Easter vacation, three weeks from the close of Lent term. The Midsummer vacation is eight weeks from Commencement day.

COMMENCEMENT. The last Thursday in July is Commencement day. On the day preceding, the Corporation and House of Convocation assemble, and an address and poem are publicly pronounced before the latter. There are also academical exercises publicly performed by the Junior Sophisters in the evening. On this day all applications for admissions ad eundem come before Convocation; and the annual elections of Fellows and Junior Fellows are usually held on this day, or on the morning following. On Commencement day, candidates for degrees perform appointed exercises in public; and all degrees are conferred and announced with prescribed forms.

DEGREES. The Corporation is authorized by its charter to confer degrees in the Arts, and in the faculties of Law, Medicine and Divinity. Nominations for degrees may come from the Fellows and Professors, or from the House of Convocation; but the candidates are admitted only by vote of the Corporation; and all degrees are publicly conferred in its name, by the President.

Degrees in the faculties of Divinity and Law are conferred, at present, either in course, honoris causâ, or on admission ad eundem. For the degree of Bachelor of Arts, the candidate must have sustained all his examinations, and paid all fees and charges ; and must be nominated to the Corporation by the Fellows, and the Faculty of Arts. To proceed Master of Arts, a like nomination is requisite at a period of not less than three years after commencing Bachelor. Masters may proceed Bachelors in either of the Faculties, at the end of seven years, upon the certificate of the Board of Fellows, grounded on examination, and the recommendation of the Chancellor, and the President of the College. Bachelors in either of the Faculties may proceed Doctors in the same, at the expiration of three years, on the recommendation of the Chancellor, accompanied with a certificate of examiners, and a satisfactory thesis composed by the candidate. Degrees honoris causâ appertain to the Corporation only.

Applications for Degrees in course, should be made to the President of the College during Lent Term.

The instruction given in the preceding course of studies, is designed to be such as will promote habits of patient and accurate investigation. For this purpose, in the study of the ancient languages, particular attention is paid to their grammatical construction, to the composition and derivation of words ; and the translations, especially towards the beginning of the course, are required to be as literal as the idiom of our language will permit. As the student advances, more freedom of translation is permitted, though in no case is he allowed to deviate from the exact meaning of his author, which he is required to express with clearness, precision and elegance.

In Mathematics, and in the English Studies generally, the most approved text books are used, and the student is required to give an accurate analysis of the reasoning of his author. After the recitation is completed, remarks are made by the instructor on the principles recited, and their practical application shown by familiar illustrations. Lectures are also read on subjects connected with the main branches of study.

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS.

For the accommodation of those students who may desire to omit certain of the studies prescribed for a degree, the following provision has been made in the College statutes.

Students who do not propose to attend the whole course, may be permitted to recite with the regular classes, in such studies as, upon examination, they shall be found qualified to pursue. They shall enjoy all the privileges of the regular students, and shall be entitled to a certificate from the President, stating the time they were members of the College, and the studies pursued during the time.

GOVERNMENT AND DISCIPLINE.

The Government is administered by the President and Professors. It is designed to be mild and paternal—appealing to the better feelings of the heart, and aiming to prevent, rather than punish misconduct. Punishments involving public disgrace are resorted to with reluctance. If a student does not conduct himself to the satisfaction of the Faculty, his parent or guardian will be promptly informed of it, and if it is judged necessary, requested to remove him from the Institution. In cases where despatch is important, the delinquent will be privately dismissed.

An accurate daily account of the proficiencies of every student, and also of his delinquencies,—if any occur,—is kept; an abstract of which is transmitted to his parent or guardian at the close of each term.

PUBLIC WORSHIP.

Prayers are attended every morning and evening in the College Chapel, when all the students are required to be present. They are also required to attend public worship on the Lord's day, either in the Chapel, or at such places as their parents or guardians may desire.

EXPENSES.

For tuition, $11 per term; for room rent, from $3 to $4,50 per term; for the use of the Library, $1 per term; for sweeping rooms, ringing the bell, fuel for recitation rooms, and printing, $2 per term; all payable in advance.

Besides the above, there will be occasional assessments for damages, extra printing, or other common expenses.

Students admitted to an advanced standing, unless from other Colleges, are required to pay $10 for each year of such advancement; and for a shorter time than one year in proportion.

The students reside in the College, and provide for themselves bed and bedding, furniture for their rooms, fire-wood, candles, stationery and washing. Books and furniture may be sold, when the student has no further use for them, at a moderate reduction from the original cost.

No Commons are established, as it is preferred that the students should board in private families, in the neighborhood of the College. Good board can now be procured for $2 per week.

By a regulation of the Trustees, the tuition is remitted to the Beneficiaries of the Church Scholarship Society, and to such other necessitous students as design to enter the ministry. The necessary College expenses of such, exclusive of personal expenses, for clothing, fuel, furniture, &c., are as follows:

To prevent extravagant or improper expenditures, it is recommended that all funds designed for the use of students should be placed in the hands of the College Bursar, who superintends their expenses with a parental discretion. The present Bursar is DUNCAN L. STEWART, M. A. Professor of Ancient Languages.

NOTE.

IT will be observed that whereas Commencement Day has heretofore been the first Thursday in August, it is now the last Thursday in July.

TRINITY COLLEGE, HARTFORD.

TRINITY COLLEGE, HARTFORD, is an academic Society, of which the control is vested in a CORPORATION, known in law by the style or title of The Trustees of Trinity College.

The design of a College in New England, connected with the church of the mother country, and so far as possible modeled after its celebrated Universities, originated with the excellent BERKELEY, Bishop of Cloyne, who, with this view, purchased an estate and resided for some time in Rhode Island. Though he was compelled reluctantly to relinquish his project, it was nevertheless not entirely without fruits. To his example and benefactions may be traced much of that interest in sound learning and Christian education, which led to the first efforts for the establishment of a similar institution in Connecticut.

A Convocation of the Clergy of the Diocese, held in 1792, under SEABURY, first Bishop of Connecticut, took the primary steps towards establishing the Episcopal Academy at Cheshire; and this, though incorporated with limited privileges, was intended as the foundation for a higher institution, so soon as a charter conferring full collegiate powers could be obtained from the State. It was often styled familiarly The Seabury College.

Bishop BROWNELL, who succeeded to the Episcopate in 1819, was enabled very shortly to perfect these designs. The charter of Washington College was granted in 1823 ; and in the following year the institution was opened at Hartford, under the presidency of the Bishop.

In 1845, by permission of the Legislature, the name of the College was changed to the present style, to attest forever the faith of its founders, and their zeal for the perpetual glory and honor of the ONE HOLY AND UNDIVIDED TRINITY.

To this brief History must be added some account of the internal organization and condition of the College.

The SENATUS ACADEMICUS consists of two houses, known as the CORPORATION and the HOUSE OF CONVOCATION.

The CORPORATION, on which the other house is wholly dependent, and to which, by law, belongs the supreme control of the College, consists of not more than twenty-four Trustees, resident within the State of Connecticut. The Chancellor and President of the College, being ex officio members ; and the Chancellor being ex officio President of the same. They have authority to fill their own vacancies ; to appoint to offices and professorships ; to direct and manage the funds for the good of the College ; and in general, to exercise the powers of a Collegiate Society, according to the provisions of the charter.

THE HOUSE OF CONVOCATION consists of the Fellows and Professors of Trinity College, with all persons who have received any academic degree whatever in the same, except such as may be lawfully deprived of their privileges.

Its business is such as may from time to time be delegated by the Corporation, from which it derives its existence ; and is, at present, limited to consulting and advising for the good of the College ; nominating the Junior

Fellows, and all candidates for admissions ad eundem; making laws for its own regulation; proposing plans, measures or counsel to the Corporation; and to instituting, endowing and naming, with concurrence of the same, professorships, scholarships, prizes, medals and the like.

The CHANCELLOR is the Bishop of the Diocese of Connecticut, and is also the Visitor of the College.

The PRESIDENT. This officer, as his title imports, is the resident head and Rector of the college, and with the PROCTORS, who are the two Senior Professors, the Executive of all laws for the discipline of under-graduates.

The FELLOWS. There are six Fellows appointed by the Corporation alone; and six Junior Fellows, who must be Masters of Arts, appointed by the Corporation on nomination of Convocation; and these together make the Board of Fellows. To this Board the Corporation commits the superintendence of the strictly academical business of the College; of the course of study and examinations; of the College laws; of collegiate dress, and the like; and also certain powers and privileges in recommending for degrees. Each Fellow and Junior Fellow is elected for three years; but there is no emolument connected with the office, besides a provision for necessary expenses incurred in its discharge. The Fellows, therefore, under existing laws, are not ordinarily resident.

The DEAN OF CONVOCATION presides in that House, and is elected by the same biennially.

The PROFESSORS hold their appointments from the Corporation, and by lectures and otherwise, instruct in their several departments. With the President and Tutors, they also form a board of government and control over the under-graduates.

TUTORS and LECTURERS are appointed from time to time by the Corporation, to assist the Professors in the several departments of instruction. Private Tutors have no recognized character as officers of the College.

SCHOLARSHIPS. These are permanent endowments, held by certain under-graduates according to the terms of their foundation, and paying stipends of different amounts to their incumbents.

HALLS. There are three buildings belonging to the College, which, in 1845, received the names of the first three Bishops of the Diocese. SEABURY HALL, erected in 1825, contains the Chapel, and the Library, Cabinet, and other public chambers. JARVIS HALL, erected in the same year, and BROWNELL HALL, erected in 1845, contain rooms for the officers and students; and a wing of each is the residence of a Professor and his family.

The GROUNDS, on which the Halls are erected, are an area of fourteen acres, laid out with walks, and ornamented with shade trees and shrubbery. The site is elevated, overlooking on one side the city of Hartford, within the limits of which the grounds are partly situated, and on the other the Little River, (a branch of the Connecticut,) which forms their western boundary. This river is suitable for boating and for exercise in swimming.

The LIBRARY AND CABINET. There are about twelve thousand volumes in the Library in Seabury Hall, (in which are also the portraits of several officers and benefactors of the College,) including the valuable libraries of the Professor of Ecclesiastical History, and a member of the Corporation. There are also two libraries belonging to societies of under-graduates, containing an aggregate of six thousand volumes. The cabinet is an extensive collection of minerals and geological specimens. A valuable philosophical apparatus is distributed through the lecture-rooms of the several Professors requiring its aid in their instructions.

TERMS. There are three terms in the year, of from twelve to fourteen weeks each; during which every under-graduate is required to be resident, unless under special dispensation from the President.

EXAMINATIONS. These are held at the end of each Term, in presence of examiners appointed by the Fellows, from their own number, or otherwise; and every under-graduate is required to be present and sustain his prescribed examinations at such times, unless a special examination is allowed for sufficient causes.

VACATIONS. The Christmas vacation is two weeks from the Thursday preceding Christmas day. The Easter vacation, three weeks from the close of Lent term. The Midsummer vacation is eight weeks from Commencement day.

EXHIBITIONS. Junior Exhibition occurs at the close of Lent Term. Exhibitions of the Literary Societies, at such times as are deemed most convenient.

COMMENCEMENT. The last Thursday in July is Commencement day. On the day preceding, the Corporation and House of Convocation assemble, and an address and poem are publicly pronounced before the latter. On this day all applications for admissions ad eundem come before Convocation; and the annual elections of Fellows and Junior Fellows are usually held on this day, or on the morning following. On Commencement day, candidates for degrees perform appointed exercises in public; and all degrees are conferred and announced with prescribed forms.

DEGREES. The Corporation is authorized by its charter to confer degrees in the Arts, and in the faculties of Law, Medicine and Divinity. Nominations for degrees may come from the Fellows and Professors, or from the House of Convocation ; but the candidates are admitted only by vote of the Corporation ; and all degrees are publicly conferred in its name, by the President.

Degrees in the faculties of Divinity and Law are conferred, at present, either in course, honoris causâ, or on admission ad eundem. For the degree of Bachelor of Arts, the candidate must have sustained all his examinations, and paid all fees and charges ; and must be nominated to the Corporation by the Fellows, and the Faculty of Arts. To proceed Master of Arts, a like nomination is requisite at a period of not less than three years after commencing Bachelor. Masters may proceed Bachelors in either of the Faculties, at the end of seven years, upon the certificate of the Board of Fellows, grounded on examination, and the recommendation of the Chancellor, and the President of the College. Bachelors in either of the Faculties may proceed Doctors in the same, at the expiration of three years, on the recommendation of the Chancellor, accompanied with a certificate of examiners, and a satisfactory thesis composed by the candidate. Degrees honoris causâ appertain to the Corporation only.

Applications for Degrees in course, should be made to the President of the College during Lent Term.

The instruction given in the preceding course of studies, is designed to be such as will promote habits of patient and accurate investigation. For this purpose, in the study of the ancient languages, particular attention is paid to their grammatical construction, to the composition and derivation of words; and the translations, especially towards the beginning of the course, are required to be as literal as the idiom of our language will permit. As the student advances, more freedom of translation is permitted, though in no case is he allowed to deviate from the exact meaning of his author, which he is required to express with clearness, precision and elegance.

In Mathematics, and in the English Studies generally, the most approved text-books are used, and the student is required to give an accurate analysis of the reasoning of his author. After the recitation is completed, remarks are made by the instructor on the principles recited, and their practical application shown by familiar illustrations. Lectures are also read on subjects connected with the main branches of study.

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS.

For the accommodation of those students who may desire to omit certain of the studies prescribed for a degree, the following provision has been made in the College statutes.

Students who do not propose to attend the whole course, may be permitted to recite with the regular classes, in such studies as, upon examination, they shall be found qualified to pursue. They shall enjoy all the privileges of the regular students, and shall be entitled to a certificate from the President, stating the time they were members of the College, and the studies pursued during the time.

GOVERNMENT AND DISCIPLINE.

The Government is administered by the President and Professors. It is designed to be mild and paternal—appealing to the better feelings of the heart, and aiming to prevent, rather than punish misconduct. Punishments involving public disgrace are resorted to with reluctance. If a student does not conduct himself to the satisfaction of the Faculty, his parent or guardian will be promptly informed of it, and if it is judged necessary, requested to remove him from the Institution. In cases where despatch is important, the delinquent will be privately dismissed.

An accurate daily account of the proficiencies of every student, and also of his delinquencies,—if any occur,—is kept; an abstract of which is transmitted to his parent or guardian at the close of each term.

PUBLIC WORSHIP.

Prayers are attended every morning and evening in the College Chapel, when all the students are required to be present. They are also required to attend public worship on the Lord's day, either in the Chapel, or at such places as their parents or guardians may desire.

EXPENSES.

For tuition, $11 per term; for room rent, from $3 to $4.50 per term; for the use of the Library, $1 per term; for sweeping rooms, ringing the bell, fuel for recitation rooms, and printing, $2 per term; all payable in advance.

Besides the above, there will be occasional assessments for damages, extra printing, or other common expenses.

Students admitted to an advanced standing, unless from other Colleges, are required to pay $10 for each year of such advancement; and for a shorter time than one year, in proportion.

The students reside in the College, and provide for themselves bed and bedding, furniture for their rooms, fire-wood, candles, stationery and washing. Books and furniture may be sold, when the student has no further use for them, at a moderate reduction from the original cost.

No Commons are established, as it is preferred that the students should board in private families, in the neighborhood of the College. Good board can now be procured for $2.25 per week.

By a regulation of the Trustees, the tuition is remitted to the Beneficiaries of the Church Scholarship Society, and to such other necessitous students as design to enter the ministry. The necessary College expenses of such, exclusive of personal expenses, for clothing, fuel, furniture, &c., are as follows:

|--|---------------------------|
| Board, from | $60.00 to $80 per year. |
| Room rent, | 10.50 " |
| Use of Library, | 3.00 " |
| Attendance, Printing, &c., . . . | 6.00 " |
| Assessment for public damages, &c., 4.50 | " |
| Total, | $84.00 |

To prevent extravagant or improper expenditures, it is recommended that all funds designed for the use of students should be placed in the hands of the College Bursar, who superintends their expenses with a parental discretion. The present Bursar is DUNCAN L. STEWART, M. A. Professor of Ancient Languages.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION.

No person shall be admitted a member of the Freshman Class, unless he has completed his fourteenth year, nor to advanced standing, without proportional increase of age. He must bring satisfactory evidence of unexceptionable moral character, be thoroughly acquainted with the grammar of the Latin and Greek Languages, and be able to construe and parse any portion of the following books, namely: Jacob's, Felton's or Colton's Greek Reader, Cæsar's Commentaries, Virgil, Cicero's Select Orations, and to translate English into Latin and Greek correctly. He must also be well acquainted with ancient and modern Geography, Arithmetic, English Grammar, and with Algebra, as far as Quadratic Equations. To enter upon an advanced standing, he must, in addition, be thoroughly versed in all the preceding studies of the class to which he proposes to be admitted.

The Grammars used in College, are Kuehner's Greek, and Andrews and Stoddard's Latin Grammar. Candidates for admission will be subjected to a rigid examination in these, or in such other Grammars of the Latin and Greek Languages as they may have studied.

The regular examinations for entrance are held as follows: on the Saturday preceding Commencement, from nine, A. M., till one, P. M.; on the Monday preceding Commencement, from eight, A. M., till six, P.M.; on the Tuesday preceding and the Thursday following Commencement, from eight, A. M., till one, P. M. It is particularly desired that candidates for admission present themselves within the above specified hours. Premiums are awarded for excellence in preparatory studies, in accordance with rules made known on a subsequent page.

It is required by the statutes of the University, that the above studies be pursued, and that the regular examinations in them be sustained, by every person who intends to become a candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

The Faculty are aware that these studies cannot be advantageously pursued, except by persons who have attained some degree of intellectual maturity. Such, however, they think must be the case with any course of discipline, intended really to lay the broad foundations of a liberal education, or to prepare young men for the learned professions. It might also be suggested, that individuals whose youth may disable them from pursuing the above studies with success, would do wisely to delay the commencement of a collegiate education to a somewhat later period. The arrangements of such a seminary as this, pre-suppose in the pupil some power of self-government, and some decidedly formed feelings of social and moral responsibility. Until the character of a young man be thus far formed, he is too young to enter a public institution.

ENGLISH AND SCIENTIFIC COURSE.

There has been established in the University, in connection with the regular Collegiate Course, an English and Scientific Course, designed for the benefit of those who do not propose to enter either of the learned professions, but who desire to prepare themselves, by a thorough education, for some one of the more active employments of life. This Course embraces every department of English study pursued in the University, together with the several branches of Mathematical and Physical Science; and moreover, opens to the student all the advantages of the Library, the Cabinet of Natural History, and the Courses of Lectures on Chemistry, Natural Philosophy, Physics, Intellectual Philosophy, and the Evidences of Christianity. It is believed that such a Course will furnish to those who are preparing for Mercantile pursuits, or for the higher employments of Agriculture and Manufactures, the means of securing, at a moderate expense, an education specially adapted to their wants. The Course is arranged for a residence of either one or two years, according to the wish of the student. The Studies for the Course of one year, are —

FIRST TERM.

Plane Geometry, Animal Physiology, Modern History, Intellectual Philosophy, French, Lectures on Mechanics.

SECOND TERM.

Solid Geometry, Rhetoric, Chemistry, Moral Philosophy, French, Lectures on Mechanics.

THIRD TERM.

Rhetoric, Political Economy, Constitution of the United States, Surveying, Navigation, Mensuration of Heights and Distances, French, Lectures on Vegetable Physiology and Agriculture.

The Studies for the Course of two years, are —

FIRST YEAR.

FIRST TERM.

Plane Geometry, Algebra, Animal Physiology, French.

SECOND TERM.

Solid Geometry, Trigonometry, Chemistry, Rhetoric, French.

THIRD TERM.

Surveying, Navigation, Mensuration of Heights and Distances, Rhetoric, History, French, Lectures on the Applications of Chemistry, Vegetable Physiology.

SECOND YEAR.

FIRST TERM.

Mechanics, Astronomy, Intellectual Philosophy, Modern History, Logic.

SECOND TERM.

Mechanics, Moral Philosophy, Butler's Analogy, Rhetoric.

THIRD TERM.

Optics, Political Economy, Geology, Constitution of the United States, Lectures on Agriculture.

The above Courses, it will be seen, embrace a greater number of studies than can be advantageously pursued by the same individual, in the limited time allotted to them. The design is, to allow each student, aided by the advice of the Faculty, to select from the respective Courses such studies as shall be best fitted to prepare him for the particular pursuits in which he proposes to engage.

LIBRARIES.

The College Library is in Manning Hall, and at present contains upwards of 21,000 well-selected volumes. It is constantly increasing from the proceeds of a permanent fund established for this purpose. In addition to the College Library, the Libraries of the Philermenian and the United Brothers' Societies comprise together upwards of 6,000 volumes, making in all upwards of 27,000 volumes, accessible to all the students of the University.

CABINET.

The Cabinet, together with the apparatus of Chemistry and Natural Philosophy, is in Rhode-Island Hall, which is furnished with spacious Lecture Rooms for the accommodation of the departments of Mechanical and Physical Science. A collection of Specimens, for the purpose of illustration in Geology and Natural History, was commenced some years since, and furnishes valuable aid to the instruction in these sciences.

PREMIUMS.

In order to encourage deserving talent and to stimulate industry, the friends of the University, at different times, have made provision for the establishment of premiums, to be annually distributed to those students who attain to the highest excellence in the several departments of their collegiate course. More than four hundred dollars were distributed in this manner during the past year.

The premiums which have been thus established are as follows :

I. THE JACKSON PREMIUMS.

FOUNDED BY THE REV. HENRY JACKSON.

By this foundation a premium of the value of twenty-five dollars is annually awarded to the author of the best dissertation in Intellectual Philosophy ; the same to the author of the best dissertation in Moral Philosophy ; and the same to the author of the best dissertation in Political Economy. The competition for these premiums is limited to the undergraduates of the Senior Class, and no competitor can receive more than one premium.

The subjects for these dissertations are as follows :—

1. Intellectual Philosophy : “The processes employed by the human intellect in the discovery of truth.”
2. Moral Philosophy : “Is there a right of revolution, and if there is, under what conditions may it be exercised ?”
3. Political Economy : “Can the institution of domestic slavery be defended on the principles of Political Economy ?”

II. UNIVERSITY PREMIUMS.

By the statutes of this foundation, it is enacted that the following premiums shall be annually offered to the undergraduates of the several classes respectively.

I. IN THE FRESHMAN CLASS.

first and a second premium for the best Latin translations of the Speech in Arnold's History of Rome, vol. ii. chap. 26: from the words, "But if the mere will," &c. to the end of the speech.

A first and a second premium for the best Greek translations of the 33d chapter of the 21st book of Livy.

A first and a second premium for excellence in Mathematics, to be determined by examination.

II. IN THE SOPHOMORE CLASS.

A first and a second premium for the best Latin Essays "De Constantia Romanorum secundum T. Livii Historiæ, lib. xxii."

A first and a second premium for the best Greek translations of a passage in Grote's History of Greece, beginning, "I recount these events briefly," &c., and ending, "the faith of any such surmises."

A premium for the best English dissertation on "Johnson's Rasselias: its style and its views of human life."

A first and a second premium for excellence in Mathematics, to be determined by examination.

III. IN THE JUNIOR CLASS.

A first and a second premium for the best scientific dissertations on the "Proofs of the Indian origin of the leading nations of Europe."

A first and a second premium for the best English dissertations on "The character of Sir Thomas More as a scholar and a statesman."

A premium for the best Latin dissertation "De moribus consiliis atque factis Tib. Sempronii Gracchi."

A first and a second premium for excellence in Mechanical Philosophy, to be determined by examination.

IV. IN THE SENIOR CLASS.

A premium for the best scientific dissertation on "The progressive development of the animal kingdom shown from the geological history of the earth."

A premium for the best Greek dissertation on "The public services of Pericles."

A premium for the best historical dissertation on "The character and services of John Wicliffe."

A premium for excellence in astronomy, to be determined by examination.

The value of the first premiums in the Freshman and Sophomore Classes and of the premiums in English Composition is fifteen dollars, and that of the second premiums ten dollars each. The value of the first premiums in the Junior Class and of the premium for Latin or Greek composition is seventeen dollars, and of the second premiums fifteen dollars each. The value of the premiums in the Senior class is twenty dollars each.

Whenever the premiums offered to a class shall not have been awarded, the residue will be conferred on such deserving students of the other classes as may be recommended for this distinction by the Examining Committee.

The dissertations entered for premiums must be presented to the President on or before the last Saturday of the third collegiate term, except those of the Senior Class, which must be presented on the day following their final examination.

III. THE PRESIDENT'S PREMIUMS.

The interest of one thousand dollars is annually appropriated in the President's Premiums. This class of premiums is awarded to those members of the Freshman class who have attained the highest excellence in the studies preparatory to admission. They are fixed by the statutes as follows.

A premium of the value of fifteen dollars for the highest, and of ten dollars for the next to the highest attainment in the Greek language. The examination in Greek will be in the First Book of the Anabasis of Xenophon. A premium of fifteen dollars for the highest, and of ten dollars for the next to the highest attainment in the Latin language.

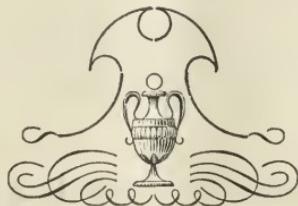

The names of the prize scholars are designated in the annual catalogue for the year in which they are awarded, together with the name of the teacher under whose instruction they have been prepared for College.

The examination for the President's premiums is held on the Saturday of commencement week, at nine o'clock, A. M.

These premiums have this year been awarded as follows.

IN LATIN; the first premium to William H. Watson, and the second to Alexander Farnum, both instructed by Messrs. Lyon and Frieze of the University Grammar School, Providence.

IN GREEK; two first premiums were awarded, one to Charles H. Parkhurst, instructed at Phillips Academy, Andover; the other to Alexander Farnum, of the University Grammar School. The second premium was awarded to William H. Watson, of the University Grammar School.

INFORMATION FOR PARENTS AND GUARDIANS.

I. REGULATIONS AND DISCIPLINE.

The Regulations of the Institution are formed with the single design of promoting the intellectual and moral advancement of its members. They are made public, and may be known by every candidate before admission. If at any time, a student becomes dissatisfied, he is at liberty immediately to withdraw, with every testimonial of scholarship and character to which he is entitled.

The Discipline of the institution is intended to be strictly parental. The officers desire to cultivate with their pupils habits of kind and familiar intercourse, and to influence them rather by an appeal to the better principles of the heart, than by severe or disgraceful punishment. If, however, the conduct of a student render it evident that he is not susceptible of such influence, he is immediately, and if possible, without disgrace, returned to his friends, in the hope that under other circumstances, he may yet form a character which will give promise of usefulness. Immoral or disorderly conduct, or habitual negligence in his attendance upon collegiate duties, is always considered a sufficient reason for directing a student to leave the institution. If any student, after having completed the studies of any year, shall upon examination, be found incompetent to pursue the studies of the year succeeding, he is permitted, without additional expense of tuition, to enter the class immediately below him, and thus enjoy a second opportunity of qualifying himself to proceed in the course.

An accurate account of the delinquencies of every student, and also of the degree of his attainment in conduct, scholarship, and attendance, is kept; a copy of which account, in connection with the regular term bill, is transmitted to every parent or guardian who may desire it.

The students generally occupy rooms in the College edifices, and board in Commons. Any student, however, at the request of his parents, is permitted either to board, or to board and lodge at any suitable private house in the city. It is desired that students residing in the city should lodge at home, that they may, as much as possible, be under the guardianship of their parents.

II. ANNUAL EXPENSES.

The board in Commons is charged at its net expense, and varies with the price of provisions. The price varies from $1.75 to $1.90 per week.

College Bills, including Tuition, Room Rent, Use of

III. PAYMENTS.

There are three terms of study in each year, and the expense of each is paid in advance. Students, unless from another College, entering the Freshman Class, pay five dollars as a fee for matriculation; Sophomore Class, eight dollars; Junior Class, twelve dollars ; Senior Class, fifteen dollars. No retrospective tuition is, however, demanded, and a candidate may enter, if qualified, at any period of the course previous to the last term of the Senior year.

IV. COMMENCEMENT AND VACATIONS.

Commencement is held on the first Wednesday in September. On the following Friday, the first term commences, and continues till December 14th — fourteen weeks — when it is succeeded by a vacation of three weeks. The second term commences January 5th, 1849, and continues till April 5th — thirteen weeks — when it is succeeded by a vacation of four weeks. The third term commences May 4th, and continues till July 26th — twelve weeks — when it is succeeded by a vacation till Commencement.

SECTION I.

ORGANIZATION OF THE UNIVERSITY.

THE Laws of the University direct that the Courses of Study shall be so arranged as to accomplish, as far as possible, the following objects:

- “1. To enable a student to pursue to the best advantage, any single course which he may choose.
2. To enable a student to pursue for a single term, a single year, or any other portion of time, such studies as he may believe to be for his advantage.
3. To allow students, who are candidates for degrees, to pursue the studies necessary for a degree in a longer or shorter time, as their age, ability, or pecuniary circumstances may render convenient to themselves; the Faculty, however, having the right to direct the studies of such students in such manner as may prevent idleness on the one hand, or superficial haste on the other.”

The various classes are organized in conformity with the above enactments. Hence, students may be admitted either as candidates, or not as candidates, for a degree. Those who are not candidates for a degree, are at liberty to pursue the studies of such classes as they may select; unless, however, special permission be granted to the contrary, they are subjected to the same examinations, and are, equally with other students, amenable to all the laws of the University. Students, not candidates for a degree, are examined for entrance, only in so far as to ascertain their ability to pursue the studies of the class or classes which they propose to enter.

The degrees conferred upon students of this University are three: Bachelor of Philosophy, Bachelor of Arts, and Master of Arts. The student or his parents select the degree for which he proposes to become a candidate.

No student shall be admitted a candidate for the degree of Master of Arts, unless he sustain his examinations satisfactorily in Arithmetic and Algebra as far as Quadratic Equations, Ancient and Modern Geography, English Grammar, and the use of the English Language, and in the Latin and Greek Languages. He shall be able to translate and analyze grammatically the Greek Reader, or an equivalent portion of some classical Greek Author; the Aeneid of Virgil, Cæsar's Commentaries, and Six Orations of Cicero, or an equivalent amount of Latin, and be able to translate English into Latin and Greek. The object of the examination shall be to ascertain whether the student be well grounded in the ordinary branches of an English Education, and also, whether he be able to advance beyond the study of grammatical analysis, and direct his attention to the sentiments and course of thought of a classical author, and acquire a knowledge of the general principles of interpretation. Each Professor is the examiner in his own department, and is charged with the duty of seeing that these requirements are fulfilled. For entrance for the degree of A. B., the examinations shall be the same, except that the candidate need be examined only in the preparatory studies of that Ancient Language which he intends to pursue, if he elect to pursue only one.

Candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Philosophy, shall be examined in a similar manner in all the above studies, with the exception of the Ancient Languages and Ancient Geography.

A student who is a candidate for a degree, entering upon advanced standing, shall be examined in all the studies which students of the same standing have previously pursued.

It is the intention of the Corporation that the examinations for entrance be definite and thorough. The prescribed attainments in Arithmetic, Algebra, English Grammar and Geography, will be strictly required.

"No student shall be admitted as a candidate for matriculation unless he bring suitable testimonials of good moral character; and, if he comes from another college or an academy, he must also present a certificate of regular dismission from, and of good standing in the institution which he has left.

The earliest age at which, in general, it will be advantageous for a student to enter the University, is at the completion of the fifteenth year; the President is, however, authorized to matriculate a student at an earlier age, provided sufficient and peculiar reasons exist, and his parent or guardian places him under such moral supervision as is satisfactory to himself.

The form of matriculation is as follows:—A student who wishes to become a member of the University, must first present his testimonials to the President, who if satisfied with his evidences of good character, will admit him as a candidate to be examined for admission. If his examination be satisfactory, the student shall procure and read a copy of the Laws of the University, after which he shall call again upon the President and sign a declaration of his deliberate intention to obey all the laws of the University, so long as he shall remain a member of it. The President shall then give him a certificate of matriculation, which will entitle him to purchase his tickets and proceed with the studies of his class.

As soon as the student is matriculated, (if he be a minor,) the President shall send by mail to his parent or guardian, a copy of the laws of the University."

SECTION II.

OF DEGREES.

THE regular Degrees conferred in this University shall be Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Philosophy, and Master of Arts.

The Degree of Bachelor of Arts is designed especially for those who desire to prepare themselves for the different professions, and yet, from unavoidable circumstances, are unable to pursue a complete course of liberal education. In order to render it accessible to such students, the number of studies is limited, and a large liberty of choice is granted, that they may be enabled to select such studies as will the better enable them to prepare themselves for a particular profession.

In order to become a candidate for the degree of A. B., the student having been regularly examined for entrance, must have been proficient in nine courses of one year each. Of these, two must have been in an Ancient Language, one in Mathematics, one in English Language and Rhetoric, and the course in Moral Philosophy and the Evidences of Christianity. For the remaining studies he may select from the regular courses such as he prefers.

The degree of Bachelor of Philosophy is designed for those students who are intended for the pursuits of active life. It is the wish of the Corporation to make the requirements for obtaining it, such as will confer a high degree of intellectual culture, without the necessity of studying the Ancient Languages.

For the degree of Bachelor of Philosophy, the candidate having entered by regular examination, must have been proficient in nine courses of one year each. Of these one must have been a Modern Language, one Mathematics, one English Literature, one History and Political Economy, and Moral Philosophy and the Evidences of Christianity. The remaining studies required for this degree may be left to his own option.

A student who attends for two years the course of Mathematics, and the full course of Civil Engineering, may be admitted a candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Philosophy, by obtaining testimonials of proficiency in such other courses as shall, in the judgment of the Faculty, make his whole amount of study equal to nine courses of one year each. The same principle shall also be applied to students who pursue either of the other special courses.

The candidates for these degrees will then be examined in the manner above specified, in three of the studies in which they have been proficients. The studies in which the examinations will be held, will be made known to the University at the beginning of the term immediately preceding the Commencement.

The degree of Master of Arts is intended for those students who desire to pursue a full course of liberal education. In order to become a candidate for this degree, the student must have obtained certificates of proficiency in the following courses of instruction:—

In the Ancient Languages for two years,

In one Modern Language for one year,
 In the Mathematics of two years,
 In Natural Philosophy,
 English Language and Rhetoric,
 Chemistry and Physiology,
 History and Political Economy,
 Intellectual and Moral Philosophy, and the Evidences of Christianity.

He must also be examined in the Ancient Languages, in Natural Philosophy, and in three other studies of the course to be selected by the Faculty ; and he shall not be entitled to a degree unless his answers attain to 25 per cent. of the maximum established by the Faculty. The examination in the Ancient Languages shall include one author in Latin and one in Greek, which has not been read by the class in the regular course of instruction.

The candidate for this degree may be allowed to substitute a third year in an Ancient Language for a second in Mathematics, or a third year in Mathematics, for a second in an Ancient Language ; or to substitute one Modern Language for a year in an Ancient Language, or for a year in Mathematics.

It is the design of the Corporation to require for the degree of Bachelor of Arts and of Philosophy, an amount of study which may be accomplished in three years, but which may, if he pleases, occupy the student profitably for four years ; and to require for the degree of Master of Arts an amount of study which may be accomplished in four years, but which, if generously pursued, may occupy the student with advantage a considerable longer time. And the Faculty have the power to direct in all cases the discontinuance of a third study, or the addition of a third to two already pursued, if such diminution or addition of labor will, in their opinion, be for the advantage of the student. Whenever a study is thus postponed, the ticket which the student has purchased shall be available for the same course at any subsequent time without additional charge.

From the above extracts from the Laws it will be seen, that any person wishing to pursue his studies at this University, may determine for himself whether he will or will not become a candidate for a degree, and he may, if his examinations in the required studies be satisfactory, select the degree for which he will become a candidate. Those who are not candidates for a degree will be subject to the same laws, and pass the same examinations as those who are candidates, and will be entitled to certificates of standing and proficiency. Those who are candidates for a degree must pursue such of the courses as are required for that degree, and sustain satisfactorily all the examinations established by the laws.

The degree of the Bachelor of Arts or that of Bachelor of Philosophy, does not entitle the graduate to the degree of Master of Arts in course. The latter degree is conferred on those only who have pursued the full course of instruction prescribed by the statutes of the University.

SECTION III.

THE COURSES OF STUDY PURSUED IN THE UNIVERSITY,
DURING THE PRESENT YEAR, ARE THE FOLLOWING :

INTELLECTUAL AND MORAL PHILOSOPHY.

THE study of Intellectual Philosophy commences with the opening of the collegiate year, and continues to the close of the first term. Lectures are delivered five times in each week, unless when one day in the week is occupied in review, and then four lectures are delivered. One hour and twenty minutes are allotted to each lecture ; twenty minutes being devoted to examination on the lecture of the preceding day. The books of reference used in this course are Locke on the Understanding, Reid's and Stewart's Works, Cousin's Psychology, Brown's Philosophy, and Abercrombie on the Intellectual Powers. Copies of the above works, in sufficient number for the use of the class, are placed in the Library. Essays on subjects previously assigned are presented weekly and criticised by the instructor.

The study of Moral Philosophy commences with the opening of the second term, and is pursued in a similar manner. In connection with the course on Moral Philosophy, a course of Lectures is delivered on the Evidences of Revelation.

MATHEMATICS AND PHYSICAL ASTRONOMY.

THE department of Mathematics and Physical Astronomy extends through three and a half years, and embraces the following subjects, viz :—

1. Plane and Solid Geometry.
2. Algebra.
3. Trigonometry, Plane and Spherical.
4. Analytical Geometry.
5. The Differential and Integral Calculus.
6. Analytical Mechanics.
7. Physical Astronomy.

The time given to each is nearly as follows, viz :—

FIRST YEAR.

FIRST TERM.

Plane and Solid Geometry, Davies' Legendre.

SECOND TERM.

Algebra, beginning at chapter 5th., including the Theory of Logarithms, - - - - - Davies' Bourdon.

SECOND YEAR.

FIRST TERM.

Plane and Spherical Trigonometry, with applications to practical problems, and the use of Logarithms, Davies' Legendre.

Analytical Geometry, - - - Davies or Church.

THIRD YEAR.

FIRST TERM.

The Differential and Integral Calculus, Church.

SECOND TERM.

Analytical Mechanics,

Smith or Courtenay's Bourcharlat.

FOURTH YEAR.

FIRST TERM.

Astronomy.

The object of the Mathematical course is twofold :

First, As a part of general education, to exercise the student in the process of exact reasoning, and thus secure to the mind a thorough logical discipline ; and

Secondly, As a part of special education, to prepare him for original mathematical investigations, and for the varied applications of mathematical and mechanical Science, to practical purposes.

The studies in this department will generally be prosecuted in connexion with text-books. In addition, however, to the recitations and the discussions connected with them, lectures will occasionally be given upon the history and applications of the science. It will be the constant aim of the instructor to awaken in the pupil a generous love of science, and incite him to vigorous and persevering efforts in the pursuit of it ; and by frequent reviews, by the daily analysis of demonstrations, and the solution of problems original and selected, to aid him, as far as possible, in securing, not only an accurate and full knowledge of every subject of inquiry, but also a ready and skilful use of that knowledge.

It is proper to remark that any person who intends entering upon the foregoing Mathematical course, should bring with him to the University a thorough knowledge of Arithmetic and the Elements of Algebra, including the first four chapters of Davies' Bourdon, or what is equivalent. This will hereafter be indispensable, as the Class will commence Algebra at the fifth chapter, at the beginning of the 2d Term.

CHEMISTRY AND PHYSIOLOGY.

THE course of instruction in this department extends through one year. The first term is occupied with Chemistry proper, Heat, Electricity, Galvanism and Magnetism. These sciences are taught exclusively by lecture. A portion of time is spent each day in examination on the lecture of the preceding day; and themes are assigned weekly, requiring of the student, either an elucidation of the more important doctrines included in these sciences, or their application to an explanation of the phenomena of nature, or the processes of art. Besides this elementary course in Chemistry, provision is made for a more advanced class of students, who may desire to pursue the science into its higher principles as well as its more extended details. The students belonging to this class have constant access to the laboratory where an opportunity is afforded them, not only of witnessing the preparations for the daily lectures, but of conducting under the eye of the Professor such other processes as may serve to make them further acquainted with the laws of chemical re-action. The works of Johnston, Kane and Graham, are used by these classes as books of reference.

The second Term is occupied with animal and vegetable Physiology, including the classifications of Plants and Animals, as well as the description of their structures and functions. In that part of the course relating to the Anatomy and Physiology of man, particular reference is had to the laws of health and regimen. As during the preceding term, daily examinations are had in connection with the lectures, and also weekly exercises in themes. Provision is also made throughout this term for a more advanced class of students who may desire to pursue the science by the aid of the knife and the microscope. There is also delivered during this term a course of lectures on Geology. These lectures are accompanied by cabinet and field illustrations.

RHETORIC AND ENGLISH LITERATURE.

THE instruction in this department is confined to the third year of the regular course. It will be given partly by lectures and partly by text-books. The objects aimed at in this course, are to enable the pupil to write and speak his own language with correctness and elegance, and to cultivate in him a literary taste, while he acquires a knowledge of the English language and its literature. The student attending this course is required to have already made himself acquainted with the ordinary rules and principles of English Grammar. He will be subjected to a rigid examination in these principles on his admission to college. For this examination, the "Analysis of the English Language" by S. S. Greene, is the text-book preferred.

The subjects embraced in this course of study during the first term are, the formation and combination of sentences, the nature and use of Figurative Language, the qualities of Style, the composition of Essays, and the science of Logic. In addition to the regular exercises in Composition and Declamation required of all students who attend this course, the pupil will be expected to present in writing such examples in illustration of these subjects, as the Professor of Rhetoric may call for, that the knowledge acquired may be rendered available for practical purposes. The text-books used in this part of the course, are Campbell's Philosophy of Rhetoric, and Whately's Rhetoric and Logic.

The studies of the second term will commence with the higher branches of Rhetoric and Criticism, and the formation of Discourses. The text-book used is Whately's Rhetoric. The principal portion of the instruction in this part of the course is given by lectures. These subjects will be followed by lectures on the History of the English Language and its Literature.

Their progress and development will be traced from the time of the Anglo-Saxon, Anglo-Norman, and the early English authors, through the successive periods of Chaucer and Wickliffe, Spenser, Shakespeare, the Commonwealth, and the reigns of the subsequent Kings of England, down to the present time. This course will embrace biographical sketches of the principal authors, together with criticisms of their writings. It will close with an examination of the different elements which enter into the formation of the English tongue, and of the influence which they have exerted upon its character and development. In order to secure a more thorough acquaintance with the subject, the students will be expected to present written answers to such questions upon the leading topics, as the Professor of Rhetoric may offer. All students who are candidates for either of the degrees are required to attend this course.

HISTORY AND POLITICAL ECONOMY.

THESE branches of Education are now arranged in a department by themselves, and the instruction in them extends through one year. Classes in this department will hereafter be formed at the beginning of each collegiate year, which may be attended by candidates for either of the degrees, and by any other students who shall desire to pursue these courses of instruction.

The course in History commences with the fall of the Roman Empire, and embraces a general survey of the organization of European Society, and its progress in Mediæval and Modern times. It is designed to illustrate the origin and growth of Modern civilization in the principal nations of Europe; the origin and the leading features of the English Constitution and the extension of the English race; the Colonial and Revolutionary history of the United States, together with the theory of the American Government, the history of its formation and the outlines of its successive administrations. A considerable portion of the instruction is given by lectures. In addition to these, the following works are at present in use either as text-books or books of reference. Smyth's Lectures, Guizot's History of Civilization, Greene's History and Geography of the Middle Ages, Bayard and Story on the Constitution of the United States.

The course in Political Economy, is associated as closely as possible with the course in History. It is designed to explain the nature of national wealth, and the laws which regulate its production and accumulation, and the prosperity of nations, with illustrations from the history of the legislative enactments and economical arrangements which have prevailed in different ages and different countries. In all which reference will be constantly made to the industrial progress and interests of our own people.

LATIN LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE.

THE regular course of instruction in this department extends through two years. In each year there are sometimes six, and never less than five, exercises a week.

A third class will be formed for such as desire it.

The course is as follows:

I. In the first year: 1. During the First Term, Livy (Lincoln's Selections), Arnold's Latin Prose Composition commenced, and Roman History. In History, the textbook is Pütz's Manual of Ancient Geography and History, accompanied by the reading of Schmitz's History of Rome. (Andover edition). Niebuhr's History of Rome, Niebuhr's Lectures on Roman History, Arnold's History of Rome, and Arnold's Later Roman Commonwealth, and Findlay's Ancient Atlas, are recommended to the student. 2. During the second term, Cicero de Senectute and de Amicitia, and Cicero's Brutus, or the Andria of Terence ; Arnold's Latin Prose Composition completed.

II. In the second year : 1. First Term, The Odes, Satires, and Epistles of Horace, (Lincoln's edition). 2. The Germania and the Agricola of Tacitus, (Tyler's edition,) and Juvenal.

In the third class, (for the present year): The Rhetorical works of Cicero, with lectures from the Professor on the History of Roman Eloquence.

The course is not restricted to the above authors, but may be varied in different years.

Throughout each year, the students present, on alternate weeks, exercises in Latin Composition (independent of Arnold's text-book), and English exercises, consisting either of translations from the Latin, or of Essays on subjects connected with their Latin reading. These exercises are examined and corrected, and then returned, with explanatory remarks to the class.

The Latin Grammar used is Andrews' and Stoddard's. Zumpt's is recommended as a work for reference. Other books recommended, are Riddle and Arnold's English-Latin Lexicon, Smith's Dictionary of Antiquities (the 2d edition, English, is the best,) and Becker's Gallus.

The objects aimed at in the instruction are chiefly these: to enable the student, by thorough grammatical and exegetical study to read and write Latin with facility, and to pursue by himself, with pleasure and profit, the reading of such Latin books as may be recommended by the instructor: to cultivate, by a habit of faithful translation, his power of expression in his own language: and, by connecting the reading of classic Roman authors with continuous historical and literary illustration, to make the study of Latin an important means of increasing his knowledge and his mental culture.

MODERN LANGUAGES.

FRENCH.

FIRST TERM.

FIRST CLASS. Greene's Primary Lessons, (second edition,) with written exercises, and exercises on the black board, and viva voce in translating from French into English and English into French.

Bossuet—Discours sur l'Histoire Universelle, or Michélet Précis de l'Histoire de France.

SECOND TERM.

Grammar continued with oral and written exercises.

Collot—First part of the Dramatic Reader.

ADVANCED CLASS—French Syntax, with oral and written exercises.

Bossuet—Oraison funèbre de Louis de Bourbon.

Boileau—the Lutrin, or Art Poétique.

Collot—Second part of the Dramatic Reader.

Lectures on the History of the French Language and Literature.

GERMAN.

FIRST TERM.

Ollendorff—With oral and written exercises.

Oehlenschlaeger's German Reader.

SECOND TERM.

Ollendorff—Continued with oral and written exercises.

Götz von Berlichingen, (Göthe,) and Don Carlos (Schiller.)

Lectures on the history of the German language and literature.

ITALIAN.

Grammar with written and oral exercises.

Foresti's Italian Reader.

Tasso's Jerusalem Delivered.

Dante's Inferno.

Lectures on the history of the Italian Language and Literature.

SPANISH.

Ollendorff.

Velasquez Reader.

Lopez y Calderon—Comedias escogidas.

The course in each language is intended to be critical, grounding the student thoroughly in grammatical principles, and accustoming him to the same rigorous analysis which is applied to the Latin and Greek, while at the same time he is prepared for writing and speaking by the constant use of oral and written exercises. The authors read are studied as specimens of national literature, and made the subject of special lectures.

NATURAL PHILOSOPHY.

THE course of Natural Philosophy occupies one year, and comprises Mechanics, Hydrostatics, Pneumatics, Optics, Acoustics, and Astronomy.

The instruction is by illustrated and experimental lectures, accompanied by daily examinations on previous lectures and exercises in application of the principles taught. A text-book is used in connection with the notes taken of the lectures, to aid in the preparation for the recitation. The student is also directed to such other works as may assist him in obtaining a more extended knowledge of the subjects discussed.

The following are the text-books used :

Olmstead's Natural Philosophy ; Jackson's Optics ; Pierce's Treatise on Sound ; Norton's Astronomy.

CIVIL ENGINEERING.

THE full course of Civil Engineering will occupy about a year and a half. It embraces the following studies and exercises.

Descriptive Geometry—Shades and Shadows—Linear Perspective—Theoretical and Practical Mechanics, including the elements and combinations of Machinery, the theory and practice of Mill-Work, and the measurement of moving powers and of work performed—Hydraulics—Pneumatics, including the construction and theory of the Steam Engine; Applications of Chemistry and Mineralogy to Engineering—Principles of Architecture; Engineering Proper, comprising all that immediately relates to the art of Construction, in all its branches, and to the nature and preparation of the materials used.

DRAWING.—Geometrical and Perspective—Drawing of Plans, Elevations, and Sections of proposed structures.

FIELD WORK.—Surveying, with Compass, Theodolite, &c.; Levelling; Locating a Road; Surveys for estimates of Excavation and Embankment; Astronomical Observations for the determination of time, latitude, longitude, &c.

To pursue this course to the best advantage, the student should be well acquainted with the following branches of Mathematics, viz: Algebra, Plane and Solid Geometry, Plane and Spherical Trigonometry, Surveying, Analytical Geometry, or Conic Sections; which make up the two years' course of Mathematics taught in the University.

Without this amount of preparation persons may be admitted to any portion of the above mentioned course which they are able to pursue to advantage.

GREEK LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE.

THE regular course of instruction in this department extends through two years: in each of which there are generally five and sometimes six exercises a week. The course of study is as follows:

FIRST YEAR.

FIRST TERM.—Xenophon's Cyropædia, Boise's Greek Prose Composition, commenced. Exercises in written translation from Greek into English and from English into Greek.

SECOND TERM.—The Memorabilia of Xenophon,—

FIRST TERM.—Thucydides,—Lectures upon Grecian History,—Exercises in Greek Composition.

SECOND TERM.—Homer's Iliad or Aeschylus.

During this year essays are required on subjects connected with the authors read.

A third class in Greek is formed for those who wish to pursue a more extended course.

The course of reading is not confined to the above authors but may be varied in different years.

The Greek Grammar used is that of Kühner. The Lexicon that of Liddell and Scott. As works for reference: Smith's Dictionary of Antiquities and Becker's Charicles are recommended.

CHEMISTRY APPLIED TO THE ARTS.

It is the design of this department to afford facilities for the acquisition of a practical knowledge of the science of Chemistry, including its application to the Arts.

The student is furnished with the requisite apparatus and materials, and directed in the experimental study of the facts and laws of the science, and those combinations of chemical phenomena which constitute the chemical part of the processes of the Arts.

Much attention is given to Analysis, both on account of its importance in itself considered, and because it constitutes the most effectual means of acquiring a familiar knowledge of the facts and principles involved in other applications of the science.

Having completed the analytical course, the student is prepared for the more minute investigation of particular processes and the direction of his studies is to be determined by the special objects he has in view.

The Laboratory is open each day of the week, excepting Saturday, from 9 A. M., until 5 P. M. On Saturday during the forenoon only.

LECTURES.

A course of lectures will be given during the winter term on the application of Chemistry to the Arts, in which the more important processes will be explained; a sketch given of their history and progress, and the class informed of such improvements as may have come to the knowledge of the scientific world.

Without proposing to make this course in any sense a substitute for the more complete and thorough method of experimental study, it is believed that it may be made worthy the attention of those, who being interested in the application of Chemistry, have not the leisure for the pursuits of the Laboratory.

EXPENSES.

All the apparatus required will be furnished the student and charged to his account, and the charge cancelled for that which is returned in good condition.

|---|---------|
| Charge for Chemicals, Alcohol, Gas and all other materials required, use of apparatus, fuel and other current expenses, per term, . . . | $55,00 |
| Fee for Instruction, | 30,00 |
| Total, | $85,00 |

A reasonable deduction is made in the case of the students who devote only a portion of their time to this department.

The above charge for Chemicals, materials, &c., is intended merely to cover the average cost. If the cost falls below the charge specified a deduction will be made accordingly.

DIDACTICS.

THIS department is opened for all those who wish to become professional teachers. A course of lectures commencing on the 5th of November, will be given on the habits of mind necessary to eminent success in teaching; the relation of the teacher to the pupil; the principles which should guide in the organization of a school; the arrangement and adaptation of studies to the capacity of the learner; the influences to be employed in controlling the passions, forming the habits and elevating the tastes of the young; and on the elements of the art of teaching, or the best methods of imparting instruction in Reading, Grammar, Geography, History, Mathematics, Language and the various other branches taught in our higher Seminaries. All these lectures are accompanied with practical exercises, in which each member is to participate.

For the benefit of Teachers generally, a class has already been formed, consisting of persons not connected with the University. This class numbers, at present, fifty members. Lectures are given at the Lecture room of the High School, on Benefit Street, twice a week, on the various topics embraced in a course of elementary teaching.

SECTION IV.

LIBRARIES.

THE University Library is in Manning Hall, and contains at present, upwards of 24,000 well selected volumes. A large proportion of these have been purchased within the last few years, with special reference to the wants of gentlemen engaged in literary and scientific pursuits. It is constantly increasing from the proceeds of a permanent fund of $25,000, established for this purpose in 1839. The Library is open four hours daily, from 9 A. M., till 1 P. M. In addition to the University Library, the Libraries of the Philermenian and the United Brothers' Societies, comprise together nearly 7,000 volumes, accessible to all the students of the University.

OF PREMIUMS.

THE sum of about four hundred and twenty dollars is annually awarded in premiums to undergraduates, who have attained to distinguished excellence in the various departments of study.

The UNIVERSITY PREMIUMS are derived from a legacy of the late Hon. Nicholas Brown. The statutes by which the award of them is governed, are the following:

1. The competition for the University Premiums is open only to those students who are candidates for some one of the degrees conferred by the University.

2. No student shall be a competitor for a premium whose average standing for the year is below 15; the maximum of standing being 20.

3. No student shall be a competitor for more than one premium, whose average standing for one year is below 18.

4. The following premiums are offered for the present year:

A first premium of fifteen dollars, and a second premium of ten dollars, to the first, and to the second class in Greek, to the first and to the second class in Latin, to the first and to the second class in Mathematics, and to the first class in French.

A first premium of seventeen dollars, and a second premium of fifteen dollars, to the class in English Literature, to the class in Natural Philosophy, and to the class in Physical Science.

A premium of seventeen dollars to the third class in Greek, to the third class in Latin and to the third class in Mathematics.

A first premium of twenty dollars, and a second of seventeen dollars to the class in History, and to the class in Intellectual and Moral Philosophy.

The papers of the undergraduates, who are candidates for degrees at the close of the present collegiate year, must be presented to the President four weeks before Commencement.

The problems in Natural Philosophy and Mathematics, will be presented to competitors at the examination for premiums in those departments.

The themes for UNIVERSITY PREMIUMS for the present year, are the following:

For the First Class in Greek;

A Greek translation of the passage in Macaulay's essay on Mitford's

Greece, beginning with "the Spartans purchased," &c., and ending "existence of governments."

For the Second Class in Greek;

The Examiners for Premiums are also the Committees of Examination during the year, in their respective departments.

THE PRESIDENT'S PREMIUMS.

THESE Premiums are awarded to those students entering as candidates for the degree of A. B. or A. M., who have attained the highest excellence in the studies preparatory to admission to the University.

A first premium of fifteen dollars, and a second of ten dollars, are awarded for excellence in the Greek Language.

A first premium of fifteen dollars, and a second of ten dollars, are awarded for excellence in the Latin Language.

The examination for the President's Premiums is held on the first Saturday of the first Collegiate term. The competitors will be examined in the studies preparatory for entrance, and especially in the first six books of the Aeneid of Virgil, and the first three books of Xenophon's Anabasis. The examiners are the Professor of Latin, the Professor of Greek, and Mr. James Tillinghast.

SECTION V.

DIRECTIONS FOR STUDENTS.

1. The terms of the University always commence on Friday. This and the following day, are occupied in making the necessary preliminary arrangements. Every student is expected within this time, to settle his bills with the Register, and enter his name with the President, for the studies which he intends to pursue.

2. The several courses of instruction commence on the following Monday.

3. Every student is required to attend punctually upon prayers, and all the collegiate exercises pertaining to his course.

4. In case of absence, a student is required to inform the officer to whom he is responsible, of the cause of his absence, previous to the time of the exercise.

5. Should this be impossible, he is required to present his excuse immediately after the absence has occurred.

6. At 12 o'clock M., of every day, all absences which have occurred during the previous 24 hours, are reported to the President.

7. Absence from any exercise, without excuse, always incurs a demerit of from 5 to 20. The same amount of demerit is also incurred for deficiency without excuse, in any literary exercise.

8. When the demerits of any student amount to 30, the President is required to inform the parent or guardian of such student, of the fact; and when his demerits amount to 100, to dismiss him from the University.

9. After reports are entered on the books of the Register, no alterations can be made on account of negligence to present an excuse on the part of the student.

10. Candidates for admission are required to present to the President adequate certificates of unquestionable moral character.

E X A M I N A T I O N S .

EVERY Class is examined in the studies which it has pursued at the close of each term. These examinations are conducted in writing. Questions prepared by the committee of examination are presented to each student in each lecture room, and he is required within a specified time, to return his answers in writing. By the aggregate value of his answers, his standing by examination, is determined.

MISCELLANEOUS.

If a student be matriculated as a candidate for a degree, he is charged a fee of $5.

The fee for each course, exclusive of the special courses, is per term, $6.

The Special Courses are the private class of the Professor of Chemistry and Physiology; the class of Analytical Chemistry; the class of Civil Engineering; the class in Agriculture; and of Chemistry applied to the Arts.

For the Class in Civil Engineering, and of Chemistry applied to the Arts, per term, the fee is $30.

Rooms are furnished in the college buildings, if two students occupy the same room, at $4,50 per term, or $9 per year.

If a student occupy a room alone, his rent is doubled.

Board is not furnished in College. The Register keeps a list of the names of families in the city, by whom Board, and Board and Lodging are furnished to students at the following rates:—

Board at from $1,75 to $2,50 per week. Board and lodging with furnished rooms, in some cases washing or fuel included, from $2,75 to $3,50 per week. The other expenses are, per term:—Use of Library, $1,50; Register's Salary, $2,00; Servants' hire for those rooming in College, $3,00; for those that room in town, $1,50; Repairs and Public Fuel, from $1,00 to $1,25 each.

There are two terms in the collegiate year.

The first term commences on the Friday following the first Wednesday of September, and continues twenty weeks.

The second term of the present year commences on Friday the 20th of February and ends at Commencement.

Commencement is at the close of the second term, on the second Wednesday of July.

The first Exhibition occurs on the fourth Saturday of November; and the second on the fourth Saturday of May.

The regular examinations of all the classes are held during the last week of each term.

The examinations for admission to the University are held on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of Commencement week, and on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of the first week of each collegiate term.

Since the Catalogue has gone to press, an evening class of nineteen students has been formed in Chemistry applied to the Arts, exclusive of those whose names are recorded above.

ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class are examined in Andrews and Stoddard's Latin Grammar, or Kuhner's (translated by Champlin), Virgil, Cicero's Select Orations, Sallust or Cæsar's Commentaries, Writing of Latin, the Greek Grammar of Sophocles or Kuhner (translated by Taylor), the Greek of the four Gospels, Jacob's Greek Reader or an equivalent, Webster's or Murray's English Grammar, and Arithmetic.

Candidates for a higher standing are examined in the same, and also in the part of the Course of Study in College gone over by the Class to which they may desire admission.

The stated times for examination are the Wednesday preceding Commencement, and the first day of the following Term. But Candidates may be examined and admitted at other times in the year, excepting that no admission to the Senior Class is allowed later than the beginning of the second term.

Previously to examination the Candidate must exhibit satisfactory testimonials, that he sustains a good moral character. If he has been a member of any other College, he will be expected to present a certificate of regular dismission.

No one can be admitted to the Freshman Class until he has completed his fourteenth year; and no one to an advanced standing without a corresponding increase of age.

VACATIONS.

1. Four weeks from Commencement.
 2. Six weeks from the Wednesday preceding the annual State Thanksgiving.
 3. Three weeks from the third Wednesday of April.
- Such students as are obliged by their circumstances to teach school in winter, are allowed to be absent for the purpose.

EXPENSES.

The following are the principal necessary expenses, exclusive of vacations.

| | | |
|---|---------|---------|
| Tuition, $11.00 per Term, | $33.00 | $33.00 |
| Room Rent, $3.00 per Term, | 9.00 | 9.00 |
| Recitation Rooms, and Ordinary Incidentals, | | |
| $2.00 per Term, | 6.00 | 6.00 |
| Fuel and Lights from $9.00 to $11.00, | 9.00 | 11.00 |
| Board, lowest price in Companies, $1.00 per week ; | | |
| highest price in Families, $2.00 per week ; making per year of thirty-nine weeks, | 39.00 | 78.00 |
| Good Board in Families may be had at $1.50 per week. | | |

The expenses for Room Rent, Fuel and Lights are estimated on the supposition that two students occupy the same room.

A small charge, additional to the regular Tuition, is requisite the third Term of the Sophomore year, for the instruction in French, and one of the terms of Junior or Senior year, for the Lectures on Anatomy.

In case of admission to an advanced standing, a fee of five dollars and fifty cents per Term, which is one half of the regular charge for Tuition, will be required, unless such standing shall have been obtained in another College.

There are some expenses, which result from taxes voluntarily imposed by the classes or societies. These, and expenses for furniture, stationery, &c., will vary according to circumstances and the character and habits of the student.

In incidental expenses, if the parent or guardian furnishes money, or authorizes the contracting of debts, a student may be very extravagant. To guard against this, parents often deposit funds with some one approved by the Faculty, who for a trifling charge will give particular attention to the pecuniary affairs of the student, and render an account of expenditures.

It is earnestly recommended to all parents and guardians not to authorize the obtaining of credit, and not to pay debts unauthorized.

P A Y M E N T S .

The amount of the first Term Bill must be paid by each student on his admission. Each subsequent Term Bill becomes due at the close of the Term for which it is assessed. A bond with satisfactory surety for the payment of all the College Bills must be given by each student to the Treasurer, at the commencement of the term when he enters.

A S S I S T A N C E T O B E N E F I C I A R I E S .

The regular Term Bills of beneficiaries of Charitable Associations and other indigent pious youth preparing for the Christian Ministry, are ENTIRELY PAID from the fund appropriated to that purpose. A number of indigent students are gratuitously supplied in part with furniture.

CABINET AND LIBRARIES.

The Libraries of the College and the Literary Societies contain about 15,000 volumes. The College Library is accessible to all the students, and the charge to each is according to the use he may make of the books. The Libraries belonging to the two Literary Societies, are accessible to the members of the Societies, according to regulations established by themselves.

The Society of Inquiry has a small Library and a Museum.

The Natural History Society have a Cabinet of over 3000 specimens in Mineralogy, Geology, and Zoology.

The College Cabinet contains the following Collections.

1. Collection of Simple Minerals from America and Europe : 1850 specimens.

S U M M A R Y.

A D M I S S I O N .

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class are examined in the Grammar of the Latin and Greek languages, Virgil, Cicero's Select Orations, Sallust or Cæsar's Commentaries, Writing of Latin, the Greek of the Four Gospels, Jacob's Greek Reader or an equivalent, English Grammar, and Arithmetic.

Candidates for a higher standing are examined in the same, and also in the part of the Course of Study in College gone over by the Class to which they may desire admission.

The stated times for examination are the Wednesday preceding Commencement, and the first day of the following Term. But Candidates may be examined and admitted at other times in the year, excepting that no admission to the Senior Class is allowed later than the beginning of the second term.

Previously to examination the Candidate must exhibit satisfactory testimonials, that he sustains a good moral character. If he has been a member of any other College, he will be expected to present a certificate of regular dismission.

No one can be admitted to the Freshman Class until he has completed his fourteenth year; and no one to an advanced standing without a corresponding increase of age.

| Board, lowest price in Companies, $1.00 per week ; highest price in Families, $2.00 per week ; making per year of thirty-nine weeks ; | | | 39.00 | 78.00 |
| Good Board in Families may be had at $1.50 per week. | | | | |

The expenses for Room Rent, Fuel and Lights are estimated on the supposition that two students occupy the same room.

A small charge, additional to the regular Tuition, is requisite the third Term of the Sophomore year, for the instruction in German, which however is at the option of the student; and one of the terms of Junior or Senior year, for the Lectures on Anatomy.

In case of admission to an advanced standing, a fee of five dollars per Term, which is one half of the regular charge for Tuition, will be required, unless such standing shall have been obtained in another College.

There are some expenses, which result from taxes voluntarily imposed by the classes or societies. These, and expenses for furniture, stationery, &c., will vary according to circumstances and the character and habits of the student.

In incidental expenses, if the parent or guardian furnishes money, or authorizes the contracting of debts, a student may be very extravagant. To guard against this, parents often deposit funds with some one approved by the Faculty, who for a trifling charge will give particular attention to the pecuniary affairs of the student, and render an account of expenditures.

It is earnestly recommended to all parents and guardians not to authorize the obtaining of credit, and not to pay debts unauthorized.

P A Y M E N T S .

The amount of the first Term Bill must be paid by each student on his admission. Each subsequent Term Bill becomes due at the close of the Term for which it is assessed. A bond with satisfactory surety for the payment of all the College Bills must be given by each student to the Treasurer, at the commencement of the term when he enters.

A S S I S T A N C E T O B E N E F I C I A R I E S .

The regular Term Bills of beneficiaries of Charitable Associations and other indigent pious youth preparing for the Christian Ministry, are ENTIRELY PAID from the fund appropriated to that purpose. A number of indigent students are gratuitously supplied in part with furniture.

CABINET AND LIBRARIES.

The Libraries of the College and the Literary Societies contain about 15,000 volumes. The College Library is accessible to all the students, and the charge to each is according to the use he may make of the books. The Libraries belonging to the two Literary Societies, are accessible to the members of the Societies, according to regulations established by themselves.

The Society of Inquiry has a small Library and a Museum.

The Natural History Society have a Cabinet of over 3000 specimens, in Mineralogy, Geology, and Zoology.

The College Cabinet contains the following Collections:

1. Collection of Simple Minerals from America and Europe: 1850 specimens; Presented by Dr. Hitchcock mostly.
2. General Geological Collection: 840 specimens; Presented by Dr. Hitchcock.
3. Rocks, Minerals and Soils of Massachusetts: 3100 specimens.
4. Economic Collection of Rocks and Minerals from Europe: 300 specimens.
5. Rocks of Continental Europe, with characteristic Fossils: 600 specimens.
6. Rocks, Fossils and Minerals of North America: 3000 specimens.

16. Footmarks and Rain Drops in Stone: 200 Specimens.

ADDITIONS TO THE DEPARTMENTS OF NATURAL HISTORY AND ASTRONOMY DURING THE YEAR.

The Woods Cabinet and Lawrence Observatory.

(See the Frontispiece.)

These are united in one structure, though entirely distinct, and have been erected during the past summer, through the liberality of more than forty gentlemen, and the special exertions of Hon. Josiah B. Woods. The largest donor was Hon. Abbott Lawrence.

The Cabinet is an octagon, two stories high, and forty-two feet in diameter, with a gallery in the upper story; affording room for a large amount of specimens. It is fire proof, and built in the most substantial manner. The Observatory consists of an octagonal tower, fifty feet high, and sixteen feet in diameter, with a revolving dome and a transit room attached to one side.

SPECIMENS OFFERED TO THE ACCEPTANCE OF THE COLLEGE
BY PROFESSOR ADAMS.

1. A general series of Shells, containing 4500 species, and half a million of individuals, with a million of duplicates.
2. Some 15.000 specimens of insects from Europe and America.
3. Some 500 specimens of Mammals, Birds, Reptiles, Fishes, Crustaceans and Echinoderms.
4. Towards 2000 species of dried plants.
5. A complete suite of the Rocks and Minerals of the State of Vermont, amounting to 2000 specimens.
6. A suite of 1200 specimens of Clay-stone Concretions.

PROFESSOR SHEPARD'S COLLECTIONS.

This gentleman has already in part deposited in the New Cabinet, his rich and beautiful Mineralogical Collection, including the larger portion of his Meteoric specimens. The extensive suite of rocks, fossils, and zoological specimens, belonging to him, will likewise be deposited in the Cabinet, previous to next Commencement. Before that time, also, it is hoped that Professor Adams' collections may be displayed.

ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class are examined in the Grammar of the Latin and Greek languages, Virgil, Cicero's Select Orations, Sallust or Cæsar's Commentaries, Writing of Latin, the Greek of the Four Gospels, Jacob's Greek Reader or an equivalent, English Grammar, and Arithmetic.

Candidates for a higher standing are examined in the same, and also in the part of the Course of Study in College gone over by the Class to which they may desire admission.

The stated times for examination are the Wednesday preceding Commencement, and the first day of the following Term. But Candidates may be examined and admitted at other times in the year, excepting that no admission to the Senior Class is allowed later than the beginning of the second term.

Previously to examination the Candidate must exhibit satisfactory testimonials, that he sustains a good moral character. If he has been a member of any other College, he will be expected to present a certificate of regular dismissal.

No one can be admitted to the Freshman Class until he has completed his fourteenth year; and no one to an advanced standing without a corresponding increase of age.

There are three regular Recitations or Lectures daily, excepting Wednesday and Saturdays, on which there are two.

On every Wednesday afternoon there is a public Exercise in Declamation, in which the classes speak by divisions and for which they are prepared by private rehearsal before the Professor of Rhetoric. Seniors and Juniors deliver original Compositions.

There is a Biblical Exercise in the several classes once each week. These recitations are accompanied by familiar Lectures from the Instructors.

Public Worship is attended in the Chapel every sabbath; and Prayers every morning and evening.—One evening each week there is a Religious Service by the President or one of the Professors, which all the Students are invited to attend.

LECTURES.

1. On Chemistry, the third term.
2. Botany, and Geology, the third term.
3. Rhetoric, Oratory and English Literature, each term.
4. Natural Philosophy, each term.
5. Classical Literature or Antiquities, each term.
6. Agricultural Chemistry and Mineralogy, third term.
7. Psychology and Ethics, each term.
8. Natural Theology, embracing Anatomy and Physiology illustrated by the Manikin, first and second terms.
9. Zoology, the third term.

EXAMINATIONS.

1. Of all the Classes, at or near the close of the first and second Terms.
2. Of the Senior Class, six weeks preceding Commencement.
3. Of the three Lower Classes on the week preceding Commencement.

A record is kept by the Faculty, of the attainments of every student, and also of his delinquencies. Information concerning his proficiency and deportment is, when requested, communicated to the parent or guardian.

PUBLIC PERFORMANCES.

1. Exhibitions, in the second and third Terms.
2. Declamation on Tuesday evening preceding Commencement.
3. Commencement on the second Thursday of August.

On the day preceding Commencement several public Orations or Addresses are usually delivered before Societies connected with the College, by gentlemen invited from abroad.

VACATIONS.

1. Four weeks from Commencement.
2. Six weeks from the Wednesday preceding the annual State Thanksgiving.
3. Three weeks from the third Wednesday of April.

Such students as are obliged by their circumstances to teach school in winter, are allowed to be absent for the purpose.

EXPENSES.

The following are the principal necessary expenses, exclusive of vacations.

| | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---------|---------|
| Tuition, $10.00 per Term, | - | - | - | $30.00 | $30.00 |
| Room Rent, $2.00 per Term, | - | - | - | 6.00 | 6.00 |
| Recitation Rooms, and Ordinary Incidentals, | | | | | |
| $2.00 per Term, | - | - | - | 6.00 | 6.00 |
| Fuel and Lights from $9.00 to $11.00 | | | - | 9.00 | 11.00 |
| Board, lowest price in Companies, $1.00 per week ; | | | | | |
| highest price in Families, $2.00 per week ; | | | | | |
| making per year of thirty-nine weeks ; | | | | 39.00 | 78.00 |
| Good Board in Families may be had at $1.50 per week. | | | | | |

The expenses for Room Rent, Fuel and Lights are estimated on the supposition that two students occupy the same room.

A small charge, additional to the regular Tuition, is requisite the third Term of the Sophomore year, for the instruction in German, which however is at the option of the student; and one of the terms of Sophomore or Junior year, for the Lectures on Anatomy.

In case of admission to an advanced standing, a fee of five dollars per Term, which is one half of the regular charge for Tuition, will be required, unless such standing shall have been obtained in another College.

There are some expenses, which result from taxes voluntarily imposed by the classes or societies. These, and expenses for furniture, stationery, &c., will vary according to circumstances and the character and habits of the student.

In incidental expenses, if the parent or guardian furnishes money, or authorizes the contracting of debts, a student may be very extravagant. To guard against this, parents often deposit funds with some one approved by the Faculty, who for a trifling charge will give particular attention to the pecuniary affairs of the student, and render an account of expenditures.

It is earnestly recommended to all parents and guardians not to authorize the obtaining of credit, and not to pay debts unauthorized.

P A Y M E N T S .

The amount of the first Term Bill must be paid by each student on his admission. Each subsequent Term Bill becomes due at the close of the Term for which it is assessed. A bond with satisfactory surety for the payment of all the College Bills must be given by each student to the Treasurer, at the commencement of the term when he enters.

A S S I S T A N C E T O B E N E F I C I A R I E S .

The regular Term Bills of beneficiaries of Charitable Associations and other indigent pious youth preparing for the Christian Ministry, are ENTIRELY PAID from the fund appropriated to that purpose. A number of indigent students are gratuitously supplied in part with furniture.

L I B R A R I E S .

The Libraries of the College and the Literary Societies contain about 15,000 volumes. The College Library is accessible to all the students, and the charge to each is according to the use he may make of the books. The Libraries belonging to the two Literary Societies, are accessible to the members of the Societies, according to regulations established by themselves.

The Society of Inquiry has a small Library and a Museum.

C A B I N E T S A N D O B S E R V A T O R Y .

Within the last year the number of specimens of natural history presented to, or deposited in, the College, has increased the collections at least four fold, and the value still more. A new Cabinet in connection with an Astronomical Observatory has been erected at an expense of nine thousand dollars: some idea of which may be obtained from the sketch accompanying this catalogue.

The Lawrence Observatory consists of an octagonal tower, fifty feet high, and seventeen feet in diameter, with a revolving dome and a central pedestal, on which to place a telescope whenever it shall be obtained. To one side is attached a Transit Room, with a sliding roof, where are now mounted a Transit Instrument, an Astronomical Clock, and a Repeating Circle.

The Woods Cabinet is also an octagon, two stories high, and forty-two feet in diameter, with a gallery in the upper story. It is fire proof, and built in the most substantial manner.

The Collections of the College are now arranged into three distinct Groups. The lower room of the new Cabinet is entirely devoted to Geology: the upper room to Prof. Shepard's Collections: and the old Cabinet, with the small adjoining room, and the floor of the Library, to the Zoological Museum, mainly presented by Professors Adams and Hovey.

1. LOWER ROOM OF THE NEW CABINET.

In this room are the following Collections. 1. Rocks of Continental Europe with characteristic organic remains; 600 specimens. 2. Rocks of England with fossils; 600 specimens. 3. Missionary Collection of Rocks and fossils, mostly from Asia, presented chiefly by missionaries; 1200 specimens. 4. Rocks and fossils from the West Indies, presented by Professor Hovey; 225 specimens. 5. Rocks and fossils of the United States; 1500 specimens. 6. Rocks and Minerals of Connecticut, presented by Professor Shepard; 800 specimens. 8. Rocks and Minerals of Vermont, embracing 1200 specimens of Clay stones; 2000 specimens. 9. Fossil shells from the vicinity of Paris, presented by Monsieur E. Desor; 124 species. 10. Polished Marbles, Alabasters, Porphyries &c. arranged as Mosaic; 172 specimens. 11. Organic Remains, a regular series, from Continental Europe; 500 specimens. 12. Collection of fossil Footmarks, Rain Drops, &c.; 250 specimens. Total of the specimens in the room, 11,500.

2. UPPER ROOM.

This is mainly devoted to the collections deposited by Professor Shepard.

ON THE LOWER FLOOR.

1. Collection of Meteoric Irons and Stones, from 62 localities.
2. Collection of simple Minerals; exhibiting superb specimens of most of the species known; occupying the two upper shelves of the cases.
3. Numerous Geological specimens from this country and Europe, arranged geographically, on the two lower shelves.

IN THE GALLERY.

1. A collection of 1900 specimens of simple minerals, originally presented by Dr. Hitchcock, with additions by Prof. Shepard.
2. Economic Collection from Europe: 300 specimens.
3. Numerous Fishes, Reptiles, &c.
4. A large Collection of shells, with Corals, Sponges, &c., amounting, according to Prof. Shepard, to more than 3000 species.

3. THE ZOOLOGICAL MUSEUM.

1. The wall cases exhibit several hundred specimens of animals, commencing with man, (as shown by the Manikin and Skeleton,) and extending downwards to Zoophytes and Sponges in regular order.
2. In the horizontal cases of this room, and in those of the Library, are exhibited at least 5000 species, and a vast number of individuals, of Shells or Molluscs.
3. A part of the horizontal cases in the same rooms and in the small room adjoining the old cabinet, contain from 4000 to 5000 species of insects. The entire museum is estimated to contain upwards of 10,000 species.

S U M M A R Y .

A D M I S S I O N .

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class are examined in the Grammar of the Latin and Greek languages, Virgil, Cicero's Select Orations, Sallust, or Cæsar's Commentaries, Writing of Latin, the Greek of the Four Gospels, Jacob's Greek Reader or an equivalent, English Grammar, Arithmetic and Algebra through Simple Equations.

Candidates for a higher standing are examined in the same, and also in the part of the Course of Study in College gone over by the Class, to which they may desire admission.

The stated times for examination are the Wednesday preceding Commencement, and the first day of the following Term. But Candidates may be examined and admitted at other times in the year, excepting that no admission to the Senior Class is allowed later than the beginning of the second Term.

Previously to examination the candidate must exhibit satisfactory testimonials, that he sustains a good moral character. If he has been a member of any other College, he will be expected to present a certificate of regular dismission.

No one can be admitted to the Freshman Class, until he has completed his fourteenth year; and no one to an advanced standing, without a corresponding increase of age.

| | History of Philosophy, by Lectures. |
| | Wayland's Political Economy. |
| | Hitchcock's Geology. |
| | Latin and Greek reviewed. |

There are three regular Recitations or Lectures daily, excepting Wednesday and Saturday, when there are two.

On every Wednesday afternoon, there is a public Exercise in Declamation, in which the classes speak by divisions, and for which they are prepared by private rehearsal before the Professor of Rhetoric. Seniors and Juniors deliver original Compositions.

There is a Biblical Exercise in the several Classes once each week. These recitations are accompanied by familiar Lectures from the Instructors.

Public Worship is attended in the Chapel every Sabbath; and Prayers every morning and evening. One evening each week, there is a Religious Service by the President, or one of the Professors, which all the Students are invited to attend.

LECTURES.

1. On Chemistry, the third Term.
2. Botany, and Geology, the third Term.
3. Rhetoric, Oratory and English Literature, each Term.
4. Natural Philosophy, each Term.
5. Classical Literature, or Antiquities, each Term.
6. Agricultural Chemistry and Mineralogy, third Term.
7. Psychology, first and second Terms; Ethics, third Term.
8. Natural Theology, embracing Anatomy and Physiology, illustrated by the Manikin, first and second Terms.
9. Zoology, the first and third Terms.

EXAMINATIONS.

1. Of all the Classes, at or near the close of the first and second Terms.
2. Of the Senior Class, six weeks preceding Commencement.
3. Of the three Lower Classes on the week preceding Commencement.

A record is kept by the Faculty of the attainments of every student, and also of his delinquencies. Information concerning his proficiency and deportment is, when requested, communicated to the parent or guardian.

PUBLIC PERFORMANCES.

1. Exhibitions, in the second and third Terms.
2. Declamation on Tuesday evening preceding Commencement.
3. Commencement on the second Thursday of August. (Aug. 14, in 1851.)

On the day preceding Commencement, several public Orations or Addresses are usually delivered before Societies connected with the College, by gentlemen invited from abroad.

VACATIONS.

1. Four weeks from Commencement. (From Aug. 14, to Sept. 11, in 1851.)
2. Six weeks from the Wednesday preceding the annual State Thanksgiving. (Probably from Nov. 26, 1851, to Jan. 7, 1852.)
3. Three weeks from the third Wednesday of April. (From April 16, to May 7.)

Such students, as are obliged by their circumstances to teach school in winter, are allowed to be absent for the purpose.

EXPENSES.

The following are the principal necessary expenses, exclusive of vacations:

| | | | | | |
|---|-------|---|---|---------|---------|
| Tuition, $10.00 per Term, | - | - | - | $30.00 | $30.00 |
| Room Rent, $2.00 per Term, | - | - | - | 6.00 | 6.00 |
| Recitation Rooms, and Ordinary Incidentals, | | | | | |
| $2.00 per Term, | - | - | - | 6.00 | 6.00 |
| Fuel and Lights, from $9.00 to $11.00, | - | | | 9.00 | 11.00 |
| Board, lowest price in companies, 75 cents per week ; highest price in families, $2.00 per week ; making per year of thirty-nine weeks, | 29.25 | | | | 78.00 |
| Good board in families may be had at $1.50 per week. | | | | | |

The expenses for Room Rent, Fuel and Lights, are estimated on the supposition that two students occupy the same room.

A small charge, additional to the regular Tuition, is requisite the third Term of the Sophomore year, for the instruction in German, which however is at the option of the student; and one of the Terms of Sophomore or Junior year, for the Lectures on Anatomy.

In case of admission to an advanced standing, a fee of five dollars per Term, which is one-half of the regular charge for Tuition, will be required, unless such standing shall have been attained in another College.

There are some expenses, which result from taxes voluntarily imposed by the classes or societies. These, and expenses for furniture, stationery, &c., will vary according to circumstances and the character and habits of the student.

In incidental expenses, if the parent or guardian furnishes money, or authorizes the contracting of debts, a student may be very extravagant. To guard against this, parents often deposit funds with some one approved by the Faculty, who for a trifling charge will give particular attention to the pecuniary affairs of the student, and render an account of expenditures.

It is earnestly recommended to all parents and guardians not to authorize the obtaining of credit, and not to pay debts unauthorized.

P A Y M E N T S .

The amount of the first Term Bill must be paid by each student on his admission. Each subsequent Term Bill becomes due at the close of the Term for which it is assessed. A bond with satisfactory surety for the payment of all the College Bills must be given by each student to the Treasurer, at the commencement of the Term when he enters.

A S S I S T A N C E T O B E N E F I C I A R I E S .

The regular Term Bills of beneficiaries of Charitable Associations, and other indigent pious youth preparing for the Christian Ministry, are ENTIRELY PAID from the fund appropriated to that purpose. A number of indigent students are gratuitously supplied in part with furniture.

LIBRARIES AND CABINET.

The Libraries of the College and the Literary Societies contain about 15,000 volumes. The College Library is accessible to all the students, and the charge to each is according to the use he may make of the books. The Libraries belonging to the two Literary Societies are accessible to the members of the Societies, according to regulations established by themselves.

The Society of Inquiry has a small Museum.

The Cabinet, part of which is owned by the College, and a part deposited by its officers, occupies several rooms, and is arranged and labelled for study.

In Mineralogy, nearly all the known species are represented by about 4600 specimens.

In Geology, there are 9300 specimens of American, and 4900 specimens of Foreign, rocks and fossils.

In Zoology, there are about 1800 specimens of 350 species of vertebrated animals, 6000 species of shells, 5000 species of articulated animals, and 200 species of radiated animals.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class are examined in the Grammar of the Latin and Greek languages, Virgil, Cicero's Select Orations, Sallust or Cæsar's Commentaries, Writing of Latin, Jacobs's, Colton's, or Felton's Greek Reader or an equivalent, English Grammar, Arithmetic, and Algebra through Simple Equations.

Candidates for a higher standing are examined in the same, and also in the part of the Course of Study in College gone over by the Class, to which they may desire admission.

The stated times for examination are the Wednesday preceding Commencement, and the first day of the following Term. But Candidates may be examined and admitted at other times in the year, excepting that no admission to the Senior Class is allowed later than the beginning of the second Term.

Previously to examination the candidate must exhibit satisfactory testimonials, that he sustains a good moral character. If he has been a member of any other College, he will be expected to present a certificate of regular dismission.

No one can be admitted to the Freshman Class, until he has completed his fourteenth year; and no one to an advanced standing, without a corresponding increase of age.

| | History of Philosophy, by Lectures. |
| | Wayland's Political Economy. |
| | Natural Theology. |
| | Latin and Greek reviewed. |
| | Italian, at the option of the student. |

There are three regular Recitations or Lectures daily, excepting Wednesday and Saturday, when there are two.

On every Wednesday afternoon, there is a public Exercise in Declamation, in which the classes speak by divisions, and for which they are prepared by private rehearsal before the Professor of Rhetoric. Seniors and Juniors deliver original Compositions.

There is a Biblical Exercise in the several Classes once each week. These recitations are accompanied by familiar Lectures from the Instructors.

Public Worship is attended in the Chapel every Sabbath; and Prayers every morning and evening. One evening each week, there is a Religious Service by the President, or one of the Professors, which all the Students are invited to attend.

L E C T U R E S .

1. On Chemistry, and Botany, the third Term.
2. Geology, the first Term.
3. Rhetoric, Oratory and English Literature, each Term.
4. Natural Philosophy, each Term.
5. Classical Literature, or Antiquities, each Term.
6. Agricultural Chemistry and Mineralogy, third Term.
7. Psychology, first and second Terms; Ethics, third Term.
8. Anatomy and Physiology, illustrated by the Manikin, first and second Terms.
9. Zoology, the first and third Terms.
10. Natural Theology the third Term.

E X A M I N A T I O N S .

1. Of all the Classes, at or near the close of the first and second Terms.
2. Of the Senior Class, six weeks preceding Commencement.
3. Of the three Lower Classes on the week preceding Commencement.

A record is kept by the Faculty of the attainments of every student, and also of his delinquencies. Information concerning his proficiency and deportment is, when requested, communicated to the parent or guardian.

P U B L I C P E R F O R M A N C E S .

1. Exhibitions, in the second and third Terms.
2. Declamation on Tuesday evening preceding Commencement.
3. Commencement on the second Thursday of August. (Aug. 12, in 1852.)

On the day preceding Commencement, several public Orations or Addresses are usually delivered before Societies connected with the College, by gentlemen invited from abroad.

VACATIONS.

1. Four weeks from Commencement. (From Aug. 12, to Sept. 9, in 1852.)

2. Six weeks from the Wednesday preceding the annual State Thanksgiving. (From Nov. 26, 1851, to Jan. 7, 1852.)

3. Three weeks from the third Wednesday of April. (From April 14. to May 5.)

Such students, as are obliged by their circumstances to teach school in winter, are allowed to be absent for the purpose.

EXPENSES.

The following are the principal necessary expenses, exclusive of vacations:

| | | | | |
|----------------------------|---|---|---------|---------|
| Tuition, $10.00 per Term, | - | - | $30.00 | $30.00 |

| | | | | |
|---|--|--|--|--|
| Good board in families may be had at $1.50 per week. | | | | |
|---|--|--|--|--|

The expenses for Room Rent, Fuel and Lights, are estimated on the supposition that two students occupy the same room.

A small charge, additional to the regular Tuition, is requisite in one of the Terms of Sophomore or Junior year, for the Lectures on Anatomy.

In case of admission to an advanced standing, a fee of five dollars per Term, which is one-half of the regular charge for Tuition, will be required, unless such standing shall have been attained in another College.

There are some expenses, which result from taxes voluntarily imposed by the classes or societies. These, and expenses for furniture, stationery, &c., will vary according to circumstances and the character and habits of the student.

In incidental expenses, if the parent or guardian furnishes money, or authorizes the contracting of debts, a student may be very extravagant. To guard against this, parents often deposit funds with some one approved by the Faculty, who for a trifling charge will give particular attention to the pecuniary affairs of the student, and render an account of expenditures.

It is earnestly recommended to all parents and guardians not to authorize the obtaining of credit, and not to pay debts unauthorized.

P A Y M E N T S .

The amount of the first Term Bill must be paid by each student on his admission. Each subsequent Term Bill becomes due at the close of the Term for which it is assessed. A bond with satisfactory surety for the payment of all the College Bills must be given by each student to the Treasurer, at the commencement of the Term when he enters.

A S S I S T A N C E T O B E N E F I C I A R I E S .

The regular Term Bills of beneficiaries of Charitable Associations, and other indigent pious youth preparing for the Christian Ministry, are entirely paid from the fund appropriated to that purpose. A number of indigent students are gratuitously supplied in part with furniture.

LIBRARIES AND CABINET.

The Libraries of the College and Literary Societies contain about 15,000 volumes. Through the liberality of the friends of the College and of learning, considerable additions will be made to the College Library during the present year; and a few thousand dollars added to the subscription will enable the Trustees to erect a Library Building. The College Library is accessible to all the students, and the charge to each is according to the use he may make of the books. The Libraries belonging to the two Literary Societies are accessible to the members of the Societies, according to regulations established by themselves.

The Society of Inquiry has a small Museum.

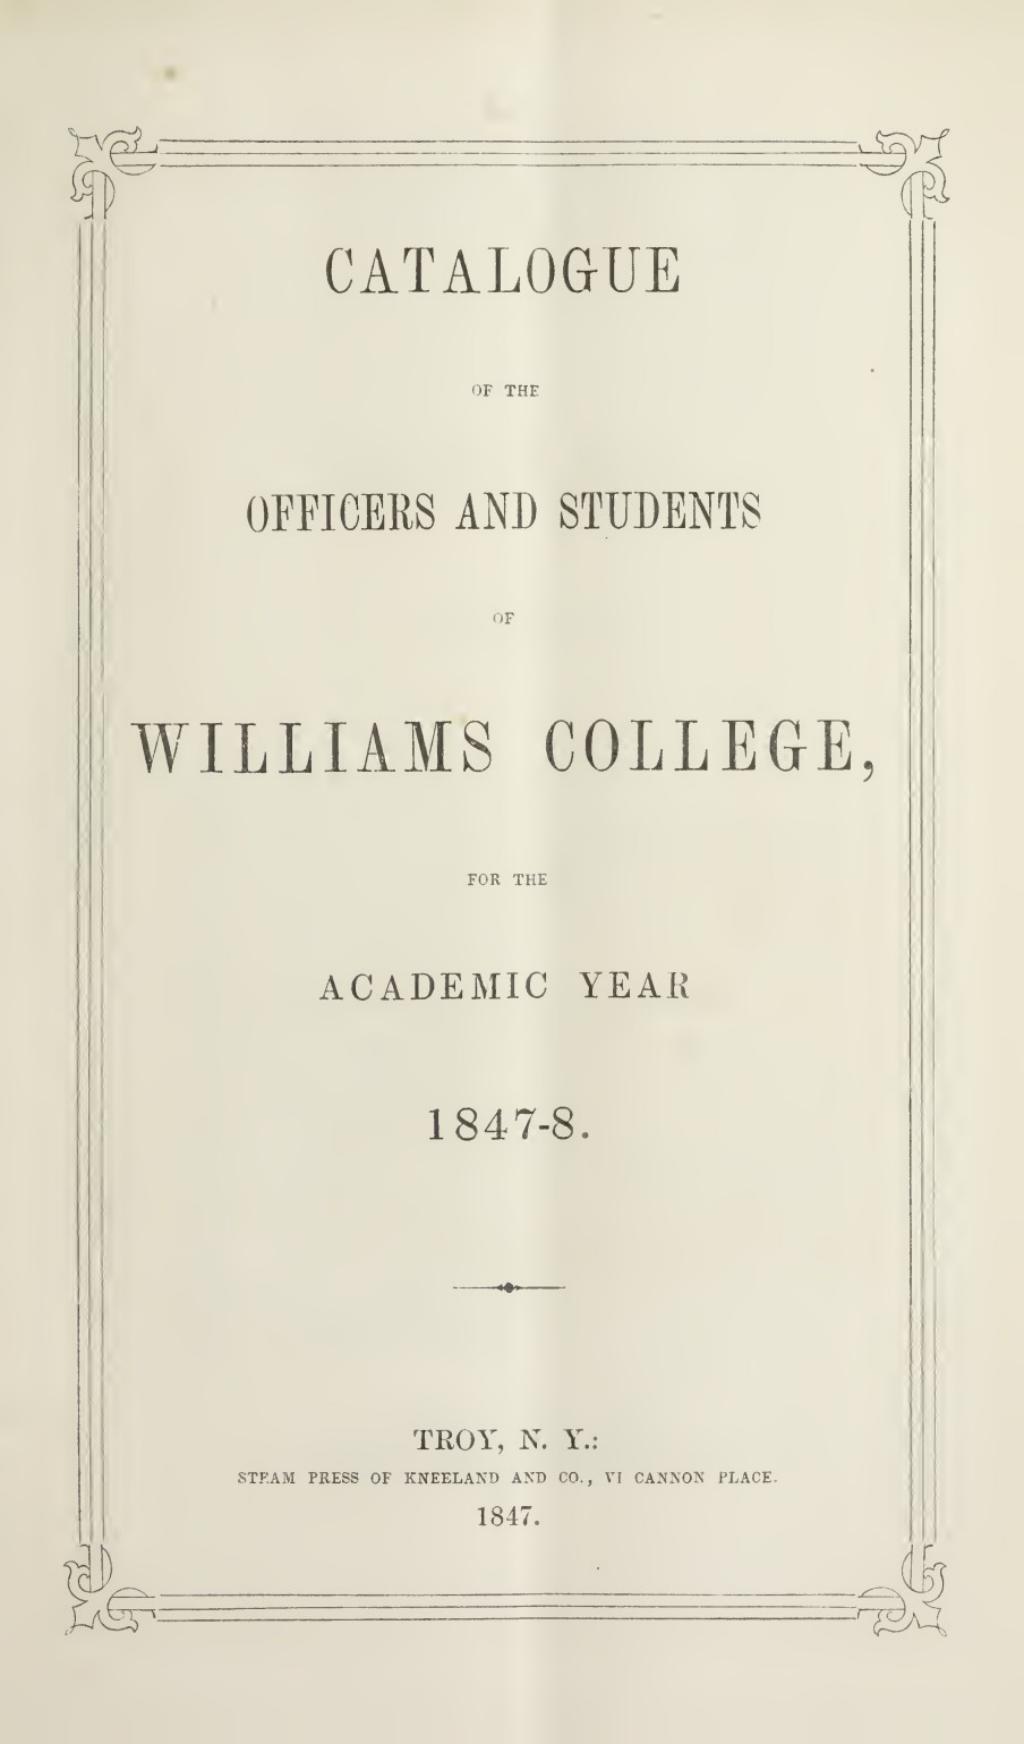

The Cabinet, part of which is owned by the College, and a part deposited by its officers, occupies several rooms, and is arranged and labelled for study.

In Mineralogy, nearly all the known species are represented by about 4600 specimens.

In Geology, there are 9300 specimens of American, and 4900 specimens of Foreign, rocks and fossils.

ADMISSION, COURSE OF INSTRUCTION, Etc.

TERMS OF ADMISSION.

CANDIDATES for admission to the Freshman Class, are examined in Geography, Vulgar Arithmetic, and Algebra through Simple Equations; in English, Latin, and Greek Grammar, including Prosody; in Virgil and Cicero's Select Orations; in Cæsar's Commentaries, or Sallust; and in the Greek Testament and in Jacobs', Colton's or Felton's Greek Reader.

For admission to an advanced standing, an examination must also be sustained in the studies to which the class have attended since admission.

The stated time for admission is on the day preceding Commencement; but persons may be examined in any other part of College Terms.

Testimonials of good moral character are in all cases required, and a probation of six months before students are matriculated, during which time they are subject to all the laws and regulations of College.

Many who apply for admission, are imperfectly prepared in the English studies, particularly in Arithmetic and Geography. As these studies are not pursued in College, it is necessary that the preparation in them should be full and thorough.

OBSERVATORIES, APPARATUS, ETC.

The lectures in Astronomy are accompanied by celestial observations, and instructions in the use of instruments. An Astronomical Observatory supplies important facilities for these purposes; and a Magnetic Observatory, for ascertaining and exhibiting the laws of Terrestrial Magnetism, has just been completed. The Philosophical and Chemical Apparatus has been recently enlarged by the Alumni, at an expense of several thousand dollars, and the Lectures on Mineralogy are illustrated by a well selected and extensive Cabinet. An Anatomical Figure, by Dr. Auzoux, is used in the illustrations in Anatomy.

A new and commodious Chemical Laboratory and Lecture Room have just been finished, and a Library Building is now completed.

DECLAMATIONS.

Declamations from all the classes every Wednesday in the Chapel.

ATTENDANCE.

Punctual attendance is required at church, and at morning and evening prayers, as well as on other College exercises. A record is kept of all delinquencies in these duties, and, with an account of the general deportment of each student, is sent to his parent or guardian at the close of each term.

EXAMINATIONS.

All the Classes are examined before the close of the second term.

The Senior Class, the third Wednesday in July, and the day previous.

The three lower Classes, the week before Commencement.

PUBLIC EXHIBITIONS.

Of the Junior Class, the close of the second term.

Of the Adelphic Union Society, third Wednesday in July.

Prize Rhetorical exercise, the evening before Commencement.

VACATIONS.

The first, from Commencement, four weeks.

The second, from the third Wednesday in December, six weeks.

The third, from the first Wednesday in May, three weeks.

COMMENCEMENT is on the third Wednesday in August.

Students are required to be present the whole of term time, unless excused by the President. The loss of even a few days, especially at the beginning of a term, is exceedingly undesirable.

EXPENSES.

| | | |
|---|---------|------------------------|
| Tuition, $10 a term,..... | $30 00 | $30 00 |
| Room Rent, Library charges, ordinary repairs, &c.,..... | 9 00 | 11 00 |
| Board, from $1.25 to $2.00 per week,..... | 51 00 | 78 00 |
| Washing..... | 5 00 | 10 00 |
| Fuel,..... | 5 00 | 10 00 |
| | | $100 00 $139 00 |

The amount of incidental expenses will depend very much on the habits of the student and the liberality of his allowance. It is earnestly recommended to Parents and Guardians not to authorize their sons and wards to obtain credits here, and not to pay debts contracted without their authority.

No back tuition is required ; but those who enter on an advanced standing, unless they come from another College, pay the following sums as entrance money, viz : Sophomores, $10 ; Juniors, $15 ; Seniors, $20.

The income of the Charity Funds, amounting to about eight hundred dollars per annum, is distributed among indigent young men of merit, to aid them in the payment of their bills. This pays about two thirds of the tuition of those who apply. No application for this aid will be considered while the applicant is in arrears for the other charges besides tuition, in more than one term bill.

Text Books for the whole course may in most cases be procured from the Franklin Library, by the payment of three dollars.

LIBRARIES.

The College Library is open to the Senior and Junior Classes the first Friday of the term, and every Wednesday.

To the Sophomore and Freshman Classes, every Saturday.

To all the Classes, for the return of Books, the last Monday of the term.

The Libraries of the Literary Societies are open to all Classes Wednesdays and Saturdays.

The Franklin Library is open for the delivery of Text Books, at the beginning of every term to all the Classes.

The Theological Library is open every other Monday.

TERMS OF ADMISSION.

CANDIDATES for admission to the Freshman Class, are examined in Geography, Vulgar Arithmetic, and Algebra, through Simple Equations; in English, Latin, and Greek Grammar,* including Prosody; in Cicero's Select Orations, the whole of Virgil; Caesar's Commentaries, or Sallust; Jacobs', Colton's or Felton's Greek Reader, and in the Greek Testament.

For admission to an advanced standing, an examination must also be sustained in the studies to which the class have attended since admission.

The stated time for admission is on the day preceding Commencement; but persons may be examined in any other part of College Terms.

Testimonials of good moral character are in all cases required, and a probation of six months before students are matriculated, during which time they are subject to all the laws and regulations of College.

Many who apply for admission are imperfectly prepared in the English studies, particularly in Arithmetic and Geography. As these studies are not pursued in College, it is necessary that the preparation in them should be full and thorough.

LECTURES.

1. On Natural Philosophy, first, second and third term.
2. Chemistry, first and third term.
3. Anatomy and Physiology, first term.
4. Mineralogy and Geology, the third term.
5. Botany, the second term.
6. Intellectual and Moral Philosophy, first and second term.
7. Rhetoric, the first term.
8. International Law, the second term.

OBSERVATORIES, APPARATUS, ETC.

The lectures in Astronomy are accompanied by celestial observations, and instructions in the use of instruments. An Astronomical Observatory supplies important facilities for these purposes; and a Magnetic Observatory, for ascertaining and exhibiting the laws of Terrestrial Magnetism, has just been completed. The Philosophical and Chemical Apparatus has been recently enlarged by the Alumni, at an expense of several thousand dollars, and the Lectures on Mineralogy are illustrated by a well selected and extensive Cabinet. An Anatomical figure, by Dr. Auzoux, is used in the illustrations in Anatomy.

A new and commodious Chemical Laboratory and Lecture Room have just been finished, and a Library Building is now completed. Prof. Emmons has presented to the College his large and valuable collections in Geology and Mineralogy; and these, in addition to the present Cabinet, will furnish ample facilities for illustrations in those departments. Prof. E. will devote the larger portion of the year to instruction in the various branches of Natural History, and to further collections.

DECLAMATIONS.

Declamations from all the classes every Wednesday, in the Chapel.

ATTENDANCE.

Punctual attendance is required at church, and at morning and evening prayers, as well as on other College exercises. A record is kept of all delinquencies in these duties, and, with an account of the general deportment of each student, is sent to his parent or guardian at the close of each term.

EXAMINATIONS.

All the Classes are examined before the close of the second term.
 The Senior Class, the third Wednesday in July and the day previous.
 The three lower classes, the week before Commencement.

PUBLIC EXHIBITIONS.

Of the Junior Class, the close of the second term.
 Of the Adelphic Union Society, third Wednesday in July.
 Prize Rhetorical exercise, the evening before Commencement.

VACATIONS.

The first from Commencement, four weeks.
 The second, from the second Wednesday in December, six weeks.
 The third, from the first Wednesday in May, three weeks.
 COMMENCEMENT is on the third Wednesday in August.
 Students are required to be present the whole of term time, unless excused by the President. The loss of even a few days, especially at the beginning of a term, is exceedingly undesirable.

EXPENSES.

| | | |
|---|----------|----------|
| Tuition, $10 a term,..... | $30 00 | $30 00 |
| Room Rent, Library charges, ordinary repairs, &c.,..... | 9 00 | 11 00 |
| Board, from $1.25 to $2.00 per week,..... | 51 00 | 78 00 |
| Washing,..... | 5 00 | 10 00 |
| Fuel,..... | 5 00 | 10 00 |
| | <hr/> | <hr/> |
| | $100 00 | $139 00 |

The amount of incidental expenses will depend very much on the habits of the student and the liberality of his allowance. It is earnestly recommended to Parents and Guardians not to authorize their sons and wards to obtain credits here, and not to pay debts contracted without their authority.

No back tuition is required; but those who enter on an advanced standing, unless they come from another College, pay the following sums as entrance money, viz: Sophomores, $10; Juniors, $15; Seniors, $20.

The income of the Charity Funds, amounting to about eight hundred dollars per annum, is distributed among indigent young men of merit, to aid them in the payment of their bills. This pays about two-thirds of the tuition of those who apply. No application for this aid will be considered while the applicant is in arrears for the other charges besides tuition, in more than one term bill.

Text Books for the whole course may in most cases be procured from the Franklin Library, by the payment of three dollars.

LIBRARIES.

The College Library is open to the Senior and Junior Classes the first Friday of the term, and every Wednesday.

To the Sophomore and Freshman Classes every Saturday.

To all the Classes, for the return of books, the last Monday of the term.

The Libraries of the Literary Societies are open to all Classes Wednesdays and Saturdays.

The Franklin Library is open for the delivery of Text Books at the beginning of every term to all the Classes.

The Theological Library is open every other Monday.

A D M I S S I O N .

A L L Candidates for admission must present satisfactory testimonials of good moral character; and, if from other Colleges, of unexceptionable standing.

Candidates for the Freshman Class are examined in the Grammar of the English, Latin, and Greek Languages; the whole of Virgil; Cicero's Select Orations; Sallust; the Four Gospels; Jacobs' Greek Reader, or an equivalent; Latin and Greek Prosody; Arithmetic; Bourdon's Algebra, through Equations of the First Degree; and Ancient and Modern Geography. Translations from English into Latin are also required.

Candidates for advanced standing, in addition to the above studies, are examined in the studies that have been pursued by the class which they propose to enter, or in others equivalent to them.

The times for examination are the Tuesday before Commencement, and the close of the vacation immediately following.

Persons who desire to attend the lectures and recitations of particular departments only, may have that privilege—provided they are prepared to enter upon the studies of such departments, and become subject to the laws of College, as other students, so far as may be designated by the Faculty.

N o t e. The deficiency of many candidates for admission, in Greek, Latin and English Grammar, in Latin Prosody and Composition, in Arithmetic and in Geography, makes it necessary to require particular attention to those branches of the preparatory course.

ADMISSION.

ALL Candidates for admission must present satisfactory testimonials of good moral character; and, if from other Colleges, of unexceptionable standing.

Candidates for the Freshman Class are examined in the Grammar of the English, Latin, and Greek Languages; the whole of Virgil; Cicero's Select Orations; Sallust; the Four Gospels; Jacobs' Greek Reader, or an equivalent; Latin and Greek Prosody; Arithmetic; Bourdon's Algebra, through Equations of the First Degree; and Ancient and Modern Geography. Translations from English into Latin are also required.

Candidates for advanced standing, in addition to the above studies, are examined in the studies that have been pursued by the class which they propose to enter, or in others equivalent to them.

The times for examination are the Tuesday before Commencement, and the close of the vacation immediately following.

Persons who desire to attend the lectures and recitations of particular departments only, may have that privilege—provided they are prepared to enter upon the studies of such departments, and become subject to the laws of the College, as other students, so far as may be designated by the Faculty.

Note. The deficiency of many candidates for admission, in Greek, Latin, and English Grammar, in Prosody, in Latin Composition, in Arithmetic and in Geography, makes it necessary to require particular attention to those branches of the preparatory course.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.

LECTURES.

The Annual Course of MEDICAL LECTURES begins on the Monday succeeding Commencement, and continues sixteen weeks. The Fee for the Course is Fifty Dollars. The Matriculating Fee is Five Dollars, which also entitles to the use of the Library. The Students have free access to the Anatomical Museum, to the Cabinet of Materia Medica and Medical Botany, and to the extensive Cabinet of Mineralogy and Geology. Surgical operations are performed before the Class gratuitously.

GRADUATION.

Each candidate for the Degree of M. D. must be twenty-one years of age ; must possess a good moral character, an acquaintance with Natural and Experimental Philosophy, and a knowledge of the principles and construction of the Latin Language ; must have studied Medicine three full years, with some regular practitioner ; must have attended two Courses of public Lectures in all the branches of the profession, at a regularly organized Medical Institution, one of which Courses shall have been attended at this Institution ; must have passed a successful private examination before the Medical Faculty ; and must have read and defended, in their presence, an acceptable Dissertation on some Medical subject.

The Graduating expenses are Eighteen Dollars.

Those wishing for further information respecting the New Hampshire Medical Institution, may address E. R. PEASLEE, M. D., Secretary of the Medical Faculty, or any one of the Professors.

ADMISSION.

ALL Candidates for admission must present satisfactory testimonials of good moral character, and, if from other Colleges, of unexceptionable standing.

Candidates for the Freshman Class are examined in the Grammar of the English, Latin, and Greek Languages; the whole of Virgil; Cicero's Select Orations; Sallust; Five Books of Xenophon's Anabasis, and Four Books of Homer's Iliad;* Latin and Greek Prosody; Arithmetic; Chase's Algebra, through Equations of the First Degree; and Ancient and Modern Geography. Translations from English into Latin are also required.

Candidates for advanced standing, in addition to the above studies, are examined in the studies that have been pursued by the class which they propose to enter, or in others equivalent to them.

The times for examination are the Tuesday before Commencement, and the close of the vacation immediately following.

Persons who desire to attend the lectures and recitations of particular departments only, may have that privilege—provided they are prepared to enter upon the studies of such departments, and become subject to the laws of the College, as other students, so far as may be designated by the Faculty.

Note. The deficiency of many candidates for admission, in Greek, Latin, and English Grammar, in Prosody, in Latin Composition, in Arithmetic and in Geography, makes it necessary to require particular attention to those branches of the preparatory course.

COURSE OF STUDY.

A D M I S S I O N .

A L L Candidates for admission must present satisfactory testimonials of good moral character; and, if from other Colleges, of unexceptionable standing.

Candidates for the Freshman Class are examined in the following books.

GREEK.

Xenophon's Anabasis, Five Books; Homer's Iliad, Four Books;* Greek Grammar, including Prosody.

LATIN.

MATHEMATICS.

Arithmetic; Chase's Algebra, through Equations of the First Degree.

ENGLISH.

English Grammar; Ancient and Modern Geography.

Candidates for advanced standing, in addition to the above studies, are examined in the studies that have been pursued by the class which they propose to enter, or in others equivalent to them.

The times for examination are the Tuesday before Commencement, and the close of the vacation immediately following.

Persons who desire to attend the lectures and recitations of particular departments only, may have that privilege—provided that they are prepared to enter upon the studies of such departments, and become subject to the laws of the College, as other students, so far as may be designated by the Faculty.

Note. It is very important that the candidates should be thoroughly prepared, particularly in elementary knowledge. The deficiency of many candidates for admission in Greek, Latin, and English Grammar, in Prosody, in Latin Composition, in Arithmetic, and in Geography, makes it necessary to require particular attention to those branches of the preparatory course.

* Felton's Greek Reader is accepted as an equivalent to these requisitions in Greek; or Jacobs', Colton's, or Spencer's Greek Reader, with the Four Gospels.

A Biblical Exercise is attended by all the classes on Monday morning.

Occasional lectures are delivered by the President to the Senior class, on subjects relating to the studies of the year.

Lectures are also delivered in the course of the year:—

By Professor YOUNG, on Natural Philosophy and Astronomy, to the Juniors.

By Professor HUBBARD, on Chemistry and Geology, to the Seniors.

By Professor BROWN, on Rhetoric and Belles Lettres, to the Seniors and Juniors.

By Professor SANBORN, on History, to the Sophomores.

By Professor NOYES, on Theology and Moral Philosophy.

By Professor PEASLEE, on Anatomy and Physiology, to the Seniors.

EXAMINATIONS.

There are two Public Examinations of the several classes, the one at the close of the Fall Term, and the other immediately before Commencement. Each Examination is conducted in the presence, and under the direction of a Committee of gentlemen of education, invited by the Faculty to attend for that purpose. The Committee are expected, at the examination, to express their judgment upon the merits of each student, and to recommend that he be advanced or degraded, as in their opinion he may deserve.

The following gentlemen were the Committee for the Academical year 1849–50.

Rev. John Richards, D. D.

Rev. James Wilson Ward.

Rev. Samuel Lee.

Prof. Edmund R. Peaslee, M. D.

Stoddard B. Colby, Esq.

Lyman Mason, Esq.

LIBRARIES.

There are three Libraries accessible to the students besides the Medical Library, and the Library of the Northern Academy of Arts and Sciences. The income of a small fund is devoted to the increase of the College Library. The Libraries of the two Literary Societies are increased by donations from the members of each.

The number of books in the different Libraries connected with the College, is as follows:—

| | | |
|---|---------|--------|
| College Library, (exclusive of pamphlets) | about | 6,600 |
| Social Friends' Library, | - - - - | 6,773 |
| United Fraternity's Library, | - - - - | 6,602 |
| Medical Library, about | - - - - | 1,200 |
| Library of the Northern Academy, about | - | 1,300 |
| <hr/> | | |
| Total, | - - - - | 22,475 |

The Library last mentioned contains, besides bound volumes, a large number of newspapers and pamphlets, carefully arranged, but unbound.

APPARATUS AND CABINET.

In addition to the usual apparatus for illustrating the several branches of Physical Science, the College is furnished with the best instruments now used in practical Surveying and Engineering.

The large Telescope recently purchased is mounted in a temporary building, until means can be procured for the erection of a permanent Observatory.

The Instrument was manufactured at Munich, by Merz & Mahler, and is like the Refractors of the Cambridge and Cincinnati Observatories, being rather more than half the size of the latter, and just three-sevenths of that of the former. It has an object glass with a clear aperture of six and four-tenths inches, and a focal length of eight feet seven inches; and is furnished with eighteen eye-glasses of various kinds, magnifying from thirty-six to nine hundred and forty times. It has two Micrometers, a Double Ring, and Filar Position, the latter having eleven fixed, and two movable spider lines, illuminated either in a dark or a bright field at the pleasure of the observer. It is mounted Equatorially, with circles of thirteen and ten inches diameter, graduated on silver, so as to read, in Declination, to ten seconds of arc, and in Right Ascension, to four seconds of time. The whole is so nicely balanced on polished friction rollers, that the action of a delicate clock, with a revolving pendulum, carries the telescope with a smooth and equable movement, in exact accordance with the apparent motion of a star. The building also contains an Astronomical Clock, by Frauenhofer, and a small Altitude and Azimuth Instrument, which, for the present, is used as a Transit circle.

The Hall Cabinet, presented by the late Prof. Hall, contains a large collection of specimens of rocks, minerals and fossils, both American and foreign, sufficient for extensive illustration in Mineralogy and Geology.

It contains a fine suite of Vesuvian rocks and minerals—a suite of the rocks of New York—and a collection of the Tertiary rocks and shells of Virginia.

The instruction in Geology is aided by a series of well-executed drawings, on a large scale.

FUNDS FOR THE ASSISTANCE OF INDIGENT STUDENTS.

Indigent students belonging to New Hampshire are assisted, in respect to tuition, by funds derived from the income of certain lands granted by the State.

Students intended for the Ministry, also receive appropriations from funds given for their particular benefit.

These several funds now yield an income of about seven hundred dollars, which is distributed according to the necessities of students, in sums varying from twelve to thirty dollars.

RESIDENT GRADUATES.

Graduates of this or other Colleges desirous of pursuing their studies in Hanover, are allowed, as Resident Graduates, to attend the Public Lectures of the College, and to use the Library and Scientific Collections, subject to such rules as the Faculty may see fit to establish.

DEGREE OF MASTER OF ARTS.

The degree of Master of Arts is conferred in course on every Bachelor of three years' standing, on the payment of the usual fee. Graduates of longer standing may have the Master's degree upon the same condition. The fee is five dollars, payable in advance. Application should be made to the President or to the Treasurer as early as the day before Commencement.

EXPENSES.

- August 28. Examination for admission to College—Thursday.
 August 29. Fall Term begins—Friday morning.

Students, whose circumstances render it necessary for them to take schools in the winter, are permitted to be absent fourteen weeks from the close of the Fall Term.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.

LECTURES.

THE Annual Course of MEDICAL LECTURES begins on the Thursday succeeding Commencement, and continues fourteen weeks. The Fee for the Course is Fifty Dollars. The Matriculating Fee is Five Dollars, which also entitles to the use of the Library. The Students have free access to the Anatomical Museum, to the Cabinet of Materia Medica and Medical Botany, and to the extensive Cabinet of Mineralogy and Geology. Surgical operations are performed before the class gratuitously.

GRADUATION.

Each Candidate for the Degree of M. D. must be twenty-one years of age; must possess a good moral character, an acquaintance with Natural and Experimental Philosophy, and a knowledge of the principles and construction of the Latin Language; must have studied Medicine three full years, with some regular practitioner; must have attended two courses of Public Lectures in all the branches of the profession, at a regularly organized Medical Institution, one of which courses shall have been attended at this Institution; must have passed a successful private examination before the Medical Faculty; and must be prepared to read and defend, in their presence, an acceptable dissertation on some Medical subject.

The Graduating expenses are eighteen dollars.

Those wishing for further information respecting the New Hampshire Medical Institution, may address E. R. Peaslee, M. D., Secretary of the Medical Faculty, or any one of the Professors.

ADMISSION.

ALL Candidates for admission must present satisfactory testimonials of good moral character; and, if from other Colleges, of unexceptionable standing.

Candidates for the Freshman Class are examined in the following books.

GREEK.

Xenophon's Anabasis, Five Books; Homer's Iliad, Four Books;* Greek Grammar, including Prosody.

LATIN.

MATHEMATICS.

Arithmetic; Chase's Algebra, through Equations of the First Degree.

ENGLISH.

English Grammar; Ancient and Modern Geography.

Candidates for advanced standing, in addition to the above studies, are examined in the studies that have been pursued by the class which they propose to enter, or in others equivalent to them.

The times for examination are the Tuesday before Commencement, and the close of the vacation immediately following.

Persons who desire to attend the lectures and recitations of particular departments only, may have that privilege—provided, they are prepared to enter upon the studies of such departments, and become subject to the laws of the College, as other students, so far as may be designated by the Faculty.

Note. It is very important that the candidates for admission should be thoroughly prepared, particularly in elementary knowledge. The deficiency of many in Greek, Latin, and English Grammar, in Prosody, Latin Composition, Arithmetic, and Geography, makes it necessary to require especial attention to these branches of the preparatory course.

* Felton's Greek Reader is accepted as an equivalent to these requisitions in Greek; or Jacobs', Colton's, or Spencer's Greek Reader, with the Four Gospels.

By Professor BROWN, on Rhetoric and Belles Lettres, to the Seniors and Juniors.

By Professor SANBORN, on History, to the Sophomores.

By Professor NOYES, on Theology and Moral Philosophy.

By Professor PEASLEE, on Anatomy and Physiology, to the Seniors.

Mr. J. B. TORRICELLI will give instruction in the Modern Languages during the Winter Term.

EXAMINATIONS.

There are two Public Examinations of the several classes, the one at the close of the Fall Term, and the other immediately before Commencement. Each Examination is conducted in the presence, and under the direction of a committee of gentlemen of education, invited by the Faculty to attend for that purpose. The committee are expected, at the close of the examination, to express their judgment upon the merits of each student, and to recommend that he be advanced or degraded, as in their opinion he may deserve.

The following gentlemen were the Committee for the Academical year 1850-1:—

Rev. Jonas De Forest Richards, Charlestown.

Cyrus Baldwin, A. M., Meriden.

Rev. Silas Aiken, Rutland, Vt.

Hon. William Plumer, Epping.

James Kelsey Colby, A. M., St. Johnsbury, Vt.

Rev. Henry E. Parker, Concord.

LIBRARIES.

There are three Libraries accessible to the students beside the Medical Library, and the Library of the Northern Academy of Arts and Sciences. An annual appropriation is made for the increase of the College Library. The Libraries of the two Literary Societies are increased by annual donations from the members of each.

The number of books in the different Libraries connected with the College, is as follows :—

|---|--------|
| College Library, (exclusive of pamphlets) about | 6,700 |
| Social Friends' Library, - - - - - | 7,000 |
| United Fraternity's Library, - - - - - | 6,900 |
| Society of Inquiry's Library, - - - - - | 500 |
| Medical Library, about - - - - - | 1,200 |
| Library of the Northern Academy, about - | 1,300 |
| Total, - - - - - | 23,600 |

The Library last mentioned contains, besides bound volumes, a large number of newspapers and pamphlets, carefully arranged.

APPARATUS AND CABINET.

In addition to the usual apparatus for illustrating the several branches of Physical Science, the College is furnished with the best instruments now used in practical Surveying and Engineering.

The large Telescope recently purchased is mounted in a temporary building, until means can be procured for the erection of a permanent Observatory.

The Instrument was manufactured at Munich, by Merz & Mahler, and is like the Refractors of the Cambridge and Cincinnati Observatories, being rather more than half the size of the latter, and just three-sevenths of that of the former. It has an object glass with a clear aperture of six and four-tenths inches, and a focal length of eight feet seven inches ; and is furnished with eighteen eye-glasses of various kinds, magnifying from thirty-six to nine hundred and forty times. It has two Micrometers, a Double Ring, and Filar Position ; the latter having eleven fixed, and two movable Spider Lines, illuminated either in a dark or a bright field, at the pleasure of the observer. It is mounted Equatorially, with circles of thirteen and ten inches diameter, graduated on silver, so as to read, in Declination, to ten seconds of arc, and in Right Ascension, to four seconds of time. The whole is so nicely balanced on polished friction rollers, that the action of a delicate clock, with a revolving pendulum, carries the Telescope with a smooth and equable movement, in exact accordance with the apparent motion of a star. The building also contains an Astronomical Clock, by Fraunhofer, and a small Altitude and Azimuth Instrument, which, for the present, is used as a Transit Circle.

The Hall Cabinet, presented by the late Prof. Frederick Hall, contains a large collection of specimens of rocks, minerals and fossils, both American and foreign, sufficient for extensive illustration in Mineralogy and Geology.

The instruction in Geology is aided by a series of well-executed drawings, on a large scale.

FUNDS FOR THE ASSISTANCE OF INDIGENT STUDENTS.

Indigent students, belonging to New Hampshire, are assisted, in respect to tuition, by funds derived from the income of certain lands granted by the State.

Students, preparing for the Ministry, receive appropriations from funds given for their particular benefit.

RESIDENT GRADUATES.

Graduates of this or other Colleges, desirous of pursuing their studies in Hanover, are allowed, as Resident Graduates, to attend the Public Lectures of the College, and to use the Library and Scientific Collections, subject to such rules as the Faculty may establish.

DEGREE OF MASTER OF ARTS.

The degree of Master of Arts is conferred, in course, on every Bachelor of three years' standing, on the payment of the usual fee. Graduates of longer standing may have the Master's degree upon the same condition. The fee is five dollars, payable in advance. Application should be made to the President or to the Treasurer as early as the day before Commencement.

Library according to the use of it.

Room-rent, Wood, and Lights, are estimated on the supposition that two students occupy a chamber.

Other incidental expenses, such as Books and Stationery, Furniture, Expenses in Societies, Class Taxes, Travelling Expenses, &c., vary according to circumstances, and the character and habits of the individual.

Payment of the College bills is required IN ADVANCE, at the beginning of each term.

CHANDLER SCHOOL OF SCIENCE AND THE ARTS.

THIS department of instruction was constituted by a resolution of the Trustees, at their last annual meeting, in acceptance of the sum of Fifty Thousand Dollars, bequeathed to them, in trust, by Abiel Chandler, Esq., late of Walpole, N. H., and formerly of Boston, Ms., for that purpose.

Mr. Chandler gives and devises the above named sum to the 'Trustees of the College "to carefully and prudently invest or fund the principal sum, and faithfully apply and appropriate the income and interest thereof for the establishment and support of a permanent department or school of instruction in the College, in the practical and useful arts of life, comprised chiefly in the branches of Mechanics and Civil Engineering, the Invention and Manufacture of Machinery, Carpentry, Masonry, Architecture, and Drawing, the Investigation of the Properties and Uses of the Materials employed in the Arts, the Modern Languages, and English Literature, together with Book-keeping, and such other branches of knowledge as may best qualify young persons for the duties and employments of active life."

Of this munificent foundation Mr. Chandler by his Will constituted a perpetual Board of Visitors, with powers accurately defined, and appointed his esteemed friends John J. Dixwell and Francis B. Hayes, Esquires, both of Boston, "to be the first Board."

The Trustees will proceed to organize the School, agreeably to the design of its benevolent and patriotic founder, with the least possible delay. Seasonable notice will be given of its opening, and of the subjects, scheme, and times of instruction, when the same shall have been determined by the Trustees.

Students, whose circumstances render it necessary for them to take schools in the winter, are permitted to be absent fourteen weeks from the close of the Fall Term.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.

LECTURES.

THE Annual Course of MEDICAL LECTURES begins on the Thursday succeeding Commencement, and continues fourteen weeks. The Fee for the Course is Fifty Dollars. The Matriculating Fee is Five Dollars, which also entitles to the use of the Library. The Students have free access to the Anatomical Museum, to the Cabinet of Materia Medica and Medical Botany, and to the extensive Cabinet of Mineralogy and Geology. Surgical operations are performed before the class gratuitously.

GRADUATION.

Each Candidate for the Degree of M. D. must be twenty-one years of age; must possess a good moral character, an acquaintance with Natural and Experimental Philosophy, and a knowledge of the principles and construction of the Latin Language; must have studied Medicine three full years, with some regular practitioner; must have attended two courses of Public Lectures in all the branches of the profession, at a regularly organized Medical Institution, one of which courses shall have been attended at this Institution; must have passed a successful private examination before the Medical Faculty; and must have prepared to read and defend, in their presence, an acceptable dissertation on some Medical subject.

The Graduating expenses are Eighteen dollars.

Those wishing for further information respecting the "New Hampshire Medical Institution," may address E. R. Peaslee, M. D., Secretary of the Medical Faculty, or any one of the Professors.

Summary.

ADMISSION.

CANDIDATES for admission to the University must produce satisfactory testimonials of good moral character, be fourteen years of age, and sustain before one or more of the Faculty an approved examination in the following studies:— Common Arithmetic, Elements of Algebra, Elements of Ancient and Modern Geography, English, Latin and Greek Grammar, and be able to translate with facility Jacob's Greek Reader, and six books of Homer's Iliad; Jacob's Latin Reader, Sallust or Cæsar's Commentaries, Cicero's Select Orations, and Virgil. The authors here mentioned are preferred; but the amount of knowledge will be regarded rather than the particular books from which it has been acquired. For admission to an advanced class, a corresponding increase of age is required, and a thorough knowledge of the studies that have been pursued by such class. Those who propose to pursue a partial course of study will be examined in those studies which are necessary to a successful prosecution of the proposed course.

The regular seasons for the admission of students into the University are on the day preceding Commencement, and that preceding the first day of the Autumnal Term.

The parents or guardians of such as become members of the University, or the students themselves, are required to pay to the treasurer the first term bill in advance, and to give bonds for the payment of the succeeding bills, or to pay them respectively in advance. Students entering advanced classes are also required to pay an amount equal to one half of the back tuition, unless they are from other colleges.

COMMENCEMENT AND VACATIONS.

COMMENCEMENT is on the first Wednesday in August. There are three vacations,—one of four weeks from Commencement; one of eight weeks from the first Wednesday in December; and one of one week from the second Wednesday in May.

University of Vermont, October, 1846.

REMARKS.

ACCORDING to the laws of the University the studies pursued and taught in it, are divided into four departments, as follows :

I. The department of English Literature, comprising exercises in Rhetoric and Criticism, Recitations and Lectures in the history and analysis of the English Language and Literature, and in General History.

II. The department of Languages, comprising Recitations, Lectures, and subsidiary exercises in the Ancient and Modern Languages and Literature.

III. The department of Mathematics and Physics, comprising Recitations, Lectures and Experiments in pure and mixed Mathematics, Geography, Natural Philosophy, Chemistry, Natural History, Anatomy, and Physiology.

IV. The department of Political, Moral and Intellectual Philosophy, comprising Recitations and Lectures in Political Economy, the Principles and Forms of Government, Laws of Nature and Nations, Ethics, Natural Theology and Evidences of Revealed Religion, Logic and Metaphysics.

The studies in each of these departments are arranged so as to form a connected whole, and to enable the student to proceed continually from topics which are more elementary to such as are more general and profound ; from authors of greater simplicity to those whose writings mark the highest advancement in the literature to which they belong ; while the progress in all the four departments is meant to be, as far as possible, concurrent in reference to the proper development of the student's powers, leading him in the most natural order, and by the aid of the most natural method of discipline, to that position where he may, with safety, be left in a great measure to his own guidance in his subsequent career.

The principal text books used in the several departments are at present as follows :

In the department of English Literature : De Sacy's Principles of general Grammar, Campbell's Rhetoric, Hedge's Logic, Hegewisch's Introduction to Chronology translated by Prof. Marsh. Lectures are given on English Literature.

In the department of Languages: Herodotus, Homer's Odyssey, Æschines and Demosthenes on the Crown, Thucydides, the Greek Dramatists, Livy, Tacitus, Quintilian, Horace, the Medea of Seneca, the Adelphi or Andria of Terence, Cicero de Legibus or de Officiis. Lectures and occasional instructions are given in Greek and Roman Literature, Archæology, &c. Private classes may also be formed, during the last three years, in French, German, Italian, Spanish and Hebrew.

In the department of Mathematics and Physics: Davies' Bourdon's Algebra, latest edition, Davies' Legendre's Geometry, revised edition, Plane and Spherical Trigonometry, Conic Sections, Surveying, Navigation und Projections, Differential and Integral Calculus, Mechanics, Electricity and Magnetism, prepared by Prof. Farrar for the Cambridge course, Herschell's Astronomy, Mueller's Physiology. Lectures and Experimental Illustrations are given in connection with the above, and on Mathematical and Physical Geography, Chemistry, and the different branches of Natural History.

In the department of Political, Moral, and Intellectual Philosophy, much of the instruction is given by Lectures. Text books: Marsh's Lectures on Psychology, Whately's Logic, Kent's Commentaries, Say's Political Economy, and Paley's Evidences of Christianity. Biblical instruction is given on the Sabbath.

THE students are examined at the close of each study, by the Faculty; and also annually by the Faculty and a Committee, during the three weeks immediately preceding Commencement, in all the studies pursued under the direction of the Faculty. The examinations are intended to be exact and thorough, and the results in the case of each student are noted and recorded.

THE LIBRARY of the University contains upwards of seven thousand volumes, chiefly selected. It is open to the Senior and Junior classes every Saturday—to the Sophomore and Freshman classes every Wednesday—at noon, during term time. Persons who have no connection with the University may use this Library for consultation, by special license from the President. The Society Libraries, of which there are three, contain, in the aggregate, about three thousand volumes, for the use of the members of the societies respectively.

THE COLLEGE OF NATURAL HISTORY of the University of Vermont, incorporated in 1826, has for its objects the acquisition and diffusion of knowledge in every department of Natural History, and the accumulation of all materials, natural and artificial, which can advance these ends. The members of this society, consisting chiefly of the officers and students of this University, hold weekly sessions. Access may be had to its collections at all proper hours, by applying to a curator for that purpose.

Private classes may also be formed, during the last three years in French, German, Italian, Spanish, and Hebrew.

In the department of Mathematics and Physics: Davies' Bourdon's Algebra, latest edition, Davies' Legendre's Geometry, revised edition, Plane and Spherical Trigonometry, Conic Sections, Surveying, Navigation and Projections, Differential and Integral Calculus, Mechanics, Electricity and Magnetism, prepared by Prof. Farrar for the Cambridge course, Herschell's Astronomy, Mueller's Physiology. Lectures and Experimental Illustrations are given in connection with the above, and on Mathematical and Physical Geography, Chemistry, and the different branches of Natural History.

In the department of Political, Moral and Intellectual Philosophy: much of the instruction is given by Lectures. Text-books: Marsh's Lectures on Psychology, Whateley's Logic, Kent's Commentaries, Say's Political Economy, and Paley's Evidences of Christianity. Biblical instruction is given on the Sabbath.

THE Library of the University contains upwards of seven thousand volumes, chiefly selected. It is open to the Senior and Junior Classes every Saturday—to the Sophomore and Freshman Classes every Wednesday—at noon, during term time. Persons who have no connection with the University, may use this Library for consultation, by special license from the President. The Society Libraries, of which there are three, contain, in the aggregate, about three thousand volumes, for the use of the members of the societies repectively.

THE COLLEGE OF NATURAL HISTORY of the University of Vermont, incorporated in 1826, has for its object the acquisition and diffusion of knowledge in every department of Natural History, and the accumulation of all materials natural and artificial, which can advance these ends. Access may be had to its collections at all proper hours, by applying to a curator for that purpose.

ADMISSION.

CANDIDATES for admission to the University must produce satisfactory testimonials of good moral character, be fourteen years of age, and sustain before one or more of the Faculty an approved examination in the following studies: Common Arithmetic, Elements of Algebra, Elements of Ancient and Modern Geography, English, Latin and Greek Grammar, and be able to translate with facility Jacob's Greek Reader, and six books of Homer's Iliad; Jacob's Latin Reader, Sallust or Caesar's Commentaries, Cicero's Select Orations, and Virgil. The authors here mentioned are preferred; but the amount of knowledge will be regarded rather than the particular books from which it has been acquired. For admission to an advanced class, a corresponding increase of age is required, and a thorough knowledge of the studies that have been pursued by such class.—Those who propose to pursue a partial course of study will be examined in those studies which are necessary to a successful prosecution of the proposed course.

The regular seasons for the admission of students into the University are on the day preceding Commencement, and that preceding the first day of the Autumnal Term.

The parents or guardians of such as become members of the University, or the students themselves, are required to pay to the Treasurer the first term bill in advance, and to give bonds for the payment of the succeeding bills, or to pay them respectively in advance. Students entering advanced classes are also required to pay an amount equal to one-half of the back tuition, unless they are from other colleges.

COMMENCEMENT AND VACATIONS.

COMMENCEMENT is on the first Wednesday in August. There are three vacations,—one of four weeks from Commencement—one of eight weeks from the first Wednesday in December, and one of one week from the second Wednesday in May.

EXAMINATIONS.

THE students are examined at the close of each study, by the Faculty; and also annually by the Faculty and a Committee, at, or near the close of the Spring and Summer Terms, in all the studies pursued under the direction of the Faculty. The examinations are intended to be exact and thorough, and the results in the case of each student are noted and recorded.

REMARKS.

ACCORDING to the laws of the University, the studies pursued and taught in it are divided into four departments, as follows :

I. The department of English Literature, comprising exercises in Rhetoric and Criticism, Recitations and Lectures in the history and analysis of the English Language and Literature, and in General History.

II. The department of Languages, comprising Recitations, Lectures, and subsidiary exercises in the Ancient and Modern Languages and Literature.

III. The department of Mathematics and Physics, comprising Recitations, Lectures and Experiments in pure and mixed Mathematics, Geography, Natural Philosophy, Chemistry, Natural History, Anatomy and Physiology.

IV. The department of Political, Moral and Intellectual Philosophy, comprising Recitations and Lectures in Political Economy, the Principles and Forms of Government, Laws of Nature and Nations, Ethics, Natural Theology and Evidences of Revealed Religion, Logic and Metaphysics.

The studies in each of these departments are arranged so as to form a connected whole, and to enable the student to proceed continually from topics which are more elementary to such as are more general and profound ; from authors of greater simplicity to those whose writings mark the highest advancement in the literature to which they belong ; while the progress in all the four departments is meant to be, as far as possible, concurrent in reference to the proper developement of the student's powers, leading him in the most natural order, and by the aid of the most natural method of discipline, to that position where he may, with safety, be left in a great measure to his own guidance in his subsequent career.

The principal text-books used in the several departments are at present as follows :

In the department of English Literature : Campbell's Rhetoric, Theremin's Rhetoric, Graham's English Synonymes, Selections from Chaucer, Hegewisch's Introduction to Chronology translated by Prof. Marsh, Heeren's Ancient Greece, Schmitz's Rome. Lectures are given upon Style and upon early English Literature.

In the department of Languages : Herodotus, Homer's Odyssey, Æschines and Demosthenes on the Crown, Thucydides, the Greek Dramatists, Livy, Tacitus, Quintilian, Horace, the Medea of Seneca, the Adelphi or Andria of Terence, Cicero de Legibus or de Officiis. Lectures and occasional instructions are given in Greek and Roman Literature, Archæology, &c. Private classes may also be formed, during the last three years, in French, German, Italian, Spanish, and Hebrew.

In the department of Mathematics and Physics: Davies' Bourdon's Algebra, latest edition, Davies' Legendre's Geometry, revised edition, Plane and Spherical Trigonometry, Conic Sections, Surveying, Navigation and Projections, Differential and Integral Calculus, Mechanics, Electricity and Magnetism, prepared by Prof. Farrar for the Cambridge course, Herschell's Astronomy, Mueller's Physiology. Lectures and Experimental Illustrations are given in connection with the above, and on Mathematical and Physical Geography, Chemistry, and the different branches of Natural History.

In the department of Political, Moral and Intellectual Philosophy: much of the instruction is given by Lectures. Text-books: Marsh's Lectures on Psychology, Whately's Logic, Kent's Commentaries, Say's Political Economy, and Paley's Evidences of Christianity. Biblical instruction is given on the Sabbath.

THE Library of the University contains upwards of eight thousand volumes, chiefly selected. It is open to the Senior and Junior Classes every Saturday—to the Sophomore and Freshman Classes every Wednesday—at noon, during term time. Persons who have no connection with the University, may use this Library for consultation, by special license from the President. The Society Libraries, of which there are three, contain, in the aggregate, about three thousand volumes, for the use of the members of the societies respectively.

THE COLLEGE OF NATURAL HISTORY of the University of Vermont, incorporated in 1826, has for its object the acquisition and diffusion of knowledge in every department of Natural History, and the accumulation of all materials natural and artificial, which can advance these ends. Access may be had to its collections at all proper hours, by applying to a curator for that purpose.

ADMISSION.

CANDIDATES for admission to the University must produce satisfactory testimonials of good moral character, be fourteen years of age, and sustain before one or more of the Faculty an approved examination in the following studies : Common Arithmetic, Elements of Algebra, Elements of Ancient and Modern Geography, English, Latin and Greek Grammar, and be able to translate with facility Jacob's Greek Reader, and six books of Homer's Iliad ; Jacob's Latin Reader, Sallust or Cæsar's Commentaries, Cicero's Select Orations, and Virgil. The authors here mentioned are preferred ; but the amount of knowledge will be regarded rather than the particular books from which it has been acquired. For admission to an advanced class, a corresponding increase of age is required, and a thorough knowledge of the studies that have been pursued by such class.—Those who propose to pursue a partial course of study will be examined in those studies which are necessary to a successful prosecution of the proposed course.

The regular seasons for the admission of students into the University are the day preceding Commencement, and that preceding the first day of the Autumnal Term.

The parents or guardians of such as become members of the University, or the students themselves, are required to pay to the Treasurer the first term bill in advance, and to give bonds for the payment of the succeeding bills, or to pay them respectively in advance. Students entering advanced classes are also required to pay an amount equal to one-half of the back tuition, unless they are from other colleges.

COMMENCEMENT AND VACATIONS.

COMMENCEMENT is on the first Wednesday in August. There are three vacations,—one of four weeks from Commencement—one of eight weeks from the first Wednesday in December, and one of one week from the second Wednesday in May.

EXAMINATIONS.

THE students are examined at the close of each study, by the Faculty ; and also annually by the Faculty and a Committee, at or near the close of the Spring and Summer Terms, in all the studies pursued under the direction of the Faculty. The examinations are intended to be exact and thorough, and the results in the case of each student are noted and recorded.

R E M A R K S .

ACCORDING to the laws of the University, the studies pursued and taught in it are divided into four departments, as follows :

I. The department of English Literature, comprising exercises in Rhetoric and Criticism, Recitations and Lectures in the history and analysis of the English Language and Literature, and in General History.

II. The department of Languages, comprising Recitations, Lectures, and subsidiary exercises in the Ancient and Modern Languages and Literature.

III. The department of Mathematics and Physics, comprising Recitations, Lectures and Experiments in pure and mixed Mathematics, Geography, Natural Philosophy, Chemistry, Natural History, Anatomy and Physiology.

IV. The department of Political, Moral and Intellectual Philosophy, comprising Recitations and Lectures in Political Economy, the Principles and Forms of Government, Laws of Nature and Nations, Ethics, Natural Theology and Evidences of Revealed Religion, Logic and Metaphysics.

The studies in each of these departments are arranged so as to form a connected whole, and to enable the student to proceed continually from topics which are more elementary to such as are more general and profound ; from authors of greater simplicity to those whose writings mark the highest advancement in the literature to which they belong ; while the progress in all the four departments is meant to be, as far as possible, concurrent in reference to the proper developement of the student's powers, leading him in the most natural order, and by the aid of the most natural method of discipline, to that position where he may, with safety, be left in a great measure to his own guidance in his subsequent career.

The principal text-books used in the several departments are at present as follows :

In the department of English Literature: Campbell's Rhetoric, Theremin's Rhetoric, Graham's English Synonymes, Selections from Chaucer, Hegewisch's Introduction to Chronology translated by Prof. Marsh, Heeren's Ancient Greece, Schmitz's Rome. Lectures are given upon Style and upon early English Literature.

In the department of Languages : Herodotus, Homer's Odyssey, Æschines and Demosthenes on the Crown, Thucydides, the Greek Dramatists, Livy, Tacitus, Quintilian, Horace, the Medea of Seneca, the Adelphi or Andria of Terence, Cicero de Legibus or de Officiis. Lectures and occasional instructions are given in Greek and Roman Literature, Archæology, &c. Private classes may also be formed, during the last three years, in French, German, Italian, Spanish, and Hebrew.

In the department of Mathematics and Physics : Robinson's Algebra, Davies' Legendre's Geometry, revised edition, Plane, and Spherical Trigonometry, Conic Sections, Surveying, Navigation and Projections, Differential and Integral Calculus, Mechanics, Electricity and Magnetism, prepared by Prof. Farrar for the Cambridge course, Prof. Jackson's optics, Herschell's Astronomy, Mueller's Physiology. Lectures and Experimental Illustrations are given in connection with the above, and on Mathematical and Physical Geography, and the different branches of Natural History.

In the department of Political, Moral and Intellectual Philosophy : much of the instruction is given by Lectures. Text-books : Marsh's Lectures on Psychology, Whately's Logic, Kent's Commentaries, Say's Political Economy, Butler's Analogy and Paley's Evidences of Christianity. Biblical instruction is given on the Sabbath.

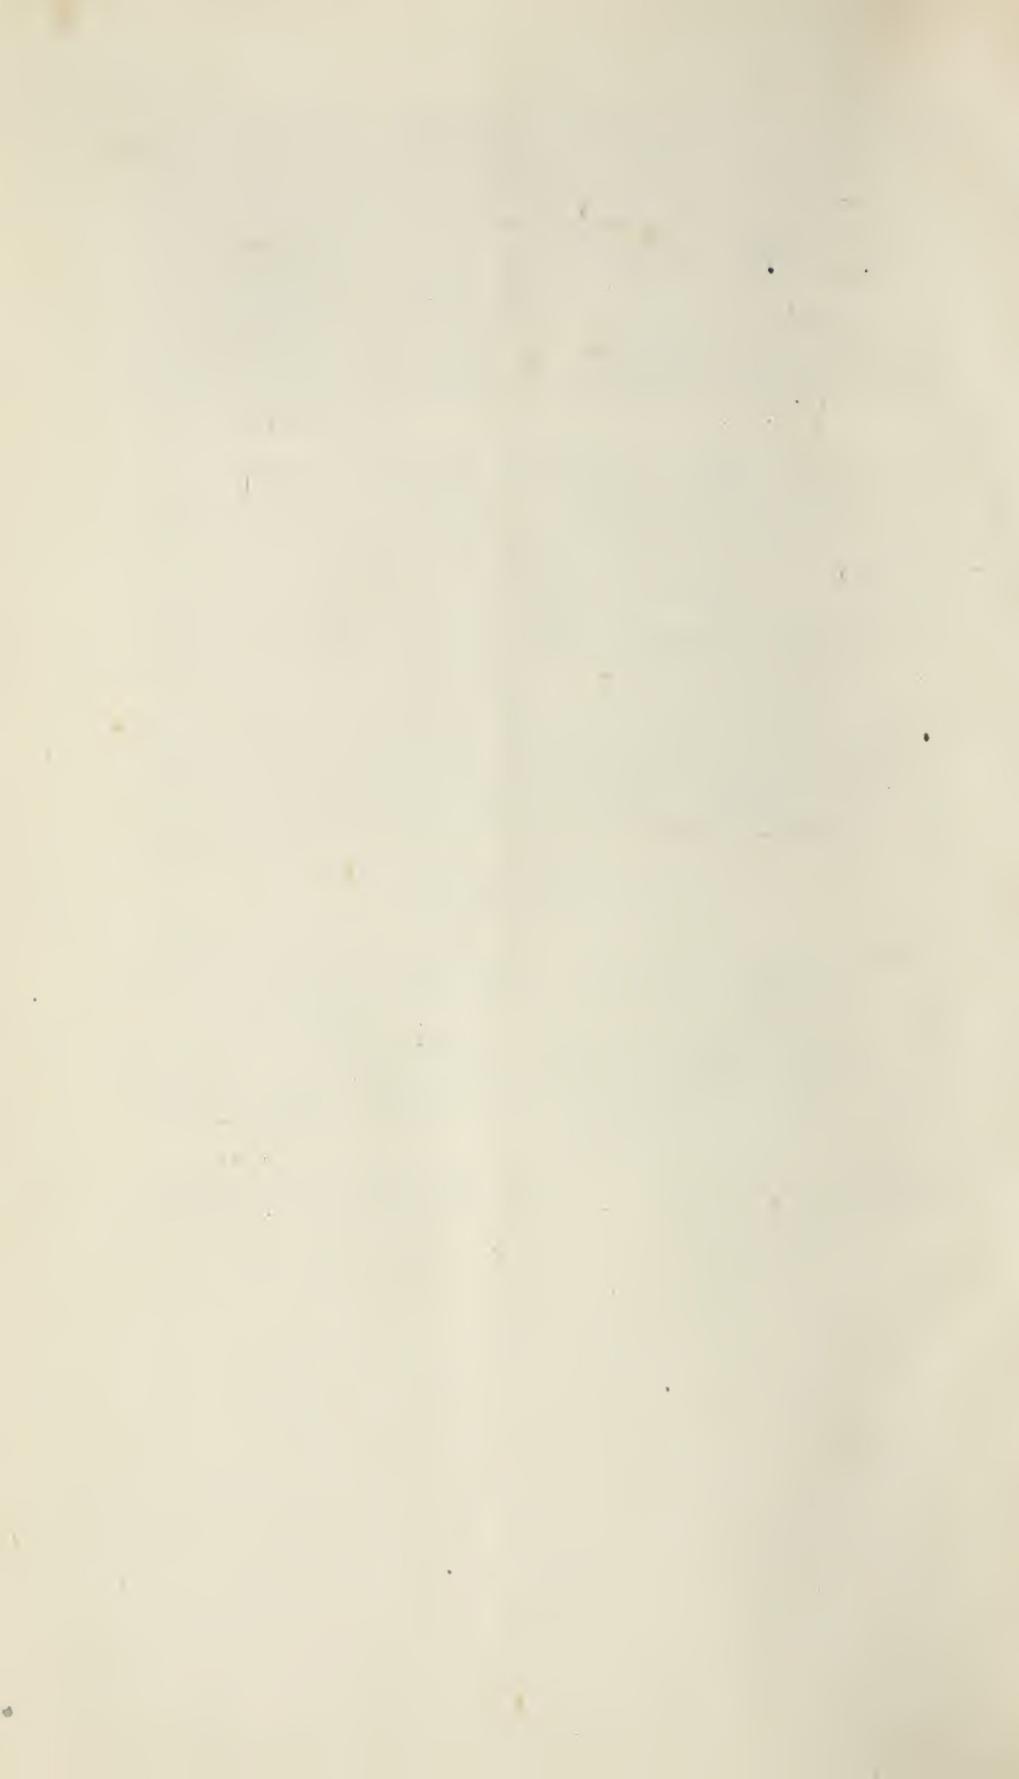

THE Library of the University contains about ten thousand volumes, chiefly selected. It is open to the Senior and Junior Classes every Saturday—to the Sophomore and Freshman Classes every Wednesday—at noon, during term time. Persons who have no connection with the University, may use this Library for consultation, by special license from the President. The Society Libraries, of which there are three, contain, in the aggregate, about three thousand volumes, for the use of the members of the societies respectively.

THE COLLEGE OF NATURAL HISTORY of the University of Vermont, incorporated in 1826, has for its object the acquisition and diffusion of knowledge in every department of Natural History, and the accumulation of all materials natural and artificial, which can advance these ends. Access may be had to its collections at all proper hours, by applying to a curator for that purpose.
